The above picture shows one of eight pollen stations which were set up in Prince Edward Island last summer and were so placed that they blanketed the Province for the purpose of testing the prevalence or otherwise of ragweed pollen. The apparatus used is known as the Durham collector, and is placed on roofs of high buildings. In this case the instrument is shown being operated from the roof of the Provincial Building. The survey conducted by Dr. Elzear Campagna, of Laval University, shows Prince Edward Island to be "practically free from ragweed and therefore a near perfect haven for hay fever patients." Changing slides on the detector is Martin MacEachern, City.

Trade Fair Display Of P.E.I. Fish Products

Island fish products will be on display at the Canadian International Trade Fair at Toronto next June, it was learned yesterday. It marks the first time Island products will be on display at the Fair. The exhibits will form a part of a Canada-wide booth under the Canadian Government Exhibition Committee.

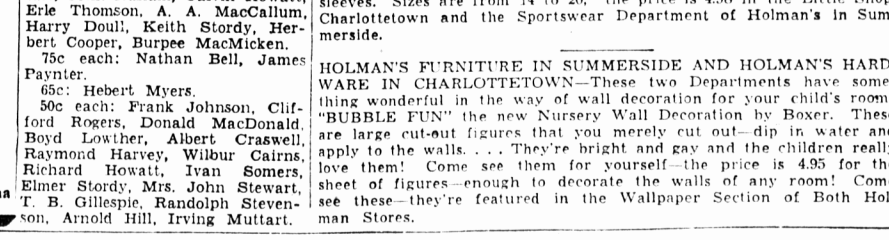

Need Of More Firemen Emphasized

At the annual meeting of the Hook and Ladder Company of the Charlottetown Fire Department last night, Chief H. H. Jewell was requested to press the Fire Committee of the City Council for additional men. The need arises in part through the recent addition to the Department of a life net, which requires instruction to regular men and also some of the auxiliary members. The situation is not regarded as satisfactory. It was further pointed out that a Company of ten men might have proven satisfactory twenty or thirty years ago, but with the modern and complex equipment now in use, more men are required to insure maximum efficiency. The thanks of the H. & L. Company was extended to Chief Jewell, his assistant, Mr. James Walker and the Fire Committee of the City Council for the recognition and attention given to former recommendations made in the interest of the Department. Officers elected at the meeting were Captain, W. R. Connolly, Lieutenant, L. Gillespie and Secretary G. J. Maddigan.
