

CONST. AND MRS. MONSEBRAATEN

Very Lovely Wedding Is Solemnized In Cavendish

Cavendish United Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding at noon on Saturday, May 25th when Shirley Margaret, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olat E. Stevenson, Cavendish was united in marriage to Arthur John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Monsebraaten, Prince Albert, Saskatchewan.

The church was decorated with potted plants and the guest pews were marked with white ribbon streamers and Mayflowers. The Reverend E. Allison C. Haley, minister of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. The organist was Mrs. Reginald Simpson, Cavendish. Mr. Robert M. Stevenson, uncle of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer" (Murray) directly before the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You" (Murray) during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a gown of nylon tulle with lace accents over slipper satin. The bodice was shirred with high neckline trimmed with tiny opal sequins and the tiered skirt was floor length. Her finger tip veil was of nylon tulle held by a tiara headdress accented with tiny pearls and opal sequins. She carried a white Bible and orchid.

Miss Beaula Jardine, Toronto, Ont., and Wilmet Valley, P.E.I., was maid of honour and the Misses Barbara and Norma Stevens, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. They all wore identical ballerina length dresses of pastel brocade taffeta with wide sashes of pastel blue crystal charm silk. They wore headpieces of matching nylon net colonial bouquets of white and red carnations.

Constable Robert E. Williams was best man and Constables Albert R. Fischl and Peter J. Borys were ushers. All wore the R.C.M.

Baby Is A Fine Fellow— And Isn't He Growing!

Now the frequent June-lilies, the narcissi, perfume the lawn-border. And "up the creek" the wild cherry trees are crowned in white. Not only those, but also a legion of others are tucked here and there in faultless artistry in hedgerow and woodland, bright against the dark spruces, and in charming contrast with the hardwoods now also into the lovely shades of the season.

Glamour For The House

In household effects, beauty's touch is seen everywhere. Even the lowly garbage can blossoms out in color, along with almost every other bit of kitchen and bathroom equipment and closet accessories. But they still remain practical.

Beauty of form and washability of fabric are found in the new clothes hampers which can be used not only in the bathroom but in the bedroom, too.

In the modern mode, one model of colored metal is set in a footed brass handle. Side rails near the brass handle top can be used to hold clean towels. Another, more formal, type is a subsable hamper that looks like a piece of furniture. The body is covered with woven vinyl plastic in horizontal stripes of complementary colors.

Both types of clothes-holders can be wiped off with a clean cloth wrung out of warm suds. As for closet fittings, they glitter with gold and brass, but remain as practical as they ever were. The handsome gold-finished and brass-plated fixtures can be kept clean by swabbing them with soap or detergent suds.

There are metal hangers finished in brass, too. If they're of plastic, the chances are that they're made to look as though they are gold-plated.

When it comes to garment bags, today's shoppers seem to prefer the pastels and white plastic to the wise colors and dark greens, that were so popular. All this glitter will stay brighter, or course, if you give it a sudsy bath at regular intervals. It may not be the most

MARY HAWORTH

Man's Step-Son Divides Home

Dear Mary Haworth: We love each other very much and need help. We have been married two years and my wife has two sons from a former marriage. Both are grown and served in the Navy during the Korean war, six years ago — and the shock to their mother was very great.

Both boys returned home safely, but she seems still to want to mother them. The eldest son, married three years, has a nice family and is no problem. But the younger boy, 23, doesn't care about girls and is perfectly content — as now — to move in with his mother, when she and I separate. He has told her if she goes back with me, he is "all through" with her.

RICE POINT ADDRESS FOR BRIDE AND GROOM

On May 31, a shower was held for Imogene and Jack in Afton Hall by the residents of Rice Point and vicinity.

Mr. Rankin MacLean acted as chairman and Mrs. Harvey MacEachern read the following address:

"Dear Jackie and Imogene — Tonight it is a pleasure to gather here in Afton Hall to offer you congratulations and spend a social evening with our newest bride and groom."

We would extend to you, Imogene a hearty welcome when you visit this community and hope you will find many new friends among us.

You, Jackie, who have grown up with us, have won a large place in our hearts, by your always kind and cheerful disposition.

Before the gifts are presented to you, we would leave with you this Wedding Prayer.

God give you happiness together,

And give you grace and wisdom too we pray. That you may keep with dignity and splendor, The home of Love wherein you both will stay.

May faith and trust abide within its walls. And happy hearts mean more to you than gold. And may you walk with fear: as eyes, life's pathway. With love grown stronger as the years unfold.

We pray God give you strength and understanding. To meet the cares that come with each new day. To know that two who share all things together, Will build a home that shall not pass away.

Your friends, Rice Point and Community.

After which they presented the bride and groom with a large sur of money and several gifts.
