Memorial Services In N. Y. Churches

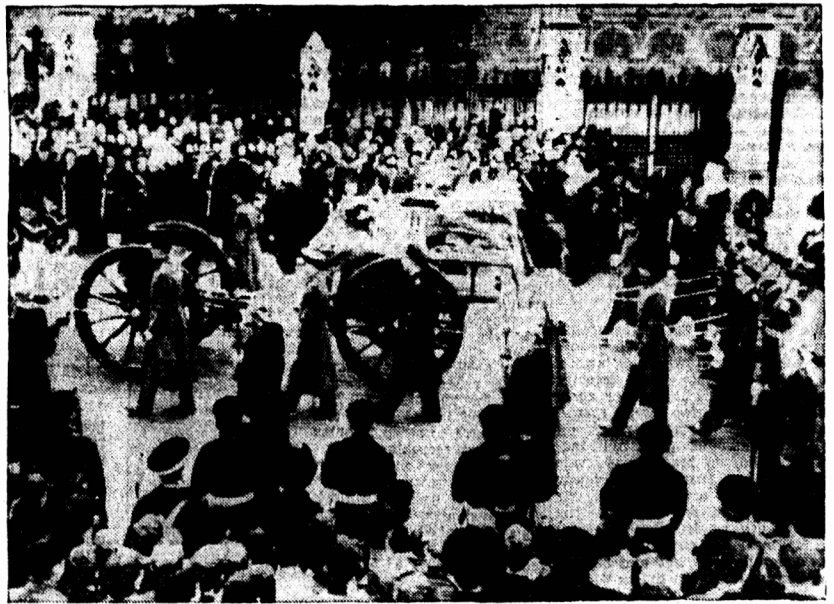

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (CP)—Sunday services were held in many of the city's churches today in tribute to King George VI.
A large-capacity crowd of 2,000 at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church heard Rev. Dr. John Sumnerland Bonnell, devote his sermon to a eulogy of the monarch.
Dr. Bonnell, a native of Prince Edward Island, who held several pastorates in Canada before he took over at the Fifth Church in 1936, said:
"A significant lesson enforced by the death of the King is that the true greatness of Britain is not so much in military might and the prestige which such power brings, but rather, by her contribution to human freedom and the dignity of man."

Island Rates Case Postponed Until Next Fall

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (CP)—Hearings on a Prince Edward Island freight-rate case have been put off until next fall by the Board of Transport Commissioners.
The case is an appeal by the Canadian National Railways from a board decision designating the Island as a single rate zone. The Province had been split into two zones, each of them carrying different rates for the shipment of goods into and out of P. E. I.
The appeal hearing had been set down originally for yesterday. No fall date was set, but it was expected the case would come before the board in September.

Big Three Agree To Bar Germany From NATO; Will Make Counter Offer

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON
LONDON, Feb. 17 (AP)—British, American and French foreign ministers agreed today to bar Germany from entering the Atlantic Pact as a full member — for the time being.
However, they decided to offer Germany a seat on a projected four-power appeal board which will have the power to review and modify the sentences of more than 10,000 German war criminals.
Important Meeting
These decisions were taken in the course of a five-hour conference. The meeting was one of the most important since the war.
The task facing Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, State Secretary Dean Acheson and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman is to try to prevent Europe's pre-war rivalries from destroying its postwar peace.
The Western Big Three are expected to tell West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of their decisions tomorrow morning.
His parliament earlier this month made it clear it will vote in favor of a German role in the Western defence only if the defeated nation goes in as an equal partner, preferably as a full member of the Atlantic Alliance.
It called also for the release of all German war criminals who had been sentenced to death.

9,000 Ford Automobile Workers Go On Strike

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 17 (CP)—Nine thousand automobile workers went on strike tonight to enforce contract demands upon the Ford Motor Company of Canada.
The walkout, second in three months, came as the climax of a dispute that started 11 months ago.
Negotiations on a proposed 85-cent contract continued almost until the 10 p.m. deadline for a strike.
George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.A.), announced the start of the strike. He said that if all night-shift workers showed up for work they would be met by a picket line.

German Farm Workers For Island Being Considered

An important matter for consideration by the Provincial Department of Agriculture is a plan for bringing a number of carefully screened German farm workers to the Province this spring.
Nova Scotia and New Brunswick would also share in the project, which proposed to arrange farm employment for about 275 single men, to be recruited from the German provinces of Schleswig-Holstein and Bavaria.
The Island Government has not yet accepted the idea, and any decision is in the balance. If the local Government takes, forty to fifty farm hands will come to the Island.
Representatives from the agricultural departments of all three Provinces, and farm labor officials from the Canadian Department of Labor met in conference at Ottawa some days ago, and drew up a tentative agreement to bring the German farm hands to this country.
The deliberations of the conference are subject to the ratification of each of the three Governments.
Under the agreement the German workers would be brought to Canada at a cost of $155 per passage. The fare across the Atlantic would be advanced by the various governments, and to be collected later in monthly installments through the farmers who become the employers of the men. Any loss incurred through

Announces 26 Cents Per Pound Support Price

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP)—The Canadian Government has taken action to prevent a possible sharp drop in pork prices. But the move is short of what farmers had expected.
It announced Saturday that it will support the wholesale market at 26 cents a pound—basis sales at Montreal and Toronto stockyards from now until Sept. 30 next. At Winnipeg, the price will be supported at 24 1-2 cents.
At Prevailing Level
These are approximately the prevailing prices at public stockyards and will mean that consumers can expect no further drop in pork prices. Prices have slipped during the last few months.
The new federal support program is actually continuing last year's bacon support program, converted to apply to standard domestic cuts, rather than the grade "A" Wiltshire sides bacon. This was the bacon Canada has in the past shipped to the United Kingdom. But the U. K., facing a new financial crisis, has been unable to continue purchases in Canada and Wiltshire sides are no longer being produced.
Farmers actually have asked the government for a boost in the support price to cover higher costs for feed and for other production costs. They wanted the price to be 28 cents a pound at Winnipeg, which would have meant about 29 1-2 cents at Toronto and Montreal.
Government's Problem
However, the government was faced with the problem of declining prices in the United States. If it met the farmers' request, prices for Canadian pork might have risen higher than the American product with resulting heavy surpluses into Canada and heavy surpluses in the hands of the government.
The support price granted is expected to maintain prices in Canada at about the level of American prices and possibly slightly lower to encourage exports of some surplus expected by Canadian farmers this year.
The government's new support program will apply throughout Canada. It will take the form of an offer by the Agricultural Prices Support Board to buy the stocks of the five standard domestic pork cuts held by federally-inspected plants as at Sept. 30, 1952.
The price to be paid the plants will be 36 1-2 cents per pound, which would cover carrying charges and enable the plants to maintain the specified prices at the public stockyards.

Canada Says Farewell To Lord And Lady Alexander

By Alan Rogers
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
HALIFAX, Feb. 17 (CP)—Three ringing cheers echoed through a dockside immigration shed here today as Canada's former Governor-General, Viscount Alexander of Tunis, stepped smartly aboard the ship that will take him to England and the job of defense minister in the British cabinet.
The Cunard liner Franconia was scheduled to sail at 9 P. M., AST, with Lord and Lady Alexander and two of their children, Brian, 12, and Susan 3 1-2.
Nineteen-year-old Rose will remain in Canada to complete her studies at McGill. Shane, their eldest son, is in England, attending Harrow.
The vice-regal family embarked today from the pier where they landed almost six years ago. The weather then and today was gray and cold.
Dock Area Crowded
A chill, Atlantic wind numbed the some two-thousand Halifaxians who crowded the dock area as the train bearing the Alexanders slowly steamed in. Men held children on their shoulders and rail yard workers clambered up on box cars to get a better look at the Alexander smile—as familiar now to Canadians as an Alberta Chinook or an Indian summer.

"I want you to know how your concern for me has upheld me in my sorrow, and how proud you have made me by your wonderful tributes to my dear husband, a great and noble king."
"He loved you all, every one of you, most truly."
"Now, I am left alone..."

New Tax Agreement For One Year Only

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (Reuters)—A British consulate spokesman said Saturday first British claims for riot damage on Cairo's black Saturday—Jan. 29—are likely to total between £2,000,000 and £3,000,000. He said this is a conservative estimate. Experts estimate claims from all sources may reach a total of between £20,000,000 and £30,000,000.

Signs Point To General Election In 1953 Or 54

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP)—All signs point to either 1953 or 1954 for Canada's next general election, with some political circles favoring 1954.
There was talk last fall that the Liberal Government would go to the polls this year, but informed political observers say they see no such trend in governmental thinking.
They suggest that 1953 or 1954 appear more likely as choices of a general election year and say they expect the government will fill out its full constitutional term of five years. That would bring the election sometime in 1954, probably in the early summer.
These sources say there are a number of factors against a general election this year.
For example, they say, it is not usual for a government to go to the country in the third year of its term—the last election was in 1949—unless it is in political hot water or has difficulty maintaining control of the Commons.
There is no, they add, any great current issue which would warrant the government appealing to the country and, so far as the Commons is concerned, the government now enjoys the greatest majority of any party at any time in Canadian history.
Another factor is that a general election never has been called following a national census—a census was held last year—without there first being a redistribution of Commons representation. It is expected the government will set up a redistribution committee at the forthcoming session of parliament.
One observer commented that if the government called an election this year before the traditional redistribution the people might feel that it was "tampering with the electoral system—and that's something the people don't like."
With one exception, elections have been held at five-year intervals since 1930, with federal governments in power filling out their full term. The exception was in 1949, when the government went to the country after four years. However, in that case there was a new Liberal leader—Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent—and he felt that he should win his personal mandate from the people.

Explosion Slated For Australia This Year

LONDON, Feb. 17 (Reuters)—The first test of an all-British atomic weapon will be made in Australia this year, the government announced today.
The type of weapon was not disclosed in the brief announcement at Prime Minister Winston Churchill's official residence in London, 10 Downing Street.
The test, "in the course of this year," will probably be at Woomera Range, a rocket testing ground dead in the centre of Australia and far from any settlements.
Decides On Australia
Britain last November raised the question of testing atomic weapons in the United States but decided on Australia after learning of U. S. security restrictions.
Churchill and his atomic chief, Lord Cherwell, are understood to have discussed the question with U. S. Atomic Energy Commission officials when they visited Washington last month.
British scientists helped develop the first atom bomb and took part in the Bikini atom tests in the Pacific after the war.
Since 1946, however, exchange of atomic information with the U. S. has stopped and Britain announced in 1948 that she was developing atomic weapons along her own lines.
The Woomera test will be a Commonwealth affair and results of the test will probably be sent to
