D. MACLEAN AND THE ELECTORS OF THE FIRST DISTRICT OF QUEEN'S COUNTY.

After the nomination of Candidates on Tuesday last, Mr. Duncan Maclean and some of his cads about New London, set themselves to work to canvas, the First District against Messrs. Coles and Laird. With this object in view, a Meeting was called on Friday by Mr. David Simpson, —he who was on one occasion a protegee of the Clique—at Millvale: it was addressed by the great Duncan, who alleged divers crimes and misdemeanors against Mr. Coles, charging him, amongst other things, with ruining the country by voting encouragement to Agriculture, in the shape of £500 to the Royal Society—and by voting for the One-ninth Bill (which, as the reader knows, would fix the rent at a Currency rate instead of Sterling.) Duncan was getting along famously with the Meeting, until about 4 o'clock Mr. Coles was seen approaching, unexpected, when every person present turned out and cheered him enthusiastically. The valiant Maclean immediately picked up his books, journals, &c., pretending to be in a hurry to get home, but a sturdy fellow clenched him by the shoulder, and told him he should not stir, till Mr. Coles had refuted his calumnies to his face. To his extreme mortification—his shame and confusion—Mr. Coles shattered in a very short time theoric he had raised out of falsehood and misrepresentation; and the discomfited Duncan left for his home, the most odious and most unpopular man that day in Prince Edward Island.

We have no wish or intention to question Mr. Maclean's right to appear again before a constituency. But we have a right to question the wisdom of any set of people selecting him to be their representative, when we remember the shameless inconsistency that has marked his public conduct. Having done everything in his power, by his votes in the Assembly, to retard the prospects of the Colony, and strengthen the ascendancy of a party who have crushed its best energies by their oligarchical sway, he now comes before the public and tells them he will sever, if he can, the Colony from the Parent State, and have it annexed to the neighbouring Republic, oaths of allegiance to the contrary notwithstanding. If it were worth any person's while to notice what Mr. Duncan Maclean asserts either in or out of the Assembly, we might offer a few comments on his recent proceedings. We, thought, indeed, we should have done with him as a public man when the House was dissolved, for that person repeatedly declared during the last three Sessions, that he would NEVER again be a candidate for any constituency in the Island; and the same declaration he has repeatedly made in print. Poor Duncan! his natural proneness to insincerity brings him into many a ridiculous plight!

The Civil List Bill, passed last Session, has received the Royal assent.

FIRE.—On the morning of Wednesday last, the new and comfortable Dwelling of Mr. Donald M'Neill, (son of the late Roderick M'Neill, Esq.) of Vernon River, was entirely consumed by fire with all its contents, the inmates having barely time to save their lives after the alarm was first given. The origin of the misfortune is supposed to be quite accidental—and to have arisen in the following manner:—On the previous evening, one of the girls remained up, after the rest of the family had retired to bed, for the purpose of finishing the baking of a batch of bread.—At about ten o'clock, when she finished she incautiously, after sweeping the hearth with a birch broom, put the broom in the porch. It is supposed, that a live coal was lurking among the shreds of the broom, which igniting afterwards caused the unfortunate catastrophe. One of Mr. M'Neill's sisters providentially waking about 5 o'clock, felt a sense of suffocation from the smoke in which the room was enveloped—she gave the alarm, and in a few minutes the inmates were saved, but the fire had already obtained too great an ascendancy to enable them to get anything out of the house, save a few chairs and a set of Harness.

DEPLORABLE.—A scene of painful excitement occurred in Grafton Street on Wednesday last, occasioned by the depositing of a coffin, containing the remains of a victim of small pox upon the street, and remaining there at least two hours, without the slightest care or respect. Those who passed by learned, however, that the deceased had died about two days previous—he was a tailor by trade, named RICHARDS, and had recently come to the city from Prince Edward Island.—Halifax Recorder, Jan. 26.

SIR.—The House of Assembly being dissolved, and Writs for a new Election ordered, it behoves the Electors of this District to look out a fit and proper person to Represent them in the new Parliament—one who is fully alive to the interests of the Island—conversant with its present peculiar position, political, and financial,—and sufficiently independent to support every measure brought forward for the benefit of the Colony, not being derogatory to the Crown and dignity of the Sovereign; at the same time, one who is acquainted with the local wants of this District and whose political, moral, and social well-being is interwoven with those of his constituents.

Believing, Sir, that you are thus qualified, we beg leave respectfully to solicit your services as our Representative in the ensuing House of Assembly, and request that you will come forward as a Candidate at the approaching Election, when and where you may confide in the support and interest of the undersigned, who remain,

To the Electors of the Third District of Prince County.

GENTLEMEN.

The handsome and complimentary terms in which I have been requested to offer myself as a Candidate for your suffrages, leave me little time to hesitate as to the course I should pursue; and I therefore yield to your kind solicitation, and beg to assure you, that should I be elected to a seat in the House of Assembly, I shall use every exertion to deserve the good opinion you have formed of me.

Very many of you, if not all, are fully conversant with the principles which shall guide my political conduct in the event of my being chosen one of your Representatives; these principles may be briefly stated to be: Reform in our local administration, by supporting the introduction of Responsible Government, which will make our Constitution more analogous to that of the Mother Country, placing us on a level with the sister Colonies, and which will be not only "not derogatory to the Crown and dignity of our Sovereign," but will serve to unite us the more closely to the destinies of the Empire, and give us cause to rejoice that we are British Subjects in every sense of the word.—Protection to Agriculture and the Fisheries; and Economy and Care in the expenditure of the People's Money. Unless these principles are adhered to, and followed out upon every occasion, it would be useless for this or any other country to hope for prosperity and happiness. Should I be honoured with the high trust which many of you design for me, the consistency with which I shall adhere to and defend them, will form the proudest distinction of my political career.

Your obedt. Servant,

WILLIAM W. LORD.

To the Electors of the First District of

QUEEN'S COUNTY.

GENTLEMEN.

The Electors of the extreme end of the District having declined to nominate a Candidate to represent you in the ensuing Parliament favorable to Responsible Government, and I having been solicited by several respectable and influential persons to offer myself upon that interest, I attended a meeting on the Covehead Road, where I was proposed and unanimously nominated, in conjunction with Mr. Coles. From my knowledge of that gentleman's political career, I have no hesitation in undertaking to offer myself, more particularly as I am convinced that without the Responsible System being fully established it is in vain to attempt the remedy of either local or general grievances.

On these grounds, and on the necessity of strengthening to the utmost at this crisis the Party which is determined to realize for the People the full extent of the British Constitution, I presume to offer myself to your notice.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedt. Servt.,

ALEXANDER LAIRD.

GENTLEMEN.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the Third Electoral District of

GENTLEMEN;

The Lieutenant Governor having dissolved the House of Assembly, I am induced at the solicitations of many of my friends and acquaintances in this part of the District once more to offer myself a Candidate for the honor of representing you in the next House of Assembly; and from the promises and assurances of support which I received during the few electioneering excursions I had among you, I feel almost confident of success. And should I be so fortunate as to be deemed worthy of your confidence at the ensuing Election, you may rest satisfied that I shall use every possible exertion to promote the best interests of the Colony in general, and this District in particular.

Gentlemen, in coming forward, at this time, as a Candidate for your suffrages, I can have no purpose to serve, nor ambition to gratify, other than a pure desire to benefit my native country; and I can with confidence assure you, that although you may find persons more able to serve you, you can find none more willing than

Your most obedient,

And most humble servant,

JOHN M'DOUGALL.
