In Memoriam.

To very many sorrowing friends the 16th of April will recall to mind the sudden passing away of Revd. J. G. Cameron on this day of April last year.

Very little was said in the Island papers at this time, not that he died friendless or uncommured truly his friends felt too keenly their loss to put their thoughts into words. From East to West of the Island he was heartily esteemed and beloved, coming here as he did after the completion of his seven years of study for the ministry, three of which were spent at Princetown. New Jersey, where he was without exception the youngest man in each class he passed through. At the early age of 21 years he was ordained, and took charge at first of the congregation of Tryon and Bonshaw, then for 22 years of Souris, Bay Fortune and Grand River and lastly when his health began to fail from his much too arduous labours in that scattered congregation, he removed to Murrup Harbour North where though his ministry lasted only for the short time of 20 months the people of all denominations had become most warmly attached to him.

It may be well said of him that like his great master "he went about doing good." Never was a call for help made to him in vain and difficulties of all kinds vanished before his dauntless courage. Truly his whole life was spent in acts of kindness to those around him. So sunny and genial was his nature, so unselfish and loving his disposition that the testimony has been borne by hundreds, that even just to see him did them good. His keen sympathy with the sorrows of others and his clear judgment made him an invaluable councillor.

And the words, "I have lost the best friend I had in the world," were spoken by many a man, woman and child, when the news of his death reached them.

It is impossible to speak too strongly of the high sense of honor which governed all his conduct, of his hatred of cant and hypocrisy, and of the open hand and heart to which all who knew him instinctively turned in time of need. Ever ready to undertake the hardest work for the public good, yet shrinking from any kind of public distinction, he had that utter freedom from personal vanity which is so rarely to be met with.

He had his full shares of the trials and cares which fall to the lot of all ministers. But his steadfast faith in the triumph of right and his resolute optimism enabled him to bear with cheerfulness burdens which would have crushed many a less brave spirit.

Two of his great earthly enjoyments were music, and a good horse. His knowledge of the former was of immense value to him in the service of his churches, and he was never without the latter, which seemingly in perfect unison with his master's energy of spirit, never failed to keep every appointment.

Many a one has said that to meet Mr. Cameron on the road, no matter how gloomy might be the weather, was to receive such a cheerful wave of the hand and kindly greeting as sent them on their way with a lighter heart.

The comfort that he carried to the bedside of worn and weary sufferers in body and mind no words can tell, and in countless homes his name is never spoken but with tears of heartfelt sorrow to think that on earth they will never see him again.

Like every other good man, Mr. Cameron had his enemies, but they were of the fewest number and their attempt to injure him beneath contempt. If Carlyle be true in saying: "the wealth of a man consists in the number of people and things that he loves and blesses and that he is loved and blessed by," Mr. Cameron was indeed rich.

Of his talents as a preacher we need not here speak. His sermons were ever clear, practical, and earnest, and his people loved to hear him. The fruit of his labors will be declared at the last great day.

Over four years ago he had the first attack of the disease "Angina Pectoris" which caused his death. His sufferings at times were acute; but with characteristic unselfishness he never complained, but worked on with unceasing energy in his own congregation and the cause of the church he so dearly loved. His was the generous, Christlike mind which must, as long as life lasted, spend and be spent for others. Of him it may be fitly spoken in the words of an old poet:

"All other joys go less.
To the one joy of doing kindnesses."
By his death at the age of 51 year's one of the happiest of homes has been desolated, and the Presbyterian Church of this Island will feel the loss for many a year to come.

I have written this knowing that my words will find an echo in many a heart; for to quote the words of one of his congregation, "Down to the smallest child we all loved him."

To Our Friends and Patrons.

Our ambition as seedsmen is to offer our customers nothing but the best, and we believe our long and extensive experience of the habits and character of vegetable growth, of the soil and climatic conditions, enables us to place before the people of P. E. Island seeds of superior quality, seeds that we are planting every day in their season, and we claim that we are the only seedsmen on the Island that plant largely of the same seeds that we so extensively sell ourselves.

We do not say we have the largest stock or the greatest variety, but we do claim to have the very best varieties suited to the climate. Why have we the best? We have the best because we have practically tested hundreds of varieties. What we have, we test them.

We do not test them by simply placing a few in a warm position to see if they will grow, but we plant the seed in "good ground" and cultivate, and we hoe and we dig, and we delve, we take off our coats and by the sweat of our brow, with patience and long suffering, we bring the different varieties of plant life to maturity, and then we are in a position to judge which will be the most profitable to plant in future years. For example, a very large mammoth onion is pictured out and represented to yield almost as largely as turpips, but by repeated practical tests we have found our variety of the extra early onion mature and ripen in our short climate and a customer asking for large mammoth onion seed from us don't get it, but we give them what we know planted under right conditions will produce a crop. The same may be said of all varieties of seeds, we have found hundreds of varieties worthless. It can be readily understood all this has cost us considerable time and money, and we propose to allow our customers to profit by our experience. As Seedsmen, Nurserymen, and Market-Gardeners, we are well known to the public; our seeds are planted in every district on the Island, the importance of planting the seeds best suited to our climate is very great, and the public should be no their guard and think twice before they buy seeds from unreliable sources. There are to-day throughout the country boxes of old seeds lying on shelves that will be taken down and dusted and this spring sold for fresh seeds.

Since our move to Charlottetown we have added a glass-house 165 ft long and have every facility of testing the variety of seeds, but we would remind the public that the most worthless seeds will grow, and low price seed will grow; but such seed are not cheap but dear at any price. In conclusion we would say to our friends and the public that we have concluded to sell our seeds as cheap as many inferior seeds are sold for, but our terms are strictly cash with order or personally purchased from us. Watch this paper for our advertised prices next week, and do not buy until you see them. We remain yours respectfully,
J. J. GAY & SON, Nursery Gardens,
Charlottetown, P. E. I.

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dinner table. Neither gets the out of door exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. Its such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this one cause come indigestion, disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys, biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complications that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The "Pleasant Pellets" are tiny, sugar coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

Union Vale School.

On the 2nd inst., a public examination was held in the Union Vale School. A large number of ratepayers and parents were present, also teachers from other districts. The classes were examined by Mr. Adams, teacher of the school, also by the undersigned and Mr. Robertson MacFadyen. The fourth and fifth classes were closely examined by Mr. MacFadyen, and to say the least the aptness and accuracy with which they answered the questions put evinced great thoroughness of teaching on the part of Mr. Adams and hard and careful study on the part of the pupils. On the whole the results of the examination were very satisfactory to all present and highly praiseworthy to teacher, pupils and school officers. After the examination those present were addressed by Messrs MacFadyen, Heustis Webb, Stewart and others. The remarks made pertained chiefly to education and were exceedingly weighty.

ALMONT WILKES,

2.31 1/2

The well known stallion, "Almont Wilkes" by "Hernando," 2.37 1/2, dam "One Wilkes," 2.39 1/4, dam of "G. de Wilkes," 2.30 and "Almont Wilkes," 2.31 1/2, by Geo. Wilkes, jr., will stand the season of 1898 at Nicholson's Training Stables, Grafton St., opp. Court House, Ch'town.

Almont Wilkes is a big, stylish, carriage horse; he stands over 16 hands high and weighs 1200 lbs. He is the sire of Montrose, 2.20 3/4, and Westie Wilkes, 2.39 1/4. Montrose was the horse that put up such a gallant fight in the free-for-all at Ch'town track last fall, and there is no doubt that only for the concerted action of the other drivers, he would have won with ease. He trotted 13 heats, winning 1 first place and 5 seconds.

Westie Wilkes started in the 2.40 class at Summerside last fall, a green horse; right off the pasture, getting a mark of 2.39 1/4 in a field of seasoned campaigners, and his owner expects him to get a mark of 2.23 this year. This proves that Almont Wilkes sires speed of a high order, and being a remarkable good trotter, has always been a prize-winner in the low ring even when up against the best in the land.
