We have not lost the one we loved. We did not say good bye. For we will be meeting once again. Beyond some sunset sky.

We have known so much of happiness. We have had our cup of joy. And memory is one gift of God. That death can not destroy.

So we try to smile despite our tears. And raise a grateful heart. To God who plans a home for us. Where loved ones never part.

Islanders On Bluenose Special
Among the passengers arriving Thursday evening were two former Islanders returning to answer the Centennial summons from the Mayor of Charlottetown, D. H. Harrison Lowther from "Chilliwack, B.C. returning after an absence of 32 years and J. Brenton W. Lowther from Melport, Sask. They are sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lowther of Kensington.

They made the trip Centennial year to have a re-union with their parents in Charlottetown, N. W. Lowther and Lt. Col. L. T. Lowther with whom they are visiting while in the city.

President Asks
on the agenda, included these proposals:

1. Facilities for individual tourists from East and West to visit each other's countries.
2. Cultural exchanges among professional, scientific, technical and artistic organizations.
3. An exchange of professors, students and lecturers.
4. Free access to the sources of information, particularly for the press, in all countries, and an undertaking by each of the four heads of government to permit full publicity in their own countries for declarations by any of the other three on international affairs.
5. An exchange of statistics on the economic and social situation in the four countries.
6. The development of international commercial relations in the common interest, including particularly trade in goods for civilian use and a progressive lowering of trade barriers.
7. The establishment of a joint investment fund to finance works of interest to public interest from which all countries would derive mutual benefit.

LOWER BARRIERS
Eisenhower said that "to help achieve the goal of peace based on justice and right and mutual understanding," these "concrete steps" could be taken:

1. To lower the barriers which now impede the interchange of information and ideas between our peoples.
2. To lower the barriers which now impede the opportunities for people to travel anywhere in the world for peaceful, friendly purposes, so that all will have a chance to know each other face to face.
3. To create conditions which will encourage nations to increase the exchange of peaceful goods throughout the world.

While Eden did not speak Friday, he did circulate a plan which called for increased cultural, trade, tourist and communication contacts between East and West. He specifically requested greater freedom for Western journalists to travel in Russia.

Friday's brief meeting started an hour behind time in hopes the foreign ministers would hammer out some form of agreement.

But Foreign Secretary Macmillan, State Secshio 4 Dulles, Foreign Minister Pinay and Foreign Minister Molotov remained deadlocked on the thorny German question.

Behind the disagreement was Molotov's insistence that a reunification of Germany should take last place in the list of subjects for future East-West negotiation.

The West has given priority to ending the division of Germany.

Nationalists
any large-scale hostilities break out in the Formosa Strait.

Use of planes has apparently been considered because of the British threat to use the Royal Navy to protect British merchant ships trading with Red China.

The Nationalists are evidently convinced that, while Britain might use warships to protect her merchantmen, London would hesitate to order the RAF to afford similar protection.

TOO MUCH AN ALLY
The thinking here seems to be that this would, as one quarter put it, make Britain "too much an open ally of Mao Tse-tung," the Red Chinese leader.

The sources' question said the nationalists are worried over the flow of goods to Fukien province,

Extends Shooting Season

OTTAWA (CP)—Hunters will have a longer shooting season for migratory birds in all provinces except British Columbia this year.

The resources department announced Friday the extension of hunting seasons in the Maritimes, Quebec, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Ontario's season also is lengthened but only by one day. A new game species was added to the Ontario sportsman's bag. An open season was declared on mourning doves—with an eight-bird bag limit—for the first time since 1917. They still can't be shot in other provinces.

In Newfoundland, daily bag limits were raised to five geese and eight Wilson's snipe in Labrador another 17 ducks will be killed.

Game-type, areas and dates: Ducks, geese, Wilson's snipe, avon, Burin Peninsula, Oct. 1-31; northern Labrador, Sept. 3-Nov. 11; southern Labrador, Sept. 3-Nov. 11; remainder of province, Sept. 10-Nov. 18.

Scoter, eider and old-squaw ducks, Dec. 3-Jan. 26, Oct. 1-Nov. 24, Nov. 1-Dec. 25, Dec. 3-Jan. 26 respectively and in coastal waters additional season Jan. 27-Feb. 29, Nov. 25-Dec. 25, Dec. 26-Jan. 25 and Jan. 27-Feb. 29 respectively.

Magician And Singing Star Visiting City

Pictured above is Miss Ernesta Daly, gifted Montreal singing star who is presently visiting the Province with Tom Auburn to do a request of entertainments at the request of the Kinsmen Club.

Tom and Miss Daly are entertaining the children at the two orphanages, the patients in the two hospitals and the Provincial Sanatorium, and the boys out at the Holland Cove Camp.

The Kinsmen sponsored these performances so that these people could take some active part in Charlottetown's Centennial Year celebrations.

Club could hardly have selected two more popular or capable performers. Tom is undoubtedly the outstanding magician in the Dominion as the many who have seen him perform can testify.

Miss Daly is one of Canada's most popular vocalists. She sings on radio and television and is featured in the Dominion.

Tom and Miss Daly have visited the Province before and their return here just to perform for those unable to attend regular entertainments is a gesture that could be made only by truly big performers.

SEASON EXTENDED
The Prince Edward Island open season was extended to 70 from 57 days with bag limits at eight ducks, other than mergansers; five geese, eight Wilson's snipe and eight woodcock.

The seasons: duck, except wood ducks, and geese, except brant; Oct. 1-Dec. 9; brant, Oct. 29-Nov. 27; Wilson's snipe and woodcock, Oct. 1-Nov. 2.

Nov. Scotia hunters will find hunting district boundaries changed and the season generally longer.

Daily bag limits remain at five geese, eight each of Wilson's snipe, woodcock and ducks.

Game-type, areas and dates: Ducks, except wood ducks, and geese, except brant, Cumberland county, Oct. 1-Dec. 9; Inverness, Victoria, Richmond, Antigonish, Colchester, Hants, Pictou, Kings counties and Annapolis, except for Annapolis basin area, Oct. 15-Dec. 23; Guysborough, Halifax, Lunenburg, Queens, Shelburne, Yarmouth, Digby counties, Oct. 1-Nov. 4; Digby, Annapolis and Kings counties, Oct. 1-Nov. 13.

Queens Member
that discontinuance of daily freight service would be a disaster to the agricultural economy of P.E.I.

Mr. Matheson noted that the Transport Board granted discontinuance of rail service in one end of the Province but not in the other. This indicated that the decision was a compromise and compromises were rarely satisfactory. He revealed that he had discussed the judgment with Premier Alex Matheson and while the latter reserved his comments, he thought it unlikely that the judgment would meet the needs of the Province.

Discontinuance of the daily freight service will be disadvantageous to the farming population of the Province. Mr. Matheson said. It was on this account that he rose to protest its terms.

Islanders Annual Picnic in B. C.
On Sunday, July 17, 1955, in the beautiful setting of Stanley Park, Vancouver, B. C., nearly 200 former residents and friends of "The Island" met for their annual picnic.

Mrs. P. Allen, formerly of Searletham made a ticket for each person to fill in his name and birthplace. Mrs. Martin MacGougan, formerly of Tryon, had a wonderful time recording the names. The oldest person present was Mr. George Saunders, formerly of South Winsloe, who is ninety years young.

Mr. George Campbell, former Montague resident, called the gathering to order, and introduced the following who spoke briefly: Mr. Angus MacInnis, M.P.; Mr. George MacLean, Beaton's Mills; Mr. Edgar Munn and his son John from the River who had just arrived to visit Mr. Munn's brother, Stephen Munn—a retired Fire Chief and his sister Mrs. R. E. Wood, Burnaby; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gates, who after an absence of 33 years are leaving to visit their old home in West Royalty.

Present Original Play At Keppoch
A delightful little play in four scenes, originally adapted by the participants, and entitled "Brownlocks and the Three Bears" was presented by the "Keppoch Little Theatre Guild" recently, and was the means of raising a total of $3.07 for the Red Cross Crippled Children's Fund. Hand-made programs, as well as refreshments which were sold during intermission, helped to increase the proceeds. The characters in the play were as follows: Brownlocks—Nancy White; Father bear, Heather Sanderson; Mother bear, Eileen MacMillan; baby bear, Lynn MacIsaac. Little Maura MacMillan provided special entertainment in the scenes and Marcia Welner acted as announcer. Stephanie Welner had charge of the ticket and program sales at the door, and Tommy MacMillan the refreshments.

Appeal Hearing
caught did not rest with the Crown.

His Lordship, the Chief Justice wondered if lobsters caught in the middle of the Gulf would be legal or on the other hand what would be the status of lobsters caught off the coast of Maine. Mr. Stewart expressed belief that if they were found in possession on Canadian soil they would be subject to prevailing regulations regardless of where they were caught. "The essential ingredient of the offence is 'possession,'" he said.

THE CROWN'S SUMMARY
In summing up, Mr. Stewart said that all it is necessary to prove is the retention of the fish, not necessarily where they were caught. "Short lobsters," he said, "can be seized anywhere they are found in Canada." He concluded by stating that the Dominion Parliament has the exclusive right to legislate. He made a motion for dismissal with costs.

In reply to the Crown's contentions, Mr. J. O. Campbell, appearing for the appellants said that the wording which indicated the fishing areas defined in the Act was incomplete. He referred to the part which read "a line running from a point in a magnetic north westerly direction." He claimed that it included the words "and such line to five miles distant from the shore."

Mr. Campbell reiterated his claim of the previous day that there was no such thing as "territorial waters." He said "It does not matter where the fish are caught unless the catching is incidental to their retention and any such legislation is ultravires."

They may not legislate on land unless such legislation is ancillary to fishing."

Continuing Mr. Campbell said, "It is useless for Parliament to legislate against the retention of short lobsters unless parliament meant by 'retention' lobsters 'fished and retained.'" He claimed that possession without fishing is part of our property and civil rights under Section 92 of the B.N.A. Act.

"If parliament meant to give the Governor and Council the power to prohibit, they did not use the word 'prohibit,'" He pointed out that there was a big difference between "possession" and "retaining."

Mr. Campbell said that the Crown does not know where the fish in question were caught, he also contended that the Crown had not proven that Jutes Point where the offence allegedly occurred was within the prohibited area.

In conclusion Mr. Campbell said that until Canada passes a territorial waters act or until they set a limit of 5, 8 or 12 miles, no enforcement of any legislation can be made. He asked for a ruling of "not guilty" for each of the accused.

The Chief Justice stated that the case would be taken under advisement. The court was adjourned to a date to be fixed.

RUSSIANS ON TOUR
GENEVA (AP)—Premier Bulganin and other Russian leaders attending the "summit" conference went on a morning sightseeing tour Friday to Montreux, 40 miles away at the other end of Lake Geneva. Bulganin was accompanied by Nikita Khrushchev, Communist party chief, and Defence Minister Georgi Zhukov. The party travelled in open cars, with a Swiss motorcycle escort.

He told the Commons that about $50,000 is expected to be spent on clearing and construction in the next year. Construction would start as soon as clearing was completed.

If President's Proposal Accepted Would Mean Drastic Legal Changes

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's proposal to tell Russia about American defences, if the Soviets reciprocate, stands out against the present U.S. policy of tightening military secrecy.

If the Soviet Union should accept the proposal for a swap of detailed information about each other's armaments, it might constitute a drastic revision of policies and laws restricting the release of military information in the United States.

The secrecy has deepened under the current administration, though it also existed in considerable measure during the Truman administration.

Explaining their reasons for tightening up, the White House and defence department have expressed belief that Moscow reads news in American trade periodicals and newspapers which its espionage agents couldn't ferret out for themselves.

SAME REASON
For the same reason, federal law and regulations by the armed services and other agencies impose restrictions on the publication of information which may be fairly apparent to foreign agents anyway.

In his address at Geneva Thursday, Eisenhower proposed, among other things, that:

"The United States and Russia 'give to each other a complete blueprint of our military establishments' that the United States provide to Russia 'ample facilities for aerial reconnaissance, where you can make all the pictures you choose.'"

All of this was conditioned on acceptance of a similar plan for American survey of Russia's military establishment. The idea is to assure each country against a surprise attack and prepare the way for disarmament.

PROHIBITED BY LAW
But these are some of the things that existing U.S. law or policy provide:

Federal law prohibits flying over or going into or on, for the purpose of photographing, any "vessel, aircraft, work of defence, navy yard, naval station, submarine base, fueling station, fort, battery, torpedo station, dockyard, canal, railroad, arsenal, camp, factory, mine, telegraph, telephone, wireless, or signal station, building, office or other place connected with the national defence" which is owned or operated by the government.

It also bans similar photograph

Pass Tests Held At Holland Cove
A large group of enthusiastic swimmers enjoyed the Red Cross Swimming Classes held at the Camp at Holland Cove. Warm sunny weather prevailed through the Course and was an added incentive to the campers.

Miss Nancy Hyndman, Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety Instructor, capably acted as camp waterfront director. The camp counsellors assisted each day on the bench and inter cabin swim meets were held as an added attraction.

Mr. Paul Cudmore and Miss Joan Murphy, Red Cross field supervisors, tested the swimmers on July 15. The awards were presented to the following successful candidates this evening at a banquet honouring the camp's closing:

Beginners: Margaret Balderson, Elizabeth Campbell, Joan Diamond, Trudi Hickox, Hope Hyndman, Zoe Hyndman, Joanne Lord, Donna Kennedy, Jeanne Miller, Karen McNeil, Carol MacMillan, Barbara McInnis, Gail McInnis, Sandra Rodd, Sheila Roper, Heather Stewart and Janet MacDonald.

Juniors: Ann Cameron, Gail Cameron, Margaret Bearisto, Patsy Ives, Judy Johnstone, Margaret MacDonald and Marilyn Townsend.

Intermediates: Joan Boyles, Mary Brander, Andrea Duvar, Glynis Hughes, Zondra Ivar, Royal Life Saving Society Bronze Medalist: Norma Duvar and Pauline Johnston.

Yarmouth Ferry Trials Soon
QUEBEC (CP)—The luxury ferry Bluenose, scheduled to operate between Yarmouth, N. S., and Bar Harbor, Me., is expected to undergo sea trials late next week. It was learned Friday.

Work on the new vessel, being built at the Davis Shipbuilding Company at Lauzon, Que., across the St. Lawrence river from Quebec, is almost completed, officials said. The ferry will be put into service with a minimum of delay if no hitches develop in the trials.

The vessel, christened earlier this year by Mrs. St. Laurent, wife of the prime minister, will be operated by the CNR for the department of transport.

The ferry will be able to carry some 150 cars and 600 passengers. It has a crew of 90.

Time Payment For Wives Back

LAGOS, Nigeria. (AP)—Sale of wives on the installment plan may return to Eastern Nigeria.

A government committee inquiring into the current practice paid to parents for brides, recommended a price freeze and a return to installment buying.

After the war inflation rampant in the marriage market through soldiers returning from the wars with money buy wives outright—and p above the norm.

But the committee recommended rationing too. Henceforth, it said, polygamy should end and every man content with one price-controlled wife.

Advise N. S. To Ask Fed. Funds For Underpass
OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Marler said today he has advised the Nova Scotia highway department to make a formal application to federal highway officials for an allocation at Fairview, on the outskirts of Halifax.

Mr. Marler was replying in Commons to a question by S. Balcorn (L-Halifax).

He said he has suggested that either the provincial highway department or the city of Halifax apply to the board of transport commissioners for an allocation from the railway crossing fund.
