Mayor Gaudet Opens New City Restaurant

"A delightful way of opening a new restaurant," Mayor A. Walthen Gaudet said last night as he cut the red ribbon across the diningroom entrance to symbolize the opening of the Town and Country Restaurant on Queen Street near City Hall.

Civic officials and representatives of several clubs were invited to the pre-opening party to give them an opportunity of seeing the city's newest eating place before the doors are thrown open to the public.

The importance of restaurants in a city which hopes to become a convention centre was emphasized by the Mayor when he told the gathering the new proprietors "have made a constructive move in the field of providing good eating houses in a city which has a tremendous potential for tourists."

Chairman for the pleasant function was Abraham Zakem who welcomed the guests on behalf of the owners, Louis Rashed and Joseph Jabbour. Seated at the end of the dining room with Mr. Zakem were the Mayor, City Comptroller John Butler, Councillor Mrs. Dorothy Corrigan and RCMP Superintendent A.S. MacNeill.

Excellence of the decorating, lighting and service provided was commented on by representatives of various groups with Surg. Capt. Dr. L.E. Prowse expressing the thanks of the guests in general for the splendid evening provided by the hosts.

Fireside Hour Features Film

On Sunday night, April 12 at 8:30 the monthly Fireside Hour will be held in the lower Church Hall at First Baptist Church. The feature of this Fireside is the viewing of the religious motion picture the Tony Fontane Story.

The Tony Fontane Story is the unbelievable, yet true story of one of the world's greatest youth singers. Filmed in Hollywood by Youth Films, the teenage division of Gospel Films, Inc., it is the first Christian, dramatic musical ever produced. The purpose of the 79-minute, color production is to dramatically present Tony Fontane's personal testimony, showing teenagers and adults alike that the answer to life and the hereafter is only found in the person of Jesus Christ.

Tony acquired nation-wide success when his hit record "Cold, Cold Heart," sold more than a million copies. He recorded other hits including "Syncopated Clock", "Bring Back the Thrill", and "Vanity". Two of his most outstanding albums were "Showboat" recorded with Sophie Tucker, Patti Page and Tony Martin; and the "Sunny Side of the Street" recorded with Vic Dumone, Frankie Lane and Billie Daniels. His recording of "I talked to the Treee" held first position on the Australian hit parade for 16 consecutive weeks.

Tony's wife, the former Kerry Vaughn, was a professional actress when she and Tony were married 12 years ago. After their marriage, Kerry continued performing on the stage and in the night-clubs around the world and appearing in many Hollywood motion pictures.

Many in the congregation of First Baptist are already planning to see this great film. An invitation is extended to the congregation of the city to also view the film. Light refreshments will be served afterwards.

Tourist Head Schedule To Speak Here

Chief Guide Greeted At Centennial Rally

MONTAGUE — Approximately 200 Guides, Brownies, and their leaders were present from Montague, St. Peters, Morell, Little Pond and Souris for the Centennial rally held at Souris yesterday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. B.F. McCarten, Division Commissioner welcomed the large gathering of guides and brownies who provided a guard of honor for Miss Henrietta Osler, Chief Guide of Canada.

She also introduced Mrs. G. M. Avard, Provincial Commissioner who welcomed the group and expressed her pleasure at having so many present. She then introduced Miss Osler who spoke briefly and who gave a vivid account of guides and brownies in Norway and India.

She held the attention of all when she described the different uniforms and customs of the countries. She concluded her remarks by saying the one thing common to all and of the most importance to guides is the keeping of the guide promise and laws.

A well coordinated musical program was directed by Mrs. George Warner, Montague, music advisor for Kings County.

Miss Gemma Dunn, Morell guide, who attended camp last year in Newfoundland gave an interesting account of her trip. Miss Betsy McCormick, Souris, guide also gave a detailed description of her camping experiences at Doe Lake, Ontario.

Miss Osler was thanked for her remarks by Mrs. Stewart MacAulay, District Commissioner for Souris.

Previous to the rally a buffet supper was served by the hospitality committee of the local guide Association under the convenership of Mrs. Edward Kassner, Mrs. Vernon Fraser and Mrs. Eunice Smallwood.

Others present for the rally were; Mrs. W.W. Reid, Deputy Provincial Commissioner of Charlottetown; Mrs. Eugene Larkin, District Commissioner for Morell; as well as guide leaders from each of the points represented.

Individual Attention Urged By Dr. Berg

President Grant Travers of the P.E.I. Association for Retarded Children was chairman last night for the Association's annual dinner meeting held in the Charlottetown Legion Home.

Mr. Travers was re-elected to the office and others elected were: William Handrahan, vice-president, Mrs. Iris Ramsay, secretary and Paul Hoy, treasurer.

Reports were given by the eight associations and Dr. George Dewar, speaking on behalf of the P.E.I. Government praised the efforts of the association for their hard work on behalf of the retarded children.

Guest speaker for the evening was Dr. Joseph Berg, visiting professor at the University of Toronto, Mental Retardation Unit, who spoke of mental retardation as a complex subject, and stated that only by giving appropriate attention to each individual, in relation to all the facets of the problem can there be hope of gaining success in the total field.

Dr. Berg listed some of the causes of mental retardation as being, german measles, lead poisoning, environmental agents and Phenylketonouria.

He stated the ultimate objective on the medical level is to prevent the occurence of mental retardation, or to inattitude treatment to avoid these abnormal events.

Stressing the fact that retarded children are capable of adapting to society through a workshop program and that these people can become useful and productive members of society, Dr. Berg urged continued effort on the part of all concerned in helping establish workshop programs rather than total and complete isolation in institutions for those people.

Pius Smith thanked the speaker.

Volkswagen Co. Sues Magazine

HANOVER (AP)—The giant Volkswagen company and West Germany's leading consumer magazine faced each other Thursday in what may become the longest, costliest damage suit in German press history.

Volkswagen, Europe's largest auto maker, is suing the 600,000-circulation magazine DM for libel for writing that the company's twin - carburetor VW-1500-S model proved unreliable in a performance test.

No damage claim has been entered but DM officials say they expect one of 10,000,000 marks ($2,500,000).

Several other automotive magazines have dissented from DM's verdict on the car. Volkswagen claims the test was rigged in a "shatter-the-Volkswagen myth" bid for more readers.

Volkswagen also demands retraction of all disputed criticism directed against the model by DM.

Opening hearings on the suit Wednesday, a Hanover Civil Court heard testimony from several members of the magazine crew of engineers, drivers and editors who took part in the test.

War Chest For Hoffa To Be Aim

TORONTO (CP)—The nine-member Canadian executive of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (Ind.) will be asked this month to support an appeal among Canadian members for cash support of international president James Hoffa.

"I am definitely in favor of establishing a war chest for him (Hoffa) to fight back with," Canadian director I. M. (Casey) Dodds said here in an interview.

The Canadian executive meets in Montreal April 20, Mr. Dodds said. "and I'm sure the executive will give the green light to the proposal."

Mr. Hoffa was convicted March 4 at Chattanooga, Tenn., of trying to fix a federal court jury and was sentenced to eight years in prison and a $10,000 fine. He is appealing the conviction, and a campaign has started among American members of the union to contribute $1 each to help him.

The union has 1,650,000 American members and 40,000 in Canada.

Record Hunt For Minerals Planned In B.C. This Year

By MICHAEL BLAIR

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia will be criss-crossed with geologists this summer as the biggest year of mining exploration in its history gets under way.

More than 650 geologists employed by 60 mining exploration companies will search the province for metallic minerals and asbestos.

"Every year has been better than the last for the past 10 or 15 years," says Tom Elliott, manager of the B.C. and Yukon chamber of mines for 30 years.

"The main reason for the boom is the climate for investing risk capital and proof there are many important mineral deposits still to be discovered."

Risk capital is money spent on projects of unknown importance. B.C. is a good place to spend this money on exploration because there are many undeveloped areas, little restrictive legislation against mining, and provincial taxes on mined minerals are not excessive.

Last year, mineral products mined in B.C. sold for $250,000,000, of which $40,000,000 came from exports, mainly of copper and iron, to Japan.

PRICES RISEN

"Prices for the major volume minerals produced in B.C., lead, zinc, and copper, have risen in the past few years, spawning many new mines and renewing interest in mining speculation," says Mr. Elliott.

Lead and zinc prices are now 13 cents a pound compared to less than 10 cents a few years ago. Copper now is more than 30 cents a pound, up from 20 cents.

At present there are about 30 large producing mines in B.C. and the Yukon, with several more scheduled to go into production this year.

These include Boss Mountain Molybdenum, a subsidiary of Noranda Explorations Ltd., and the Endako Molybdenum Mine of Canadian Explorations Ltd.

Endako is building a 10,000 ton a day concentrate mill at its open pit mine 100 miles west of Prince George to process a large molybdenum deposit. Estimated cost of the mill is $20,000,000.

Mr. Elliott said both Japanese and European interests will probably buy B.C. molybdenum, a "space age" material which alloyed with steel can withstand great heat and fatigue.

The main supplier to date has been the United States.

Two big discoveries recently were of iron and asbestos deposits in the Yukon, and feasibility surveys are now being carried out.

ASBESTOS DISCOVERY

Cassiar Asbestos Ltd. has discovered high-grade asbestos at Clinton Creek, north of Dawson City, and Crest Explorations, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of California, has found an ore body northeast of Mayo on the Yukon-Northwest Territory border.

The Iron ore deposit is estimated in the tens of billions of tons, and cost studies now are being made to see if it can be economically mined and shipped to markets.

"Meanwhile, some oil and gas money from Alberta is spilling into the B.C. and Yukon mining exploration field, and a number of oil-gas companies are getting interested in the prospects," says Mr. Elliott.

"With all this activity and with so many companies involved, it can't help but be a great mining year."

TRUST WARREN

CHICAGO (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren of the United States Supreme Court is the white man most trusted by American Negro leaders, says Ebony magazine. The magazine reporting on its poll of 69 prominent Negroes, said Ralph McGill, publisher-editor of the Atlanta Constitution, and U.S. Attorney-General Robert Kennedy were runners-up.

Acting Dairy Super Named

Earle W. Adams of Sherwood, who has been assistant dairy superintendent for the province will now become acting dairy superintendent until a successor to Henry MacDonald has been appointed, Agriculture Minister Andrew B. MacRae said yesterday.

Mr. MacDonald, who has held the position for quite a number of years, has reached the retirement age.

Appointment of a new superintendent is expected in the near future, Mr. MacRae said.

Discrimination In Canada Is Discussed

MONTREAL (CP) — Discrimination because of race, religion and color occurs in Canada due to four main factors, Immigration Minister Tremblay said here Thursday night.

He told the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews that these factors are:

Loopholes in anti-discrimination legislation, evasion of regulations, reluctance of individuals to make an issue of an act of discrimination, and indifference by the general public to the problems confronting minority groups.

Mr. Tremblay said there must be greater understanding of each other's viewpoints to promote greater integration.

"After hundreds of years of settlement, some of our oldest ethnic groups do not feel at home in their own country; many of our newest citizens still feel isolated and lonely."

NEED ACCEPTANCE

Acceptance of immigrants by native - born Canadians and their integration into the community were important goals for newcomers.

These could not wait until individuals were thoroughly conversant with the language, schooled in the customs of Canada and settled in their new environment.

"Newcomers need advice and friendship from the time of their arrival and for many months afterwards. It is well to remember that the invitation must come from the native-born Canadians."

The statements were included in a text of the speech issued to the press before delivery.
