Domestically while it defies the U.N.

The Chinese Communist Government should not be included in current discussions for a Japanese peace treaty.

While he made no reference to the controversy in the United States over Gen. MacArthur's proposals for bombing China, Mr. Pearson declared that authorizing the U.N. commander in Korea to bomb China would be "one way by which the conflict could be spread."

Might Be Unavoidable

It was possible to visualize a situation where immediate action in the field might be unavoidable in the event of an enemy bombing attack.

Such action, he said, "would involve the risk of extending the fighting without, as we see it, any corresponding assurance that such extension would end the war."

Mr. Pearson said that the policy now being followed in Korea might complicate the U.N. commander's problems. But he added that, in the opinion of many, these problems would be "immensely more complicated if the fighting were extended to China."

Before taking any new decision that would extend the war, the minister said, the U.N. countries should be reasonably sure of compensating military and political advantages.

Opposition Views

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, criticized United Nations policy in Korea.

He said many people are wondering how the U.N. can achieve its objectives there without some clear-cut plans. That was what

Value Of Dental Care Emphasized At Rotary Club

Four important steps in the betterment of dental health are, the control of sugar consumption, proper diet, the proper use of the toothbrush at least four times daily, and early dental treatment.

Dr. O'Meara said he had only been in the Province a short time, but he had seen enough to realize how vitally important it is to try and stimulate the interest of the people in dental health.

The Division of Dental Public Health was formed last fall, said Dr. O'Meara. Working with him in the department are three dental hygienists and they are unique in that apart from one other girl in Ottawa, they are the only workers in this field in the whole of Canada.

These girls received special training at the Forsyth Dental Infirmary in Boston, which enables them to give dental education in the schools, to make dental examinations in the mouth, and to do a limited amount of work in the mouth, such as the application of sodium fluoride to the teeth.

The credit for getting these girls trained out of Federal Public Health grants goes to Miss Mona Wilson, said Dr. O'Meara, and it is rather significant that schools for dental hygienists are about to be started in Toronto and Montreal.

That shows how far-seeing Miss Wilson is. Three more girls from this Province are going in for training this fall.

Result of Survey

On his arrival in this Province about ten months ago Dr. O'Meara carried out a survey of some 17,000 school children.

Ninety-three per cent required dental treatment. Dr. O'Meara gave a detailed breakdown of this figure giving the average tooth decay in age groups, rural-urban groups, dental treatment, and the use of the toothbrush.

A great deal of research has been done in later years on tooth decay, and they are still working on it. Know one knows all the answers said the speaker, but it is known that it is acids in the mouth that start the trouble.

Three minutes after the intake of sugar or sweet food the bacteria in the saliva start to produce acids and the acids remain in the mouth up to an hour and a half after the sugar is eaten.

Tests are being made with the use of acid fluoride, but it is at best on the average only 40 per cent effective and must be accompanied by good dental care. Free dental care is not the answer.

Dental treatment without an educational programme to back it up is useless. It is not bad luck, nor lack of money that causes tooth decay, it is plain bad management. Until people realize this and make some effort to help themselves, no progress will ever be made.

Free treatment has the opposite effect. It creates the attitude why bother to take care of the children's teeth when I can have them treated for nothing — you might think this cynical said Dr. O'Meara, but he had seen it in practice. A number of children in Charlottetown had had treatment at the free clinic in Charlottetown and it is heart-breaking to see the utter neglect and lack of appreciation of what had been done for them.

The responsibility should be on the children and their parents and that means education in the schools and in the homes. It is going to be slow and gradual process, said the speaker, but it is the only way.

Guests yesterday included Dr. Owen Curtis, Dr. Ray Barrett, and Mr. Benjamin Rogers. Chairmen were Rotarians Wally Sharpe and Ian Burnett.

Gen. MacArthur had complained about for months.

The U.N. forces were limited and handicapped. It was like asking a boxer to fight without stepping across a line drawn through the middle of the ring.

"What kind of a policy is that?" he asked.

Mr. Low suggested many Canadians are wondering what chance the Canadian troops in Korea would have if they were to be so limited.

Gen. Graydon, external affairs spokesman for the Progressive Conservative Party, and M.J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, urged greater emphasis on aid to underdeveloped countries as a means of combatting Communism.

Mr. Graydon suggested short-range immediate help for the famine-stricken people of India and Pakistan. If the Government would not undertake an emergency relief program, it should at least offer to transport individual Canadian contributions of food, clothing, medical supplies and the like.

BODY RECOVERED

WEYMOUTH, N.S., May 7 (CP)—The body of John Thibodeau, 15, who drowned April 3rd with a companion in the swift Sissaboo River, was found today on Weymouth Marsh.

3-Act Comedy Presented At Baptist Hall

An enthusiastic audience which filled the Baptist Church Hall to capacity, spent a fun-filled two hours last evening with "The People Next Door", a three-act comedy under the direction of Sidney Jeffrey and produced by the B.Y.F.U.

From rise until final curtain, laughter reigned supreme. Action-packed scenes of family feuds and even an election for Mayor produced comedy galore.

On stage in major roles were Margaret Dolliver and Windsor Brehaut who teamed up to make a host and hostess of unusual merit. They, together with their hostile neighbors, Shirley MacKay and Allison MacRae, formed the plot around which the entire play revolved.

Their two charming daughters, Helen MacRae and Jeanette Ladner, both eager for romance, but suppressed by family problems, were played very charmingly.

Difficulties arose when Helen MacRae and Kenneth Yeo, son of Allison MacRae and Shirley MacKay, fall in love with each other. An attempt on their part to bring their parents to be peaceful neighbors provides dozens of laughs.

Bud Horne, a visitor to the home of Margaret Dolliver and Windsor Brehaut, is pursued by both Jeanette Ladner and Betty Hamm. His decision is a most difficult one as ladies use various techniques on him.

Election Day! The Next Door House On Fire! What excitement! Everyone on Stage! Who will win the Election? That would be telling. The results of the election are fire change the scene and story at once and the play is climaxed by romance and goodwill between previously bitter enemies.

The actors and actresses are all to be congratulated in their splendid performances as a play of this caliber requires a great deal of preparation. Misses Betty Hall and Miriam Matthew were in charge of the make-up and stage properties through the courtesy of Messrs Crockett and Storey.

During intermissions duets by Barbara Rupert and Nancy McEwen and barjo solos by Norman Stewart were much enjoyed.

"The People Next Door" will be presented again this evening at 8:15 and another capacity audience is anticipated.

Rev. J.D. Davison acted as chairman for the evening.

Red Shield Campaign Launched Last Evening

"People are always receptive to an appeal by the Salvation Army," Chairman P. W. Turner told a gathering of canvassers at a supper meeting held in the Citadel last night.

The occasion was the opening of the Red Shield campaign for funds to carry on the work of the Salvation Army here. Provincial chairman T. Roy Cudmore spoke of the recent visits to various parts of the Province he had made in company with Major Hutchison and said they received a wonderful reception everywhere they went.

Mr. Cudmore briefly described the work of the Army and told the gathering of the real need for money to continue the work being done at Sunset Lodge and in other fields. He mentioned the future possibility of adding another wing to the Lodge to enable the Army to take care of 30 more women.

Co-chairman Mr. J.C. Montgomery spoke briefly as he passed cards to the various canvassers. The campaign which opened yesterday will conclude Thursday. Major Hutchison expressed the appreciation of the Salvation Army for the help received by those present at the supper and he paid tribute to the two chairmen for their co-operation.
