

Canada Loses Again; Lets Gain 4-1 Win

By WALTER KREVENCHUK
WINNIPEG (CP)—The Russian national hockey team scored its third consecutive victory over Canada with a 4-1 decision here Sunday before a crowd of 9,924.

Canada, beaten 4-0 and 4-1 last week, came up with a strong game but was no match for the machine-like precision of the Soviet team.

Canada scored the first goal and matched Russia in all departments for most of the first two periods, but fell behind because of individual mistakes which the Soviet team quickly turned into goals.

Vyacheslav Starshinov led Russia with two goals, the 13th and 14th scoring markers. Boris Yakushev and Anatole Fylov scored one each.

Canada's goal came on a backhand shot by Rick Abbott that ricocheted off the stick and pad of Russian goaltender Viktor Kovalenko. Russia led 2-1 after the first period and 3-1 after the second.

Starshinov tied the score 37 seconds after Canada's Gary Dineen scored for the first time. The Russian took a pass to the right of the Canadian net and flipped a backhander past Ken Broderick.

Just over a minute later Starshinov put Russia ahead to stay when he flicked home a rebound into the net.

Dineen was one of two members of Canada's 1964 Olympic team who traveled to strengthen the Nations, the other Olympic team.

Broderick.

The second period featured quick checking and was scoreless until the last two minutes.

Russia got a third goal when Canadian defenseman Paul Collins and Gary Fylov elected to move back on a rush by Yakushev, giving the Russian time to pick a corner.
