SONS OF TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

By Grand Division Editor.

G. W. P.—John Anderson, Kensington.
G. Scribe—Jesse S. Burns, Lower Freetown

OUR AIM.

To rescue the drunkard and save the country from the rum curse.

OUR PLEDGE.

No member shall make, buy, sell or use as a beverage any spirituous or malt liquors, wine or cider or even table beer.

OUR PRINCIPLES.

Love, Purity and Fidelity.

This column is given for the use of the Grand Division once a month, and all the subordinate divisions will send post cards to Box 214 containing information of public meetings, elections, etc, and due notice will be given.

Another month has come and gone since our last items in this column. We have to record another division organized by the Grand Scribe, and general news of interest always welcome to our readers. Excelsior Division, Cornwall, has taken on new energy, and the weekly initiations and programmes make the members glad for the return of the night for meeting. Onward Division, Victoria, is also in a prosperous condition, and almost every meeting witnesses some new members initiated. Refuge Division, No. 201, Fredericton, reports itself in healthy working condition. There are over 70 on the roll. The meetings are well attended each week, and profitable programmes are provided. The officers for the quarter are as follows:

W. P.—J. W. McLennan.
W. A.—Bertha Stevenson.
R. S.—A. M. Ferris.
A. R. S.—C. D. McKenzie.
F. S.—Emma Weeks.
Treas.—Daniel Gillis.
Chap.—Mary Knipe.
Con.—Edith Weeks.
A. Con.—Sadie Pound.
I. S.—Angus McLeod.
O. S.—J. W. Gass.
P. W. P.—E. S. Weeks.

Thursday night is the time for their meeting, and they would like visiting divisions to drop in and see them.

Company A, Loyal Crusaders, Charlottetown, have elected their senior officers for 1897, as follows:

W. C.—J. A. Lawson.
W. V. C.—Miss Wadman.
Treas.—Miss M. Chappell.
Chap.—John Scott.
Secy.—John McLauchlin.
P. W. C.—Rev. W. J. Kirby.

This company is growing every week and the accommodation will soon be too small. Every meeting there are enlistments, and the young soldiers are most enthusiastic in their attendance. Why not more companies?

Are you going to grand division on the 26th of January?

Port Hill Division is making some special efforts to give the Grand Division a royal reception, and a pleasant entertainment.

Western divisions will have a chance to go in large numbers and it is hoped the eastern and central sections will be represented also. Delegates expecting to attend will drop a post card to William Hopgood, Port Hill, and they will be met at the station.

An English magazine gives the following facts, which may be encouraging to us to know:—

"The quiet success of the temperance movement is demonstrated in a striking fashion by a comparison of the drink bill at different periods. In 1876, Mr. William Hoyle gave the amount of the drink bill for 1874 as £141,348,000. In 1885 it was £142,415,000. In tabular form it works out as follows:—

Year.	Population.	Money.	Per Head.
1874	32,500,000	£141,348,000	£4 6 11
1895	40,000,000	142,415,000	3 11 5

While the population increased by nearly eight millions, the amount expended on alcohol only increased a little over one million. If in 1895 the expenditure had been at the same rate as 1874, we should have spent thirty millions more than we actually did. Much of this decrease may be put down to the spread of sound temperance teaching." It has sometimes been charged that the upper classes have freedom to drink, and that they should set an example and become total abstainers before they recommend their principles to the poor man and rob him of his rights to drink if he wants to. We are glad, therefore, to give the following from an exchange, showing that the highest example which can be set is shown by Her Most Gracious Majesty. Here is the clipping:—

THE QUEEN A TEETOTALER.

Her Majesty Has Not Tasted Alcohol in Three Years.

Total abstinence is no longer regarded as the fad of a few uninfluential, unscientific persons. Its therapeutic value is now conceded by leading physicians, and its wonderful effect in prolonging life is established to the astonishment of the world in the operations of life insurance companies. The practice of abstinence from the use of alcoholic liquors is rapidly spreading in social circles that only a few years ago would have scorned the suggestion that society should be held together without the social glass. In church and state eminent converts are to be found standing for the reform with all the zeal of the crusader; it has even reached the throne. The London, Eng., "Daily Mail," of Nov. 28th, is authority for the following:

"It will be interesting news to the world in general, and to temperence people in particular, that her majesty the Queen is a total abstainer from alcholic liquors, and has been such for at least three years.

"The information comes to the 'Daily Mail' from such a high source that there can be no question as to its accuracy."

"For many years Her Majesty partook of wine and spirits in sparing quantities, but some three years ago, by way of experiment, she abandoned their use entirely. Since that time not a drop of intoxicating liquors has passed her lips.

"Her Majesty's reasons for ceasing to take the small quantity of alcholic drink to which she has been accustomed were not unconnected with the intense pain in her legs and knees from which she suffers. Whether the result has been beneficial or otherwise will probably remain a matter of opinion. It is entirely certain, however, that the queen is satisfied with the experiment, a fact which temperance lecturers will undoubtedly make full use of.

We trust the divisions will each appoin a reporter, and then before the 10th and 25th of each month forward items to Box 214, Charlottetetown, and thus save the editor of this column from the charge of being partial. All items will be faithfully attended to if on time for issues. Let us go to Grand Division prepared with our suggestions for propogation work and make this year the most prosperous in our existence. Next year is our jubilee year, let us run up our membership and have a magnificent showing to round out the half century of our existence with.

Prince Edward No. 1 ought to be resurrected for the jubilee. Don't you think so?

QUAKER MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

How Members of the Society of Friends Wed Each Other.

A young man and woman in this city, belonging to the Society of Friends, who have certified their intention of marriage at the City Hall, are having to undergo the regular form which the society imposes by waiting for the approval of the monthly meeting before they can be married, says the Worcester (Mass.) Gazette. The first stage in the proceedings is for them both to appear at the monthly meeting of the society, which is the only time that any business is done, and make known their intention. They both stand up before the meeting, and the man says: "With divine permission and friends' approbation, I declare my intention to take this woman (and he calls her name) to be my wife," and then they sit down. But the sanction of the society for the marriage requires more than this formality. It is never granted unless both parties are friends, and so if one of the young people is out of the fold they have to be married without the formal approval of the society.

When the approval is secured the couple marry themselves. The ceremony is appointed by the society to take place at some regular meeting, or else at one specially appointed. In the latter case it may be at a house where any one of the society has the right to be present. But the most interesting ceremony is that which takes place in the regular assembly of the society at the meeting house. Anyone who has been to a Quaker service knows the fashion of the meeting house, with its high seats in front, facing the rest of the meeting. The elders usually sit there, but when a couple of young people are going to get married they have to occupy this conspicuous place, and have to stand up bravely, without minister or elder, and marry themselves.

An old Quaker minister, who said he had seen six couples stand up in this way before the congregation, was asked why the young people had to do it alone, and he said it was a matter that did not concern an intermediate person, but rested between themselves and God. Then he described how the young man would stand up in that high-perched place in the meeting house along with his bride and, taking her hand, say: "In the presence of God and this assembly, I take thee, A. B., to be my wife, promising to be unto thee an affectionate and loving husband until the hand of the Lord by death shall separate us." The bride then speaks in a similar fashion.

At the end of this ceremony a minister prays or speaks, and then, when there is a pause and the spirit moves no one else, the meeting is adjourned. At the close of the meeting the marriage certificate, which is made of parchment, is brought forward, and anyone can sign it. A special law sanctions this marriage ceremony. This document, which amounts to the legal sanction of the marriage, is greatly prized among the descendants of Friends, so much so that the children often have similar marriage certificates made for themselves, though they may have been married outside of the society.

Since the recent Cuban loan was negotiated, the Bank of Spain has been in a critical condition. It seems that, in addition to the immense sums which it has furnished to the Government itself, it has advanced, one way and another, nearly $40,000,000 to people who subscribed for the loan, and may therefore be said to have found the major portion of the money subscribed. Besides this, the bank is a creditor to the Government under various heads to the extent of more than $250,000,000. Inasmuch as the capital fully paid up of the bank, together with its reserve fund, amounts to only $30,000,000, it will readily be seen that the strain to which this, the leading financial institution in Spain, is being subjected is tremendous, and cannot be continued much longer before disaster ensues.

AT STITTSVILLE!

The Town's Leading Merchant Laid Up

Rheumatism in various forms is one of the most common diseases there is. It arises generally from impure blood and a broken down system. In the limbs it is painful; in most of the internal organs dangerous, and in the heart usually fatal.

The experience of Mr. S. Mann, the well known general merchant of Stittsville, is interesting:

"Last winter I was badly afflicted with rheumatism. I decided to try Dr. Chase's Pills. To my surprise, I got immediate relief, and before I had used one box my affliction was gone. I was also troubled with biliousness for years, and at intervals of three or four weeks would be laid up with a severe headache and sick stomach. Since using Chase's Pills I have not had an attack of either.

"I may add that Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles and skin diseases in just as effective as Dr. Chase's Pills for blood troubles. I have a clerk who suffered terribly from bleeding piles. He tried Dr. Chase's Ointment and in a few days was completely cured."
