ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION
To Capt. J. N. McDonald From Mrs. McMillan and Family, Proprietors of the Morrell Hotel

Dear Mr. McDonald:—

It is with sincere regret we have learned of your dismissal from the position of Inspector of Dredges, and the consequent leaving Charlottetown and severing your connection with the Morrell Hotel, as one of our permanent boarders. Indeed we have been compelled to look on you as one of our household, as you always made everything so pleasant while with us the last three years, or since we took over this hotel.

We cannot allow you to go away without, in some way, expressing our appreciation of your sterling character, and Christian principle. In the ever-changing throng that must necessarily be found in a hotel, your influence has always been for good, and your kindness and thoughtfulness to one and all an inspiration.

We would ask you to accept the accompanying gift, not because of its intrinsic value, but as a small token of the esteem in which you are held by us, and we would extend to you, wherever your lot is cast, our kindest and best wishes for your future happiness.

(Sgd.) MRS. J. A. McMILLAN, HELEN McMILLAN, CLAUDE McMILLAN, JEAN COLES.
