RED ARMIES SWEEP INTO SOUTHWESTERN TIP OF KOREA

Truman Considers Increase In Income Taxes

Conference May Set Up Pattern Of Resistance

LONDON, July 24—(CP)—A series of conferences starting tomorrow may set a pattern for western resistance to further Communist expansion.

With the cold war sizzling hot in the Far East and threatening to boil up in other areas, representatives of the 12 Atlantic pact countries meet in Lancaster House to begin the job of transforming paper defence plans into military realities.

The conference is among the members of the Atlantic Pact's defence council—the "deputies" of treaty foreign ministers who last May were assigned the task of organizing military forces of pact countries.

One of their jobs at this first meeting will be to try to put real meaning into the term "balanced collective forces," involving some surrender of national sovereignty where necessary.

Canada's representative will be L. Dana Wilgress, Canada's high commissioner in London. A Canadian spokesman said it was not deemed necessary to send any officials from Canada for the conference. Britain's representative is Sir Frederick Hoyer-Millar, formerly minister at Britain's Embassy in Washington.

The meetings will be conducted against a setting of gathering gloom as reflected by British newspapers. The swift march of events in Korea, a statement by the former French Premier, Paul Reynaud, that Russia would meet little opposition in a race to Brest of Calais, threats of war against Yugoslavia have all drawn sombre comment.

The most responsible journals are at pains to stress that the western world can hope for little help from the peoples of southeast Asia, where Communism is often regarded as a lesser evil than "American Imperialism."

A typical comment appeared today in the Conservative Glasgow Herald, whose diplomatic correspondent assessed the current military odds as being "more heavily weighted against us than they were in 1939."

The correspondent said the west cannot expect much help on anything but a European battlefield, and on the continent of Europe the west is strong neither politically or militarily.

"It is not only the hysterical," he wrote, "who think that as between the swift death of war and the slow death of Communist rule, the latter is preferable on the ground that while there is life there is hope and also that as individuals many could escape in time."

Pallbearers Named For State Funeral

OTTAWA, July 24—(CP)—A corps of 39 honorary pallbearers has been named for the state funeral Wednesday of former Prime Minister Mackenzie King but nine of them will be absent when the body of the Canadian statesman is taken through Ottawa streets to the official church service.

The office of the Secretary of State, releasing details of the funeral tonight, announced the list of honorary pallbearers will be headed by Prime Minister St. Laurent and members of the cabinet. Others named include members of the judiciary, representatives of the Senate, and men who had close connections with Mr. King.

The body was taken tonight to the Hall of Fame almost under the Peace Tower of Canada's parliament buildings, to lie in state.

The carriage in the Peace Tower of the Parliament Buildings will play from 10 A.M. to 10:30 A.M. and from 1:30 to 2 P.M. tomorrow while the body lies in state and again on Wednesday in a last farewell to the man to whom its notes had a familiar ring.

It is expected that the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, and members of the cabinet, will pay their respects during the lying-in-state on Wednesday morning.

Members of the executive of the parliamentary press gallery, of which Mr. King was an honorary life member, will be invited to walk in the funeral procession and seats have been reserved for them in the church. Six press places have been reserved on the special train that will bear the body to Toronto.

Planks Call For More Socialism

LONDON, July 24—(CP)—Some of the 326 planks proposed by the rank and file for the Labor Party's platform, call on Britain to move closer to Russia, get out of the cold war and outlaw the atomic bomb.

Submitted to Labor Party chiefs before the Korean outbreak, the suggested resolutions were released for publication tonight. The majority centre on how to make Britain's government more socialist.

They will be considered at the annual Labor Party conference Oct. 2-6 when domestic and foreign policies will be outlined for the coming year in which a new general election may be held. Bolstering the government's slender parliamentary majority is expected to be one of the major problems to be tackled.

Only 15 of the resolutions were sponsored by trade unions—which control the overwhelming majority of votes in conference. Others said this indicated the trade unions appear to take a tolerant view of the government's recent actions.

No Immediate Danger Of Inflation In Canada

OTTAWA, July 24—(CP)—Worried about inflation? At the moment, said a government trade expert today, there is little need to worry until Canadian production of goods and services starts climbing by an additional $500,000,000.

And there is no indication that it will this year.

However, anything can happen between now and next December. A step-up in demand for production of goods and services beyond the gross national product market of $16,800,000,000 this year could bring runaway price inflation in its wake, the expert said.

That unprecedented total output of goods and services would be exactly $500,000,000 beyond the

Asks Congress For Ten Billion Dollars More

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—President Truman and congressional leaders today discussed whether to increase income taxes at once to help finance the Korean war.

There were some indications that action in Congress might follow shortly. It would be an emergency, stop-gap device pending the expected writing of a long-range tax law which the United States apparently faces in its costly worldwide defence against Communist conquest.

Meanwhile, Truman asked Congress today for $10,517,000,000 in new money to increase the armed forces by about 600,000 men and get the country in readiness for any new outbreak of fighting.

The proposed manpower increase would amount to nearly 50 per cent more than present strength of about 1,450,000 men.

Truman asked $10,486,976,000 additional in strictly military funds. In a letter to congressional leaders, the President also asked $20,000,000 for selective service and $10,000,000 for his own emergency fund.

His letter said the new appropriations are to meet the immediate situation in Korea, and "to provide for an early, but orderly, build-up of our military forces to a state of readiness designed to deter further actions of aggression."

Washington witnessed these other events as the U. S. swiftly changed over to a semi-war basis:

1. Congressional sources said that an immediate increase of 60 per cent is planned in the fighting power of the marine corps. Officers said this would mean some 57,000 men. The latest figures on marine personnel, nearly a month ago, showed 75,000.
2. House and Senate Banking Committees rapidly moved into hearings on President Truman's request for controls he deems necessary at this time to meet the economic requirements of the emergency. W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, said they would strike at profiteering.
3. President Truman appealed to Americans to report to the Federal Bureau of Investigation any evidence of espionage, sabotage or subversive activities.
4. Senator Tom Connolly (Dem. Tex.) said administration planners are considering using Marshall Plan money for European military projects, instead of economic development.

Final Preparations For State Funeral Completed

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 24—(CP)—Canada, with solemn dignity, prepared tonight to pay a final tribute to Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, the man who so largely shaped the nation's destiny for nearly half a century.

The bachelor statesman and former Prime Minister will be accorded an impressive state funeral Wednesday for which final plans were drafted at a cabinet meeting today.

Throughout tomorrow and until 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, the body of Mr. King, who died Saturday at the age of 75, will lie in state in the hall of fame of Canada's Parliament building.

The bier will be placed in the centre of the hall, almost under the Peace Tower. At each corner, relays of men from the Navy, Army and Air Force and Royal Canadian Mounted Police will stand constant guard.

Mrs. H. M. Lay, Mr. King's sister and closest surviving relative, will fly to Ottawa tomorrow to attend the funeral. Earlier, it had been reported that her physician had ordered her to remain at her home in Barrie, Ont., because of her health. However, her son-in-law, Group Capt. G. P. Dunlop, officer commanding R.C.A.F. station at Trenton, Ont., will fly to Barrie tomorrow to bring Mrs. Lay to Ottawa.

EN ROUTE TO JAPAN, July 24

—Flying to the other side of the globe to cover a "war in peacetime" is a far cry from the old battles of just a few years back. War corresponding at least for the takeoff on an assignment has certainly changed.

Today I'm heading for Japan, as the final step to Korea, in all the comfort that modern commercial aviation can provide. A four-engine aircraft, reclining plush seats, a steward and hot meals in the sky over the far reaches of the Pacific. There is not a sign of those unpalatable haversack rations of bully beef between dry hunks of bread that were standard fare for other campaign departures and which thousands of Canadian veterans will remember with a wry face.

This time you don't ride hudd-

U. S. Troops Dig Into Hills And Hold Line

TOKYO, July 25—(Tuesday)—(CP)—North Korean forces have swept nearly unopposed into the southwest tip of the Korean peninsula, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced early today.

A communique said tank and infantry teams of the invading northern armies had reached the South Korean naval base of Mokpo, almost at the southwestern tip of Korea. This put the invaders close to the southern coastal road leading to Pusan, major United Nations base.

The North Korean radio at Pyongyang claimed that Mokpo was already occupied.

The communique said Communist tanks leading the roving sweep down the west coast ran into opposition only from South Korean police.

American infantrymen and artillery dug into the rugged hills along a general 150-mile east-west line, held against everything the Reds threw at them.

The only "give" in the U.N. line was at its northernmost salient, the headquarters communique said. That was at Yongju, 50 miles inland from the east coast, where a South Korean division withdrew to more defensible positions two miles south of town.

Yongju is at the active tip of the front between the shattered east coast town of Yongdok—now under U.S. naval gunfire—and the mountain town of Yechon, which South Korean and American troops took last week.

Heaviest action, however, centred near Yongdok, 50 air miles southwest of Yechon.

The Yongdok defences, manned by the U.S. 1st cavalry division, are astride the vital highway and double-track railroad that leads southeast of the American supply port of Pusan.

On that front MacArthur reported the Reds hurled a tank-led attack at the U.S. First Cavalry Monday night. It was stopped cold. Three of the eight tanks were knocked out by superbazooka rockets and tank killer teams were

Body Recovered From Water

BALTIMORE, July 24—(CP)—The body of Frank Bennett, 38, of Sydney, N. S., was recovered yesterday from Baltimore harbor.

Bennett was a seaman on the S. S. Lakeside. Crew members of the police boat who hauled out the body said Bennett had fallen into the harbor a few hours earlier while his ship was docked at an ore pier.

Reports Of Sub Sightings Off Coast Unconfirmed

OTTAWA, July 24—(CP)—The Navy said today it has received seven separate reports of unidentified submarine sightings off Canada's Atlantic coast but neither an air-sea military search nor checks by intelligence officers have been able to confirm any of them so far.

A spokesman said it is quite possible a foreign sub is in that area.

The investigation, based on the realization it would be quite logical for Russia to send one or more subs into those waters, is proceeding. The first sightings came three weeks ago.

An official naval spokesman told reporters that developments with-

Body Recovered From Water

in the next day or so should do a lot to clear up the two strongest reports, one by a fisherman at Chance Harbor, N.B., that a sub nearly swamped his boat July 5, the other by a foreign trawler that put in from the Grand Banks off Newfoundland to report that a sub surfaced near it July 10.

The spokesman said an intelligence officer is due back here tonight or tomorrow with a report on the former. The fisherman's story—his name was Tiner—had discrepancies but it also could have been quite true. There were no British or American subs in that area, inside Canadian waters.

He said the Newfoundland incident might have involved the British submarine Astute, enroute home at that time after exercising with Canadian naval units. On July 10 the Astute would have been within 80 miles of the area where the unidentified sub was seen by the trawler. The trawler wasn't exactly certain where she was and the description sounded like the Astute.

The Astute was due in Britain yesterday. A check is being made to see whether she surfaced and whether she saw a trawler.

The spokesman indicated little credence is placed in four other reports which, like that from Chance Harbor, emerged from the Bay of Fundy. The fifth came from Cape North, the top tip of Cape Breton Island, but it reached the navy fourth hand and so far hasn't been checked.

The latest reports came last night from Saint John, N. B., and Grand Manan Island. Neither appeared to have much if any foundation. The first tallied entirely with a dredge.

Canada To Have New U. N. Leader Next Week

OTTAWA, July 24—(CP)—The leadership of Canada's permanent delegation at United Nations headquarters will change hands next week while the international organization is passing through one of the toughest phases of its career because of Korea.

Robert Gerald Riddell, 42, a native of Edmonton, is preparing to take up his new duties as permanent head of the Canadian delegation at Lake Success around Aug. 1. He has been special assistant to External Affairs Minister Pearson since last year.

At Lake Success, Mr. Riddell will take over from John W. Homes, 40, who will return to departmental headquarters to resume his role as head of its United Nations division.

It is reported that Douglas LePan, acting head of the U. N. division, will succeed Mr. Riddell as Mr. Pearson's aide.

Mr. Holmes was posted to Lake Success several months ago to fill in between the appointments of Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton and Mr. Riddell, the general's successor.

Mr. Riddell will become Canada's official mouthpiece in U. N. discussions in periods when Ottawa does not send down a special delegation. The next meeting of the general assembly is slated for September and he will be the principal adviser to the political and official delegation that will go down from here as well as being a delegate himself.

By Spencer Moosa
TAIPEI, Formosa, July 24—(AP)—The Chinese Nationalists reported tonight the Communists were bombarding the northeast corner of Quemoy Island and were sending junks for what might be a long-anticipated assault.

A defence ministry spokesman said Nationalist ground troops on the 50-square-mile island opposite the Red mainland, 100 miles west of Formosa, were adequate to cope with the expected attack.

(In Washington, a State Department official said the United States would not interfere if the Communists tried to invade Quemoy. He said President Truman's ban on fighting between the Chinese Nationalists and Communists applied to Formosa, Nationalist headquarters island, and the nearby Pescadore Islands.)

Huge Rocket Makes First Horizontal Test Flight

COCOA, Fla., July 24—(AP)—A huge German V-2 rocket carrying a smaller missile piggy-back made a thunderous climbing turn over the Atlantic today for the first successful horizontal flight of a guided long-range missile.

It was a preview of "push button" warfare at dizzying speed. The V-2 got up to 2,700 miles an hour, and the smaller nose-mounted missile, called the "Wac Corporal," went even faster—perhaps 5,000 miles an hour. Its performance is a military secret.

The two rockets rose in a burst of flame that brought the sound of a thunderclap.

From zero to 1,000 miles an hour was a matter of seconds. The two-stage projectile still spewed orange flame as it pierced a high cirrus cloud and disappeared. On the cloud an ominous black shadow appeared—the shadow of the vapor trail.

Hon. H. H. Cox, Minister of Public Works and Highways, will represent the Province of Prince Edward Island at the state funeral in Ottawa Wednesday for the late William Lyon Mackenzie King, former Prime Minister of Canada, it was announced yesterday by Premier J. Walter Jones.

Mr. Cox was chosen because he is a senior member of the Provincial Government and has sat continuously as a member of the Island Legislature for the past twenty three years, the longest period for any member of the present House.

He will leave Charlottetown today by plane enroute to Ottawa and will attend the funeral services in the Canadian capital for the late Mr. King. Mr. Cox will also go on the special train to Toronto where burial services for the late ex-Prime Minister will be held Thursday morning.

VANCOUVER, July 24—(CP)—M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the C.C.F., today denounced United States aid to the Chinese Nationalists.

"I am convinced," Mr. Coldwell told a press conference, "that military and police forces, while necessary, are not sufficient to meet the threat of Soviet aggression."

The causes of discontent in the world, especially in Asia, must be removed through raising the standards of living.
