

Another Cure for Diphtheria.

The Danvers (Mass) "Mirror" publishes another cure for diphtheria, as follows:

'Why don't they use onions? For goodness sake, why don't they use onions? Where do they live? I will go up there to day and tell them to use onions.' Such were the exclamations of our mother when we reported yesterday at dinner that a child of Mr. G. W. Dudley was dead, and the whole family, including himself, alarmingly sick with diphtheria. Mother was moved to these earnest and interested expressions by a firm belief that she knew several lives saved by the use of onions in diphtheria, one being our sister.

In these cases raw onions in a bandage, and beaten into a pulp, the cloths containing onions, piece and all, being then bound about the throat and well up over the ears. Renewals may be made as often as the mass begins to get dry.

In the cases noticed, the result was almost magical; deadly pain yielded in a short time to sleepy comfort.

We wish this remedy might have a wide enough trial to fully test its usefulness.

THE WIFE'S SECRET.—'I will tell you the secret of our happy married life,' said a gentleman of three score and ten. 'We have been married forty years; my bride was the belle of New York when I married, and though I loved her for herself, still a lovely flower is all the lovelier poised in an exquisite vase. My wife knew this, and true to her genuine refinement, has never, in all these forty years, appeared at the table or allowed me to see her less carefully or tastefully dressed than during the days of our honeymoon. Some might call this foolish vanity; I call it real womanliness. I presume I should have ceased to love had she followed the example of many others, and, considering the every-day life of home necessarily devoid of beauty, allowed herself to be careless of such small measures as that of dressing for her husband's eye; but love is increased when we are proud of the object loved, and to-day I am more proud of my beautiful wife, with her silvery hair and gentle face, than the young bride whose loveliness was the theme of every tongue. Any young lady can win a lover, but how few can keep them suck after years of married life. In all the little courtesies of life, in all that makes one attractive and charming, in thoughtfulness of others and forgetfulness of self, every house should be begun and continued. Men should be more careful to sympathize with and protect the wife than the bride—more willing to pick up her scissors, hand her the paper or carry her packages than if she were a young lady; and as no young woman would for a moment think of controlling the engagements and movements of a young gentleman, neither should she do so when he is her husband. If by making herself bright and attractive she fails to hold him, compulsion will only drive him further from her. I do not believe it possible to retain the friendship of any one demanding it. I do not believe it possible to lose it by being lovable.'

A Good Thing.
 German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in Medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Beware of medicines of similar names, lately introduced. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cents. Sample bottle, 10 cents.

Remedy for Hard Times.
 Stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style. Buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of running after expensive and quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, and makes the proprietors rich, but put your trust in the greatest of all simple pure remedies, Hop Bitters that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see better times and good health. Try it once. Read of it in another column.

SEMINARY FOR YOUNG LADIES.

VISITOR:
 The Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia

PRINCIPAL:
 The Rev. John Paddfield.

THIS SCHOOL offers, at very moderate cost, the advantages of a comfortable and pleasant home together with a thorough and refined education.

The course of instruction is the same as that of the best Schools in England and is founded upon the University Examinations for Women. Eight young ladies from this School passed the Local Examination of the University of King's College in June last. This is the only School in Canada that has passed pupils at a University Examination.

The number of pupils is limited, rendering the educational advantages of a large public school, each pupil is enabled to receive that individual care and oversight which is so important, and which cannot be given in a large establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Paddfield are assisted by a staff of four resident governesses, besides visiting masters.

Parisienne French is taught conversationally. There are two resident French Governesses.

References given to parents of pupils. For further particulars address the Principal.
