The state legislature of Kansas is now in session and a feature of the calendar, says the New York Times, is the number of "vacation" bills. These measures are for the vacation of the sites of towns and cities which, only a few years ago, were flourishing and promising communities, some of them either actual or prospective county seats.

Change of Railway Time Table.—Until further notice, the afternoon train for the West will leave Charlottetown at 3.30 p. m., standard time, and is scheduled to arrive in Summerside at 6.30 p. m. Was a Social.—One of the most successful socials of the season was that held in the Baptist Church last evening, under the auspices of the Baptist Young People's Association. A splendid literary and musical programme was carried out in a most satisfactory manner, after which the fairest justice was done to the refreshments provided for the occasion. There was a large attendance.

New Yorkers Have Coats-of-Arms.—You may have if you will, a richly embellished coat-of-arms for $50 or $60, and the jeweler who attends to the printing of such things will ask no unpleasant questions as to the origin of the crest or device. It is worth while in any company of half a dozen well-to-do New Yorkers to bring up the discussion of heraldry, just for the sake of seeing how many make pretensions to a coat of arms. The number among persons who do not emblazon such things on their carriages or their paper.—New York Sun.

OBITUARY.

By the death of Roderick MacNeill, a most promising field of brilliant achievement was cut off. Born some twenty-seven years ago, the son of Mr. James MacNeill, a painstaking and conscientious teacher, one departed friend inherited the precious legacy of an earnest, noble and God-fearing character. In 1884 he won a government scholarship at the Charlottetown high school, which he attended for two years, and left with an honorable record. In 1888 he won a junior exhibition at Dalhousie University, and in 1890 a senior bursary at the same distinguished institution. He took the honors course in classics, and was graduated a B. A. in 1892. Since his graduation he taught in some of our best High Schools, where, in spite of failing health he labored hard to inspire in his pupils a love for, and interest in their studies, which he held so very dear.

He was compelled in June last by continued ill-health to give up teaching. We fondly hoped that a few months' rest would restore him to health. But worst Fate said no. He steadily sank, and in January passed from earth at his home, surrounded by his numerous friends.

He was of a deeply religious nature, and was to be seen rather in his Christian conduct than in loud profession. Brought up in a pious Presbyterian home he never, like many shallow-minded students, gave up any of the eternal verities of the Christian religion.

DAIRMEN, Attention!

Of the Cheese and Butter Factories in operation in 1894, we furnished, to the satisfaction of all concerned, the necessary apparatus for the following:—Winnipeg, Hampton, Tryon, Crapaud, Grand River, Dunk River, Mount Stewart, and Vernon River Bridge.

In the summer of 1894 we made nine Cheese Vats (each holding from 650 to 700 gallons of milk), and two Butter Vats (each averaging 400 gallons of milk); no complaints were made—satisfaction given.

From our large experience in the past we are now better than ever prepared to meet the wants of Dairymen. We guarantee satisfaction, and respectfully solicit the patronage of those who are contemplating the erection of Cheese or Butter Factories.

Our make of Vats is superior to all others, and our fifteen and twenty gallon Cans are the best and cheapest in the province.

Terms to suit purchasers.

It is but human that we should feel keenly the departure of such a true and great-souled character. But we mourn not as those who have no hope. Have we not every assurance to believe that his pure soul holds converse with the great and good of all ages, apostles, barbs, martyrs and philosophers, whose works were all so precious to him here?

His life was gentle, and the elements So mixed in him, that Nature might stand up And say to all the world, This was a man.

PERSONAL.

Thomas Haram, Quebec, registered at the Queen Hotel this forenoon.

Thomas Douglass, Halifax, registered at the Hotel Davies to-day.

Mr. M. J. Macdonald, editor of the Guardian, leaves this evening en route to Fredericton, N. B., on an interesting mission.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, the present premier of Canada, was once a journalist, and so were the late Sir John Thompson and Alexander Mackenzie, two of his predecessors in the premiership.

Mr. George Stanley, of Stanley Bros., left here last evening en route to the Old Country on a business trip. Messrs Arthur Weeks, of W. A. Weeks & Co., and Samuel A. McLeod, of Moore & McLeod, leave to-night on a similar visit. Bon voyage.

Miss Geraldine Fitzgerald, daughter of Judge Fitzgerald will be a passenger on the train to Cape Traverse to-night en route to England to complete her education. She will sail in the Labrador from Halifax on Saturday.

Queen Victoria is said to have in preparation another volume of her personal memoirs. If this one includes the events of the present generation it will be looked for with deep interest, for Her Majesty's acquaintance with notable men and women has been very extensive and varied.

Mr. Goldwin Smith, at the press dinner the other night, mentioned the interesting fact that of the original staff of writers on the Saturday Review, Lord Salisbury, Sir William Harcourt and himself are the only survivors. Mr. Smith's connection with journalism began over forty years ago, and he has kept it up with a good deal of continuity ever since.

Arrivals at the Bevere Hotel yesterday: L. C. Hayden, Vernon River; Thos McLean, Eldon; Mrs. Lamont, do; John Patchel, Victoria; Geo Francis, Tryon; John G. Ilespie, Spring Road; Angus McKinnell do; Jas Smith, do; John Horne, Winton Road; W. M. Robertson, Sackville; N. B. S. L. Wyand, Cavendish Road; Willie Stewart, Vernon River; L. Gillis, Orwell; John McLeod, do; J. T. McLeod, do; L. E. Mann, Nine Mile Creek.

Mr. Thomas Swinyard, a well known railway and telegraph authority, has contributed to the daily papers an interesting suggestion in connection with the much-talked-of annexation of Newfoundland to Canada. The Allan steamer, in summer, sail through the ten-mile-wide Strait of Belleisle between Labrador and Newfoundland, and though they are not fast sailors they make the voyage from the Straits to Ireland in from four to four and a half days. Mr. Swinyard suggests the construction of a railway across the island from St. John's to Belle Isle, terminating at some good and permanently accessible harbor.

A Little Talk On Drugs.

Forty years ago there would have been no need of calling attention to the necessity of pure drugs. In the present age of competition, cheating has crept into almost every business.

The drug business of to-day is no exception. Our experience as Drug-gists tells us that in order to build up a successful business we must handle the right goods, and sell them right. We have stayed by the plan, and it is surely proving a right one. If you don't need drugs to-day, some day you may; and when you do, remember
