

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 19, 1893.

Our Sidewalks and Streets.

It is pleasing to note a decided improvement in the condition of our streets. The chairman of the Street Committee (Councilor Beer), and the lately-appointed City Surveyor (Mr. Dalziel) deserve credit for this activity. We have not noticed this year the removal of any considerable quantity of dirt from the gutters to the middle of the streets, and we trust that this method of mending our streets has been abandoned forever. The aim of our City Fathers ought now to be to make fewer repairs and more permanent way. The extravagance of spreading damp dust upon the streets to fill our houses and stores when it becomes dry and the wind rises, is more than the city can bear. On the same principle, we ought to replace the planks on our sidewalks with stone or cement. We cannot afford new plankways every six or seven years. Permanent sidewalks are, in the end, cheaper as well as better. The Council might well, we think, require the construction of stone or cement sidewalks on our principal business streets, and tax the owners of the property with the cost. This is the plan adopted in towns of the States in which smooth cement sidewalks are a prominent and attractive feature, adding incalculably to the comfort of their citizens. There is no question that the value of property all over Queen Square, for instance, would be materially enhanced if surrounded by sidewalks such as those in front of Victoria Row; and if so, why not have such sidewalks at the expense of the property owners?

If Charlottetown is to keep pace with the age—and its property owners ought to stand united upon that point—attention ought to be given to our streets and sidewalks.

Notes and Comments.

—The admissions to the Chicago World's Fair for the first month of its existence were 1,774,252. For the first month of the Paris World's Exhibition the admissions were 2,540,000. These figures are not greatly out of proportion to the size of the respective cities. It will in all probability be found at the close of the Chicago Fair that the attendance will be much smaller than was that at the French exhibition. It is the people living nearby that send the millions to such sights, and there are many more people living nearby Paris than nearby Chicago.

—From present appearances the peach crop of the Delaware and Chesapeake peninsula will be very large, and the fruit fine; and the attention of dealers and consumers is invited to these facts. If proper facilities of transportation are offered, and proper arrangements for sale and distribution are made in time, every town within a thousand miles can be supplied with good fruit at reasonable prices. That this may be done, dealers at all accessible points are invited to prepare at once to handle the crop.

—The St. John Telegraph remarks that though the duty is very high on this class of goods, the United States imports more than $1,000,000 worth of pickles last year. The Republic produces all the materials for pickles of every kind. The same is in large measure true of Canada, and the pickle making industry would seem to be capable of considerable development here. Our farmers and market gardeners can grow any amount of cucumbers, cauliflower, and other pickle material, and the processes of manufacture and bottling are simple and inexpensive. We may add that one of the most profitable crops grown by farmers in the middle states of the Union is that of small green cucumbers for pickles.

THE COBAN.—The steamer Coban, Capt. Robert Fraser, arrived here from Montreal this morning at two o'clock, with a general cargo and the following passengers: Mrs. J. Squaring, Mrs. F. N. Brown, W. N. Grant, J. S. Bishop, Wm. G. Bishop, B. Rogers, G. Rooms, and G. Sell. The Coban will sail for St. John's, Nfld., via Sydney, this afternoon about three o'clock with Mrs. Blach and Miss Ellis as passengers to St. John's, and a cargo which will include the following: 1000 bags oats, shipped by Carvell Bros; 118 bags oats by Wm. Boyler; 2 horses by R. Fraser, and 1 sheep by D. Rogers and John Horn; 74 each by Barret Henderson, and 21 by Geo. Wheatley; 20 bills leather, by Hagan Bros; 18 bags potatoes and 2 bags turnips by P. Duffy.

SUPREME COURT.—The June term of the Supreme Court will open to-morrow week. The most important case before the Court will be that of William Larter, sent up on a charge of attempted abortion. We understand that Mr. Davies, Q. C., has been retained in conjunction with Mr. W. S. Stewart to defend Larter. The Shaw perjury case also comes up for trial this term.

ADVANCE IN COAL.—It is stated that coal now costs from 10 to 20 cents per ton more at the port of shipment in Cape Breton than before the combine was formed.

ST. DUNSTON'S COLLEGE.—The annual distribution of prizes at the above institution will take place in the College Hall on Wednesday afternoon, at two o'clock.

NEW STORE.—R. B. Norton & Co. are now doing business in their new store, Queen Street.

A MOST ENJOYABLE time is assured all those who attend the Moonlight Excursion on Thursday evening next.

Pure Paris Green.—For sale at Geo Carter & Co's Seed Store, day law.

Ladies' and children's tan shoes, newest styles at Goff Bros.

All orders by telephone promptly attended to at Goff Bros.

Hotel Acadia.

The Hotel Acadia, so long known as the Lorne, was opened last Saturday. Mr. Hill the courteous and efficient proprietor was completely taken by storm by some thirty guests who visited the house on Saturday and Sunday. It is, indeed, a treat to spend a day at such a place as the Acadia, everything is so refreshingly neat and clean, the attendance perfect and the table one that cannot be surpassed in the Province.

The old Lorne is, indeed, a thing of the past. The present house will be so changed when everything is put in order that no one would recognize the place. A large and broad verandah extending around three sides of the house has been added, making a charming promenade, where many a quiet little lele a etc will no doubt be held. The house has been tastefully furnished throughout, the walls have been most becomingly papered, and the floors suitably carpeted and stained. The painters when they have finished, will have greatly improved the inside as well as the outside of the house by giving it a thorough coat of paint. Mr. Hill expects to have all this done by the 1st of July, when an extra staff of competent clerks and waitresses, together with a band of musicians will arrive from the States.

The house takes a front place amongst the seaside resorts of this Province, although at present it is by no means the house it will be in a week or ten days, by which time the workmen will have put their finishing touches upon it and the many pictures, decorations, and pieces of bric-a-brac will be placed in position. Mr. Hill has done wonders in the way of improving the grounds adjoining the hotel. He has built a splendid bowling alley, and converted the grove into a place where a charming afternoon may be spent during the hot summer weather, a number of rustic seats and swings being found in convenient nooks.

Among the guests, a list of whom will be found in another column, was a party of fishermen, who made the run out on Saturday, returning this morning. They report the roads very good though a little dusty, on account of the very dry weather. They made the run home leisurely in an hour and three quarters.

We trust that Mr. Hill will be most abundantly recompensed for all the expense and trouble he has gone to in fitting out this charming house. We think he need have no fears on that score, a large number of rooms being already engaged for the summer.

Inspiration of Scripture.

THIS was the subject of the sermon of retiring moderator Caven at the opening of the General Assembly, now in session. Principal Caven is reported to have said:

"We observe, again, that in all its parts, from beginning to end, Scripture gives right instruction and is altogether trustworthy. That which is in progress in the unfolding of God's character and purposes in the Scriptures is a familiar truth. To every one who studies the Old Testament chronologically, and keeps before him the specific purpose of its several parts, this progress is manifest. He can, as it were, observe with his own eye the brightening of the sky. But in reading the New Testament 'the darkness is past, and the true light now shines.' As the night yielded to the dawn so the dawn has passed into noonday. But false or wrong teaching, the Bible never gave. It cannot teach falsehood. 'The words of the Lord are pure words, as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times.'—(Ps. xli. 6) In no age of the world, in no stage of society, will God mislead His creatures. The light vouchsafed in earlier times may be dim, but it is real light, and suited in its degree to period and conditions. Dark indeed was the old dispensation when compared with the brightness of the new. Imperfect was that dispensation compared with the harmonious completeness of the new. But we know that He who is evermore wise and good adapted the earlier economy in everything to the ends which it was intended to serve, and a thing is good when it properly serves its end. Our Lord abolished the ceremonial law, but he did so by fulfilling it. He rejected Pharisaical glosses on Scripture—but he never misconstrued Scripture itself, or intimates disagreement with it. If Moses suffered the Jews to put away their wives (a thing which was not from any declining and must not continued) 'the hardness of their heart' justified the temporary permission. Not one word in the Lord's teaching discredits any part of the Old Testament, but steadfastly asserts its divine origin and infallibility asserted.

Prince Roland does not seem to cause much excitement in Boston. One of the papers disposed of him in the following: "There is a quiet, unpretentious looking man, with an unpretentious black moustache, to be seen about the Vendome just now. It is Prince Roland Bonaparte, heir to the throne of France."

The arrivals at the Hotel Acadia on Saturday and Sunday were: L. L. Beer, Mrs. Beer, Harold Beer, Edgar G. Beer, Miss Lowden, Mrs. C. F. Cogan, Mrs. B. Hertz, Miss Gertie Cogan, Frank Hertz, Arthur Peters, F. W. Hyndman, W. C. Hobkirk, Geo. J. Rogers, J. B. Dawson, R. M. Young, W. L. S. Rickland, C. A. Hyndman, Thos. Hyndman, H. H. Hyndman, Thos. D. Kansas fall wheat is turning out in many places only three bushels to the acre. This is trying for the Kansans, but hopeful for the farmers of other regions. It indicates the probability of better prices for spring wheat raisers, and they are needed.

Grand Trunk Railway.

MONTREAL, June 19.

The Star cable says: "The report from Montreal that Gould, Forget, Molayre and others were negotiating for the controlling interest in the Grand Trunk Railway has been published here. Some of the city men profess to believe that it will result in something in the way of changes as indicated. But there is a difference of opinion at that point. The Grand Trunk stocks certainly are rising in price."

President Carnot Dying.

PARIS, June 19.

President Carnot is sinking rapidly. There is no hope of his recovery. His death is only a question of time.

General Telegraphic News.

OTTAWA, June 16.—The high commissioner has sent a letter to Hon. Mr. Angers stating that complaints are received from Liverpool and Glasgow that old and worn-out animals are being sent over from Canada to those ports, which were hardly fit for food and not worth more than the expense incurred with their transport. Sir Charles thinks every care should be taken to insure that none but suitable animals be shipped from Canada, and also condemns shippers for sending too many cattle to one port, to arrive about the same time. This causes a glut in the market and a drop in prices.

OTTAWA, June 16.—An order in council has passed providing that vessels of British register engaged in the coasting trade of Canada must be inspected under Canadian law unless they possess a certificate of inspection from Lloyd's register for the current year. In the latter event Lloyd's certificate will be accepted.

CANOE, June 16.—The fishing schooner Sams, of Lunenburg, Capt. Oxner, which arrived this morning from the banks, reports that on Wednesday last two dories containing four men strayed away from the vessel while hauling their trawls and have not been seen since. The weather was very foggy at the time. The captain is in hopes that they have either made the land or been picked up by another vessel.

PARIS, June 16.—The court of session, on the appeal of Ferdinand DeLesseps, Charles DeLesseps, Fontaine, Cotta and Eiffel, convicted of fraud in connection with the Panama Canal Company, rendered a decree yesterday quashing the sentences on the ground that the statutes of limitation covered the offenses charged, and that the indictments on which the prisoners were tried were irregular. They will in consequence be given their liberty.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 16.—The church of Chudoy Monastery, within the walls of Kremlin, was recently robbed of a vast amount of plate, money and gems, valued at between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 roubles. To-day all the monks belonging to the monastery were arrested. A search of the cells occupied by the monks revealed that they had perpetrated the robbery. This crime is punishable in Russia with the most severe penalties.
