

Five Men in One—King George VI is Much-Uniformed Monarch

Man of many titles and uniforms is George VI, by the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India. Pictures above show him in five of his costumes. Left to right, as admiral of the fleet, in formal attire, in morning clothes, as field marshal of the army, and as an officer of the Cameron Highlanders. The King probably will wear these and other uniforms on his visit.
