Jr. Farmers Consider Having Carnival Booth

SUMMERSIDE — John Dekker presided at the regular monthly meeting of the East Prince Junior Farmers Association in Summerside.

After considerable discussion it was tentatively decided to erect a booth at the Lobster Carnival instead of a float.

The secretary-treasurer was asked to write the Junior Farmers Federation for a grant toward the cost of constructing the booth. Possibly bees and chickens will be among the items on display should the booth become a reality.

Secretary June Hutchinson read a letter from the P. E. I. Junior Farmers Federation regarding the revision of the constitution. The letter was forwarded with the hope that the East Prince Junior Farmers could be prepared with suggestions when the federation meets near the first of May.

Alan Palmer, agriculture representative for Prince encouraged the members to enter the forthcoming pasture competition. The fields will be judged twice during the summer and will be scored on a point system. Prize money will be given by three sponsoring organizations to the extent of $350.

There must be 20 entries from each county to insure the success of the competition. Entries close May 15th.

Driving License Suspension Is Not Provided For In 'Code'

MONTREAL (CP) — A ruling by Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure that the Canadian Criminal Code does not provide for suspension of a driver's licence for failing to stop after an accident has raised a stir in Montreal police and law circles.

The justice made the ruling Wednesday on an appeal by William Boyce, who was fined $50 and had his licence suspended in municipal court on the charge of failing to stop after an accident.

The decision by Mr. Justice Lazure upheld the fine but quashed the suspension.

A veteran traffic officer said: "This means we have been deprived of one of our greatest weapons against hit-run drivers."

"A fine means little to the average driver. If he faces loss of his permit, however, he'll think twice before leaving the scene of an accident."

VIEWED WITH DISMAY Other unofficial comments from court sources also indicated officials view the ruling with some dismay.

Mr. Justice Lazure said Boyce was convicted under Article 2 of Section 231 of the Criminal Code. It states that anyone involved in an accident and fails to stop his vehicle and give his name and address is guilty of an offence.

But the Criminal Code's Section 245, which lists offences for which a permit can be suspended, made no mention of the article.

Mr. Justice Lazure noted that the suspension of Boyce's licence was ordered under the Quebec Motor Vehicle Act—providing a three-month suspension for failure to stop after an accident—but said the Criminal Code supercedes the provincial act.

Miners' Sympathy Walkout Said Threatened At Wabana

BELL ISLAND, Nfld. (CP)—A steelworkers union spokesman predicted Thursday that if the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation shuts down its Wabana No. 6 mine here May 1, other miners will walk out in sympathy.

President D. I. Jackman of the Bell Island local of the United Steelworkers of America (CLC) said the walkout would paralyze operations that employs about 2,250 people on this "iron" island 13 miles from St. John's, Nfld. in Conception Bay.

Dosco announced several months ago the mine which employs 573 men would be closed May 1 because of poor world markets. Mr. Jackman said if that happens another 1,000 men may walk out.

Of 12,000 people on the island, about 7,000 live in the town of Wabana which depends entirely on mining.

of being able to look forward to the future.

"If the walkout takes place," Mr. Jackman said, "it will also include the pump men." This means that the mines—which run far under the sea—will flood and the whole operation jeopardized.

move more Nova Scotia coal into the Ontario market provides an increase to $4.50 from $2.25 a ton in the maximum subsidy on coal trans-shipped through Quebec.

The announcement said the Nova Scotia government will share the increased cost of the subsidies, paying 20 per cent of this up to $500,000.

The announcement quoted Wilbur E. Uren, chairman of the Dominion Coal Board, as saying the increases are designed to promote movement of 2,500,000 tons of Nova Scotia coal to Quebec and Ontario.

ESTIMATED COST

Total cost is estimated at $12,444,000 or an average $4.97 a ton.

Mr. Uren was quoted as saying about 850,000 of the 2,500,000 tons will go to Ontario destinations—about 260,000 tons more than Nova Scotia marketed in that province last year.

Thursday's move, forecast in an announcement March 17 by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, follows strong Nova Scotia requests for heavier federal aid to market a record coal stockpile in the province which had grown to 1,200,000 tons.

Some 4,100 Cape Breton miners were laid off for 40-day periods by mine closures ordered by Dominion Coal Company, a subsidiary of Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation.
