Municipalities Face Growing Money Worries

MONTREAL. (CP)—Canadian towns and cities are finding it harder than ever to balance their books. A report issued Friday by the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities said municipal costs are going up all the time, and revenue sources aren't flexible enough to meet the increase. The report, which deals with municipal and inter-government finance, will be discussed by the Canadian and United States mayors at the International Municipal Congress in Montreal next week. Crux of Problem Crux of the problem, the report said, is that not only do materials and labor cost more, but new urban and suburban communities call for additional services. New building has provided Canadian towns and cities with a higher revenue in property taxes, but not enough to fill the gap, and the towns' and cities' tax sources are not as flexible or sensitive as those of the provincial or federal governments. "This lends force and argument to the recurrent demands of municipal representatives for an early examination by the federal and provincial governments of the very real financial problems that municipalities are facing," the report said. "The main tax source of the municipalities does not respond to economic influences as quickly or in the same magnitude as other forms of taxes which are geared to productivity of business or income." Twenty years ago towns and cities collected in real property taxes more than double what was taken from Canadians in personal income and corporation taxes by other tax authorities. Today property taxes account for only 8.6 per cent of the total. Only the report said, the percentage share of total government revenue collected by municipalities fell from 39 per cent in 1930 to 11.9 per cent in 1951. Provincial legislation restricted municipalities to raising only sufficient revenue to meet current budget requirements. "This means that they must finance on the basis of a balanced budget each year and this must be accomplished in large part by a rate of taxation imposed on taxable real property," the report said. Tuna Tournay Anglers Still Waiting For Fish

BY KINGSLEY BROWN JR. Canadian Press Staff Writer WEDGEPORT, N. S. (CP)—Wary tuna stayed clear of the hooks Friday in the second day of the 10th International Tuna Tournament that saw many of the world's best anglers try waters 20 miles at sea in a desperate attempt to break the jinx. Already the 158-pounder landed on opening day Thursday has been dubbed the Mighty Mite because another day like Friday would see the Sharp Trophy presented to Argentina, whose team captain, Pablo Bardin, landed the fish in 16 minutes. The baby bluefin, the only catch, was caught on Soldier's Rip, the mile-wide stretch of turbulence where anglers on 20 blue high powered boats trolled and drifted their herring and mackerel baits without getting a strike. The other 10 boats, one from each team, which Thursday fished in Lobster Bay at the mouth of the paleid Tuskat river, tried their luck near Mud Island, eight miles seaward from the Rip, which is 12 miles from this Acadian village. It was the first time the waters were fished during a tournament. The mysterious turn left the Rip when a hurricane swept up the Atlantic seaboard Monday stampeding schools of herring and mackerel to cleaner offshore waters. The Rip was made murky by sand and mud churned up from the shoal's bottom. Tuna feed on these fish, which guides claim leave the Rip to keep sand out of their gills. Competing are the British Commonwealth, The Netherlands, Cuba, Mexico, the United States, Venezuela, Chile, France, Brazil, and Argentina. Cuba is the defending champion. The Commonwealth team has members from Canada, England, Bermuda and South Africa. It began at 5 p.m. Wednesday when the 148 Sons of Freedom roiled from Polatka aboard a CPR prison train, charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency by nude parading. It continued Friday night throughout their long, bizarre arraignment in a tiny labor hall in suburban Burnaby. The Doukhobors, 71 women and 77 men, ranging in age from girls in saddle oxfords and bobby sox to aged men with long white beards, took their hunger strike with them at midnight Thursday behind the high iron gates of Oakalla. "They have an arrangement among themselves," an official of the warden's office said. "The very old get a little soup to keep them going." LONDON (CP)—A new dartboard has appeared in some London pubs, where dart-throwing has been popular for many years. This one flashes a beer advertisement every time a bull's eye is scored.

Defeat Curranites

(Continued from page 6) The Curranites scored all their runs in the first half of the third frame on two hits, four walks, a hit batsman and an error. Joe Dalton opened the Summerside rally by drawing a walk and went to second when Johnny Whelan also drew a base on balls. Both runners scored minutes later when Coke Grady smashed a double into right field. Carson then issued a walk to Buckley. Grady and Buckley raced across the plate when Forbes Kennedy threw into the outfield while attempting to catch Buckley stealing second. For the last six innings it was a tense pitching duel between Carson and Kearns. Carson gave up the only hit in that interval and it was a single to Buckley that bounded into left field in the fifth. Carson whiffed 14 batters but had a little trouble with his control as he walked eight men. Kearns sent eight men down swinging and Buckley five. Buckley walked two batters and Kearns four. Second, baseman Johnny Whelan was elected from the game in the eighth inning by his base judge Glen Matheson. His dismissal caused a controversy as coach Johnny Carroll of the Curranites debated the call. The Curranites, their backs against the wall, tried desperately to haul the game out of the fire in the ninth. Buckley started things moving by drawing a base on balls and it marked the fourth time in five tries that Buckley reached base during the contest. Carson whiffed Kearns and forced Maurice Cannon to fly out to short as he came within Matheson, E. MacNeill.

U. S. Wins Davis Cup Matches

MONTREAL. (CP)—The United States walked away with the opening singles matches of the Canada-United States Davis Cup tennis tournament Friday. Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, gaining a 2-0 lead with victories over Henri Rochon of Montreal and Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver. The Americans never ran into any real trouble in their matches, although Rochon forced Trabert, U.S. national singles champion, into extra games in the third set of his match. Trabert downed Rochon 6-2, 6-3, 6-1, while Seixas defeated Main 6-1, 6-1, 6-0. Friday's results give the U.S. a chance to clinch the North American zone final Saturday if Seixas and Trabert can take the doubles against Main and Paul Wiley of Vancouver.

148 Doukhobors On Hunger Strike

VANCOUVER. (CP)—A group of 148 Doukhobors, praying and singing in the nude inside their huts, awaited in Oakalla prison farm Friday night for the "message from God" that will end their 48-hour hunger strike. "We will know when to eat when the time comes," spokesman John Kominoff said. "A message from God will tell us." The strike began at the tent village of Polatka, on a stretch of barren ground in the Slooan valley, 39 miles northwest of Nelson, B.C. It began at 5 p.m. Wednesday when the 148 Sons of Freedom roiled from Polatka aboard a CPR prison train, charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency by nude parading. It continued Friday night throughout their long, bizarre arraignment in a tiny labor hall in suburban Burnaby. Expect No Cut In Defence Budget

By DAVE MCINTOSH Canadian Press Staff Writer OTTAWA. (CP)—Next year's defence budget is expected to call for about the same amount of money as this year's—around $2,000,000,000—, informed sources said Friday. This was the general outlook given by Prime Minister St. Laurent during the summer election campaign, and officials said there is no evidence to contradict that view now. Pressure will probably be put on the cabinet to cut defence spending. Some other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are talking along those lines. But any reduction in Canada probably would mean only an infinitesimal saving to the individual taxpayer.

Holmans Win

Continued from page 6 ter with the tie-breaking run. M.C.A. once again drew up on even terms in the seventh. With one out, Lorne Hennessey got two bases on an error in left field. He stole third and came home on a passed ball. The final run of the game was scored in the eighth. Simmons led off with a single to right. Gay fanned, but J. Grady went to first on a pass, and Joe Bernard's clean single to left scored Simmons with the winning run. Bernard and Grady both made nice catches in the centre garden, and Des Trainer handled some difficult throws to the first sack.
