

March of protest!

Roughly 860 people marched on the Provincial Buildings on October 14 in what was the major event of Labour's Day of Protest on P.E.I. The demonstration was organized provincially by the PEI Federation of Labour in response to the C.L.C's call for a day of demonstration across the country against the federal government's policy of price and wage controls.

At UPEI the Day of Protest was marked by maintenance and electrical workers staying off the job for a half-day. Both labour unions on campus, C.U.P.E. and I.B.E.W. were strong supporters of the Day of Protest. On October 12 the Student Council after hearing spokesmen from the Labour Federation passed a resolution supporting the federation's actions but leaving it to the individual student to decide on an appropriate course of action, for Oct. 14.

Accounting for our smaller population the Day of Protest actions on PEI were as successful, for organized labour as they were in any of the other provinces. Fear of losing a day's wages or breaking a labour contract had a great effect on the number of people participating in the Day of Protest.

Council passes personnel recommendations

Campus Police and Fallfest were among the major items discussed at last Tuesday night's marathon student council meeting. It was the second council meeting of the year and lasted more than three hours.

Terry Parsons, controller for S.U. reported on this year's Campus Police Force and made a number of proposals including a 40¢ pay raise across the board for the CPs. Council however, felt that the raise was not necessary. A motion by Paul Currie put an end to free admission to S.U. events for CPs and it was decided that the wording of the policy concerning barring students for causing a disturbance be changed from a maximum of 1 week to a minimum of 1 week as it was pointed out that many events are held on a weekly basis only.

After much discussion on Fallfest and the costs and admission charges it was decided that the gym be left set up for the duration of Winter Carnival, thus cutting down on costs. A motion was put forth by Percy Downe to the affect that the money made at Fallfest be used to offset Winter Carnival costs. This motion was withdrawn after much discussion.

Bob Crockett from the Federation of Labour spoke to council concerning the Oct. 14 Day of Protest and council decided they would support it on a voluntary individual basis only.

The allocation of Friday afternoon pub space in the Panther Lounge was discussed and it was decided that it would be open to different groups on a first come first served basis. Paul Currie, S.U. vice president, gave a Senate report and the pinball machines in the Barn and the Council on University Life were discussed.

All of the Personnel Board's recommendations were approved by council at the meeting Tuesday Oct. 12. Approved were:

UPEI blood donor clinic

WANT TO KNOW HOW TO LIE DOWN ON THE JOB?

BE A BLOOD DONOR

Wednesday Oct. 27th
2:30-4:30
7:00-9:00

Quota 240

Our normal quota of 360 has been cut this time because we are only having two sessions as opposed to the regular three. This doesn't mean we want less people to come out, we haven't met our quota yet. This time however it should give us the opportunity to go over the top.
