Centennial Decorating Proposals Approved

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

Town centennial committee decorating and lighting projects were approved at a town council caucus meeting in the town hall Monday night.

The projects approved are as follows:

Welcome signs at the entrance of the town on both Water Street East and West, Granville Street and Central Street.

The signs, approximately eight feet high and 12 feet wide, will have raised lettering and will be lighted. They will be situated in a landscaped area which will include a flower bed.

The second project will include new lighing for Memorial Park where the memorial fountain is being erected.

At present there are four lights illuminating the park. These lights will be replaced by saucer-type fixtures on decorative standards. The wiring will be placed underground.

Two flower pots will be installed on each of the 17 light standards between the tracks on Water Street East and West with flowers for each pot.

Wooden plaques with the centennial P.E.I. crest will be hung on the 77 poles extending from the McEwen Road on Water Street East to the St. Eleanors boundary on Water Street West. These plaques are to be 3½ feet high and one foot wide and 73 additional plaques will be put up in other parts of town, a committee spokesman said yesterday, possibly on Notre Dame, Granville and other streets.

One hundred 60-foot pennants are also being purchased to be strung in various parts of the town.

Another project approved at the meeting was the building of a centennial float. Little information could be obtained on this project yesterday but it was believed that no design had been decided on as yet. It was understood however, that the float would be available for appearances in Charlottetown as well as Summerside.

It was also announced at the session that a meeting between the town council and members of the Public Utilities Commission will be arranged for late this month in Summerside to discuss the proposed town water rates.

The meeting had originally been set for Jan. 16 but a special council meeting had already been set for that date.

AT AGRICULTURE FEDERATION MEETING

15 New Universities Spark PWC Interest

Prince of Wales College graduates because scholastic standards have been kept high are accepted without question into mainland universities, where they must go to finish their higher education, declared Dr. Frank MacKinnon in addressing the First Baptist Laymen's Association last night.

The principal of the college said this leads to the desire to expand Prince of Wales College to a degree-granting university.

With 15 new universities chartered in Canada last year, it is only reasonable that such a step should be taken for PWC which has the required accommodation, he continued.

He referred to the brief prepared by a citizens' committee which was presented to the government requesting legislation to put the college on an university level divorced from government control.

The speaker was thanked by E. D. MacPhail and the president urged all those who had not signed the petition requesting government action regarding PWC to do so as the document is to be presented to the provincial government shortly.

Dr. MacKinnon in his address detailed some of the college's long history from its founding in 1801, which makes it one of the oldest in Canada.

The meeting of the laymen's association was the annual one and Douglas MacKenney was elected president. Reports on the year's activities were heard.

Other officers elected were: past president, Sidney Burhoe; vice-president, William Meggison; secretary-treasurer, Ross Affleck; directors, Eric MacNeill, Les Gillespie and Warren Robinson.

The camp representative is Windsor Burhoe and the nominating committee consisted of Dan Bell, Ken MacKenzie and William Munroe.

The dinner was served by the Princess Elizabeth group of the church convened by Mrs. Mabel MacLean. Grace was said by George Lewis and the song leader was Ottn Johnston. Scripture was read by Clayton Cook and prayer was led by Emmons Newson.

DOUGLAS ADAMS

Doug. Adams Heads Dairy

SUMMERSIDE — John S. Wright, former general manager of Amalgamated Dairies Ltd., of Summerside has been succeeded by Douglas Adams of O'Leary, it was announced yesterday by the company.

Prior to becoming general-manager on Jan. 1, Mr. Adams, who has had extensive experience in the dairy business, was manager of the O'Leary branch of Amalgamated Dairies.

Mr. Wright, who is president of Atlantic Provinces Economic Council (APEC) will be advisor to the new general manager for an indefinite period.

During a large part of 1963 Mr. Adams was closely associated with Mr. Wright as assistant general manager in order that policy and service would continue without any major change or interruption.

The dairies have reported another successful year of operations and prospects are seen bright for 1964.

Men Can Be Changed By God Through Prayer, Is Message

ALBERTON BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

"Do I pray or just say my prayers?" Rev. Keith Hobsoa challenged each member of the congregation to ask himself. He was preaching the second sermon in a series on prayer being given during the week of prayer at Alberton.

The theme of this sermon was "God changing men." Prayer is a great deal more than formal words, he said. "Anyone searching for God's presence is praying. Prayer is the way in which our finest abilities are linked with the infinite power and resources of God.

"Many of us have our priorities mixed up", declared Mr. Hobson. "The work of God and his church must always come first."

He told of a man he had known who arose early, and prayed for three hours each morning. In that man's company he said, you could feel the impact of the presence of God. "Your life has to pray as well as your lips," he continued. "But God won't do for you what He has given you the power to do for yourself."

"Not until we are humble can God lift us to greatness. When men really pray we see masterful men becoming submissive, narrow men becoming broader, intolerant men becoming patient, shiftless men becoming solid and reliable.

"Good prayer," he concluded "is not tested by our fervor at the time of prayer, but by our behaviour afterwards. Those who truly pray become doers of the word of God."

The service of worship was conducted by Rev. H.E. Mullen. The singing was led by a massed choir. Mrs. Ruth Sommers, soloist, sang "Hail, Gladdening Light."

The service this evening will be in Alberton United Church with Brown Jardine leading the worship.

SENTENCE NEGROES

PRETORIA, South Africa (Reuters) — Sentences ranging from five to 20 years in prison were imposed here Monday on 15 Negroes found guilty of conspiring to recruit people for military training outside South Africa. The 20-year sentence was passed on Lombard Mbata, whom the judge described as the transport manager and one of the leaders of the organization.

10 Herefords Are Auctioned Before Sale Is Discontinued

ALBERTON BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

A sale of registered Hereford breeding stock from the well known farm of Fred C. Ramsay in Montrose yesterday afternoon was officially opened by the provincial director of livestock, L. W. Roper.

Ten animals were sold at prices ranging from $100 for calves to close to $700 for a fine three-year-old heifer bred to an imported English bull.

Buyers were in attendance from Prince Edward Island with one from the mainland.

Lack of a larger crowd resulted in slow bidding and the sale was discontinued when the owner considered he was getting about one-half what the animals were worth.

In opening the sale, Mr. Roper described the Herefords offered as carefully selected foundation stock purchased over the years by Mr. Ramsay from well known herds all across Canada. Mr. Ramsay, a consistent winner at the Prince County Exhibition, was the first Prince County farmer to go into Hereford production, in 1936, and is now obliged to cut down his herd owing to ill health.

Auctioneer was Mr. Craswell, Charlottetown.
