But Expect No Major Trouble From Communist Rally

By Richard Kasischke BERLIN, May 26 (AP)—Allied armor stood guard on the Western City borders tonight with guns pointing eastward where 200,000 Communist-led German youth gathered for their White-Side march.

Both the West and East in this divided focal point of the bitter cold war agreed on only one thing today: There probably would be no big violence in the week-end.

Queen Mary 83 Yesterday

LONDON, May 26 (Reuters)—Queen Mary's face broke into smiles this morning when her 83rd birthday—when among her profusion of presents she found a box of pink and gold roses.

It was a tribute from a man who had met the Queen Mother with her son, King George VI, at a flower show this week and knew that flowers are one of her greatest loves.

Mallem arrived at Queen Mary's residence, Marlborough House, burdened by heavy sacks of congratulatory letters. Recovered from a recent indisposition, Queen Mary was in excellent spirits. She lunched at Buckingham Palace, where the King had arranged a special party in her honor with most of the royal family present.

OTTAWA, May 26 (Special)

Representatives of the salt cod industry of the four Atlantic Provinces, Provincial and Federal Government officials conferred here today on how to solve the surplus of salt cod left over from the 1949 catch.

Unsold surplus of cod for the East Coast totals 30 million pounds this year, five-sixths of the total being now in storage in Newfoundland. For some time past, Newfoundland members of the Commons have been pressing the Government for aid in disposal of the surplus since its presence tends to lower prices for the present year's catch.

Representatives of the salt cod trade of Newfoundland and Government officials of that Province said the unsold codfish represented a serious problem to Newfoundland dealers and merchants.

On conclusion of the committee sessions, the problem was tossed in the lap of Mr. MacNaught and the Fisheries Department with the suggestion that fisheries, trade and commerce and finance departments study the question.

Sees Start This Year To End Cold War

(By Francis W. Carpenter) LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 26—(AP)—Trygve Lie said today the China crisis in the United Nations must be settled by July and a start made this year to end the cold war.

At the same time he asserted the boycotting Russians still have confidence in the U. N. and want it to work.

If the China crisis is not settled this summer, Lie said, the September General Assembly of 59 countries will meet in confusion "and I do not know what will happen."

The U. N. Secretary-General, speaking to reporters here for the first time since his 90-minute talk with Prime Minister Stalin, declined to reveal whether Stalin made any new proposals for ending the Soviet bloc's walkout against 29 U. N. organizations over the issue of Chinese representation.

But he did say he carried no message from President Truman to Stalin and brought no Stalin message to Truman.

Other Highlights Other high spots of today's press conference were:

Lie asserted the nations must begin work on an end-of-the-cold-war this year or the world faces the gravest danger of being put finally on the road to a third world war.

Lie will go to Washington next week to talk once more with Truman and State Secretary Dean Acheson. Lie does not plan to make another round of the Big Four capitals unless it is necessary.

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The State Department sees no prospect of successful negotiations between Russia and the Western Powers at this time to end the cold war.

That is the United States reaction to Trygve Lie's expressed belief that constructive negotiations for an East-West settlement now are possible.

Ban On Newfoundland Potatoes For Ring Rot

OTTAWA, May 26 (Special)—Potatoes from Newfoundland are barred entry to other Canadian Provinces, it is set forth in a statement issued today by J. W. Scannell, assistant chief, potato certification, division of plant protection.

The statement answers a question asked on the Commons order paper by W. J. Browne, Progressive Conservative member for St. John's West on the subject. Reason for the ban is the prevalence in certain sections of Newfoundland of bacterial ring rot, one of the most serious of all potato diseases.

"Only vigorous precautions on the part of all concerned will prevent it (ring rot) from spreading into many potato-growing areas in Canada where it has not yet been reported," Mr. Scannell's statement reads.

The potato seed certification chief warns all potato-growers to instruct their seed cutters to watch carefully for any indications of ring rot and to send any showing internal discoloration just inside the tuber to the nearest inspector or to the Laboratory of Plant Pathology in Ottawa.

Growers of certified potato seed are advised that June 15 is the deadline for receipt of applications for field inspections and that application forms should be in the hands of the local district inspector by that date. These application forms are shortly being mailed to all certified seed growers whose crops were inspected in 1949 and to others who have made a special request for them. Applications should be sent in as soon as possible after planting to enable the local certification office to make their arrangements for inspection at the proper time. Mr. Scannell points out to certified seed growers that when new seed is purchased, a certification tag must be attached to the application form and the other tags kept to give to the inspector when he makes his rounds.

report of the Royal Commission on Arts and Sciences. Mr. Dutton said the Montreal and Toronto stations will serve as production centres which will be able to provide television service to stations in other parts of the country through the use of kinescope recordings.

He did not envisage a trans-Canada network as an early development.

He believed it would be better to establish television transmitters in various parts of the country and service them with recordings from production centres. Later fine transmitters could be joined in a network either through use of coaxial cable or through microwave radio lengths.

CBC Expects Big Deficit In Television Operations

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP)—The CBC expects that it will pile up deficits during the first five years of operations in the field of television, the Commons committee on radio broadcasting was told today.

A. D. Dutton, CBC chairman, said he believed that by the end of five years revenues would be sufficient to balance expenditures.

The CBC has been authorized to construct one television station in Montreal and one in Toronto. It is hoped to start operation by Sept. 1, 1951.

It was estimated that the operating costs of the Montreal and Toronto stations would total $1,500,000 in the first year; $2,175,000 in the second year; and $3,000,000 in the third year.

A $4,500,000 loan obtained from the Government last year to cover the initial cost of television likely will be used on capital expenditures and installations.

He was asked by members from various parts of the country when the CBC was likely to build television stations in points other than Montreal and Toronto. He replied that the CBC was anxious to develop television and could do so fairly quickly if the money to cover initial costs is voted by Parliament.

But whether television would be developed by private stations alone, or by private stations and the CBC probably would depend a lot on the

There now were an estimated 11,000 television receiving sets in Canada. It was estimated that once Canadian stations begin operations the number will jump to 22,500 in the first year; 56,000 in the second year; 111,500 in the third year; and 168,000 in the fourth year. Mr. Dutton said he believed the figures were conservative, although there were a number of uncertain factors.

Some 4,000 soldiers at the Manitoba flood front, who have taken over a large share of the patrolling the dikes at night, are finding that their wartime after-dark patrol experiences overseas are standing them in good stead. Soldiers and civilian volunteers alike walk the dikes hour after hour for 12 hours at a stretch hunting for signs of seepage and the tell-tale bulge that warns of a weak spot that may give way causing untold damage and possible loss of life.
