Couple Find Baby Not Good Sailor

HALIFAX (CP) — A Toronto couple who left Monday for the Azores in a home-made yacht returned here Wednesday after their eight-month-old baby became sick. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilson have no immediate plans about their proposed trip around the world. "I guess we will have to wait until the baby gets older," Mr. Wilson said. Mr. Wilson took five years to build the 34 foot Condor and when he finished it last year he and his wife sailed down the St. Lawrence to Halifax. They took 10 months to prepare for the transatlantic voyage. The baby was taken on short cruises before Monday and Mr. Wilson said he appeared to be a good sailor. But apparently the heavier ocean swells didn't agree with him. When he became sick the Wilsons decided they would have to return. Mr. Wilson said they will remain here until the end of summer and then decide on what they would do.

control board Commissioner William Collins Thursday announced the Greater Retail Grocers Association of Ontario will not be permitted to market through grocery stores a beer from the United States. He said samples of the brew contained an alcoholic content of 2.4 per cent by volume.
