St. Dunstan's High School Bombs Rogers Rangers 9-2

St. Dunstan's High School, aided by brilliant goaltending of Carl McQuaid and a high powered offence bombed Rogers Rangers 9-2 at the Charlottetown Forum last night before a crowd of 600.

The Rangers played their usual wide open and rough game which left goalie John Reid at the mercy of the speedy St. Dunstan's forwards. The referees, Don Whalen and Grant Crockett called a total of 29 penalties with the chippy Rangers getting 19 of them.

The Saints opened fast with two goals within two minutes at the three quarter mark of the first frame. Billy Weatherbie opened the scoring at 14.10 of the first period with McKinnon and Flood drawing assists. Billy LeClair scored again for the Saints one minute and 26 seconds later on an unassisted effort. Ron Giggey closed out the scoring in the period with a goal at 16.34. The Rangers stuck to hockey for this period and as a result they collected only three penalties. None of the penalties in this period resulted in goals.

Jamie Kennedy opened the scoring in the second period on a beautiful solo effort. Kennedy picked up a loose puck at centre ice, skated into the St. Dunstan's end and drew out goalie Carl McQuaid perfectly and just nudged the puck into the net. At 10.36 Giggey scored his second of the night with assists going to Herbie Steele and Cecil MacDonald. From this point on the game was all for the Saints, they checked the Rangers into the ice and then moved in to take three or four close in drives on Reid before the Rangers could get back into the play. When the Rangers did start a drive the Saints gave McQuaid a lot of protection.

Billy Weatherbie ended the scoring in the second period with Alan Flood helping out. The Rangers got real rough in this period and as a result the spent a total of 15 minutes in the penalty box. The most serious offence in this period was a spearing penalty to Jack McEachern.

Cecil MacDonald and Billy Weatherbie scored in the third period before Mike MacDonald scored the Rangers second and last goal of the night. The Saints scored two more goals before the game was over with Billy Weatherbie and Cecil MacDonald being the marksmen.

The Rangers really got out of line as far as referees Don Whalen and Grant Crockett were concerned as they served 20 minutes in the penalty box while the high flying St. Dunstan's team received only one minor.

Nationals Reach Finals By Dumping S'side

BORDEN — The local Nationals ran into little opposition here last night as they advanced into the Prince County Hockey League finals with a lopsided 11-5 victory over Grant Grady's Junior Legionnaires.

The crowd of well over 500 fans mostly partisan fans cheered on the Nationals as they played their first game of the series in their home rink. All the other games were played in Summerside due to the mild weather melting the natural ice in the rink here.

Going into last night's game the Nationals were leading the best of seven series three games to one. They took little time getting on the score sheet, banging their first maker in at the 6.45 mark of the opening session. From then on they never looked back.

Playing coach Jim MacLeod, the Charlottetown veteran of many hockey wars, spearheaded the Borden attack with four goals. Teammates Gerald Cutcliffe and Ev White, the regular league scoring champion this year, helped the cause with a pair of goals apiece. Billy Noonan, Charlie Sark and Gabe Keough each triggered singles.

For the losers it was speedy Alan Gaudet with two and Dave Gaudet, Whitmore Muttart and Wayne Trainor with singles.

The Nationals will now meet the winner of the Eagles-Combines series for the title.

Referee in chief Jim Cox assisted by Tiny Crooks and Bob Sloan handed out a total of 18 penalties all minors.

Defending Champ Rink Ties Alberta And Ontario

By STERLING TAYLOR

TORONTO (CP)—The defending champion Manitoba rink, along with Alberta and Ontario, emerged Tuesday as the only undefeated rinks after the second round of the national mixed curling championships here.

The rinks, skipped by Ernie Bushy of Winnipeg, Lee Green of Calgary and Ray Grant of Unionville, Ont., all had two victories on the 11-rink, round-robin tournament.

British Columbia, skipped by Fred Tinling of Vancouver, Saskatchewan's Grant Bouey of Regina Brub Peterson of Fredericton and Charles Piper of Halifax had 1-1 won-lost records.

Newfoundland, skipped by Dave Pedley of St. John's, and Northern Ontario's Wilf Biron of Sudbury, who had each drawn a bye in the opening rounds, had one loss each.

Quebec's Olivier Samson of Quebec City and Gordon Spicer of Summerside, P.E.I. were both winless in two starts.

New Brunswick, after losing a hearbreaker in the opening round Monday night, pulled off the biggest upset of the tournament by defeating Northern Ontario 12-9 in Tuesday's second round.

Biron, who skipped his rink to third place in last year's event, came from behind a 7-3 deficit after five ends to tie the match with four stones on the sixth. Northern Ontario then took an 9-8 lead after eight ends, but Peterson registered four on the ninth to put the contest out of reach.

BUILT EARLY LEAD

Ontario had little difficulty disposing of Saskatchewan 8-7 after holding a 6-3 lead after six ends of the regular 10-end match. Alberta collected three on the second end and trounced P.E.I. 10-5 and Manitoba led 7-0 after four ends before going on to a 12-6 win over British Columbia.

Nova Scotia defeated Quebec 15-11 in an extra end. But an ice chip nearly cost Nova Scotia the game. Piper, who has been making some of the finest clutch shots of the tournament, was leading 11-8 when he came up to throw the last stone of the final regulation end.

As Piper delivered, he slipped on a piece of loose ice, fell heavily on his side and missed the takeout, giving Quebec three and an 11-11 tie.

The Nova Scotia skip took no chances in the extra end and collected four.

Toronto Defenceman Denies Kicking Maki

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto defenceman Ken Douglas Tuesday denied he kicked Chico Maki of Chicago Black Hawks when the Maple Leafs lost to the Hawks in Chicago Sunday.

Chicago won the National Hockey League game 5-3.

Maki suffered a groin injury after he and Douglas collided behind the Leaf net during a Chicago power play.

Maki, whose condition was described as not serious by a Chicago doctor, is expected to play in Boston against the Bruins tonight. He said from his hospital bed that "it was a kick all right."

Maki said he checked the puck off Douglas's stick and started skating away when "he (Douglas) got me from behind. It was like slipping off a bicycle seat onto a crossbar."

While referee Art Skov and coaches Punch Imlach of Toronto and Chicago's Billy Reay did not see the incident, Chicago players who were on the ice presented conflicting reports.

One claimed Maki had been kneed. Another said he'd been speared by Douglas's stick. Another agreed with Maki that he was kicked.

Douglas said he remembered the play "... But I sure as heck don't remember any kicking. If I did it, I think I'd know and I don't think he'd (Maki) be talking about playing Wednesday."

SPORTS FRONT

Dawn Fraser Lashes Out

By JIM CULLEN

Dawn Fraser, who was and probably still is the best woman swimmer in the world has written a book in collaboration with Harry Gordon in which the Australian swimming star discusses the sexual and drinking habits which occur in an Olympic village.

The women's quarters in an olympic village are surrounded by high barbed-wire fences with guards at the gates, but Miss Fraser insists in her book which is entitled "Below The Surface" that this doesn't, by any means, make for a sexless community.

The champion swimmer, who has won three gold medals for Australia recalls that she was surprised at the necking that went on in these villages when she was first subjected to life in a village, but experience taught her that sex provides a very popular diversion in any large community of athletes.

Miss Fraser has wrote that Japanese, Swedes and officials of other countries have solved the problem simply by providing girls for male athletes that desired them. Male athletes from United States, Australia and Britain first want to ' "get sloshed" after a big race, then want "to chase a girl and there are usually a good number of these around a village.

How does this Olympic loving occur? Miss Fraser explains that it has often happened that girls invade the men's dormitories; there's no guards outside the men's quarters, and the male inhabitants make arrangements so that nobody is disturbed. But with Olympic game usually held in warm weather, says the swimming champ, favorite spots are the lawns, shrubbery and dark areas.

We think it is most unfortunate that Miss Fraser saw fit to publish such a damaging story. This columnist think that undoubedly there are some relationships struck up during a four or five week period when thousands of fit young people are living at close quarters and undoubtedly there are some athletes who like to have a couple of drinks for relaxation purposes, but we think Miss Fraser has distorted the whole picture to satisfy her own purposes.

Olympic athletes are just human beings and we think this is something that is sometimes overlooked by a great deal of people and this observer believes they have proved they have good control over all their appetites in order to have advanced to a point where they are among the best athletes in the world. Miss Fraser is currently under 10-year suspension from Olympic swimming competition for displeasing officialdom and we think her story has a strong trace of resentment against the officials that were responsible for her suspension, which was only one of many during her swimming career.

Tid Bits From Here And There

Doug Tucker fired a brace of goals Monday night to lead the RCAF Eagles to a 6-3 triumph over the Greg Deighan coached Combines in the fifth game of their best of seven series in the Prince County Hockey League. The Eagles now lead the series 3-2.

Four young men put the official touch Tuesday to a boxing rarity—a championship doubleheader. Willie Pastrano signed to defend his world light-heavyweight title against Jose Torres and Emile Griffith signed to defend his welterweight title against Jose Stable. The bouts will be staged March 30 at Madison Square Garden.

Birchwood High School will meet Queen Charlotte High School in the first game of a best-of-three series for the Charlottetown Interscholastic hockey championship tonight. The Alan Andrews coached Queen Charlotte team advanced to the finals by eliminating Charlottetown Rural Regional High School, in straight games. The Birchwood team drew a bye into the finals as they finished on top of the Interscholastic loop. Action will get underway at the Charlottetown Forum tonight at 8.30.

The Chicago Black Hawks will travel to Boston tonight to battle with the tail-end Bruins in the only game scheduled in the National Hockey League. A victory is a must for the Billy Reay coached aggregation in order to keep their hopes of winning their first league championship in the history of the club alive.

A Forbie Kennedy day has been planned for this Friday in Montague. Forbie is the only Islander to perform in the National Hockey League and the residents of the eastern town decided to declare a day in his honor. Kennedy is residing in Charlottetown for the summer months and when ice making time rolls around next season he will be going back to the hockey wars with the Boston Bruins of the NHL.

Terry Braunstein's Rink Posts 2nd Win

By DON SOUTTER
Kingston Whig-Standard

PERTH, Scotland (CP)—Terry Braunstein's Canadian rink posted its second win in the international curling competition here Tuesday but again had troubles before subduing Norway 11-7.

In the afternoon matches of the second round of the five-game round-robin, Scotland posted the highest score in seven years of this competition by thumping Switzerland 29-2.

The United States rink, skipped by Bud Summerville, returned to form after an opening loss to Scotland but still had trouble with the pesky Swedish team before winning 9-7.

Summerville's Improved showing Tuesday afternoon set the stage for a Canadian-American meeting Tuesday night in the third round of the draw. Other games scheduled are Scotland vs. Norway and Sweden vs. Switzerland.

After two draws Canada and Scotland had 2-0 records, the U.S. and Switzerland were 1-1 and Sweden and Norway 0-2.

End-by-end score of the Canadian game against Norway.

Norway	000 110 102 101— 7
Canada	111 003 020 030—11

NEWCOMERS UNLUCKY

Norway, latest country to take up international curling—with only 400 curlers, one-eightieth of the 32,000 in Braunstein's home town of Winnipeg—was in contention in the afternoon until her rink gave up a three end in the 11th to fall behind Canada 11-6.

"We had determined we would try to stick with our draw game," said Arne Ramsden, who throws fourth rock for the Norwegian rink. "The only difference was our third man threw more take-outs than normal."

Norway's strategy met with Braunstein's approval.

"It's tough for the Europeans who are not used to us to try to stick with Canadian rinks in a hitting game," he said. "They were drawing well until the late end."

Canada had trouble building an end against Norway but without last rock scored singles in the first three ends. In the second, Braunstein, 25, pulled through a narrow port to cut Norway out of two and lie one.

The three in the sixth, with Braunstein's last shot take-out, knocked out Norway's shot stone and gave Canada a 6-2 lead. Canada only scored in two of the last six ends—a pair in the eighth and three in the 11th.

BULLETIN

PERTH, Scotland (CP) — Brilliant shooting by Bud Summerville's U.S. rink dealth Canada its first defeat in the international curling championships here Tuesday night with a cliff-hanging 9-8 victory.

R left Scotland's Chuck Hay as the only undefeated rink after three rounds in the six-country round - robin tournament.

Canada and the U.S. are in second spot with two wins and one loss each.

Switzerland and Sweden have one win and two losses. Norway trails with three defeats.

Scotland, the steadiest rink in the opening rounds, handily defeated Norway 12-8.

The Sweden - Switzerland game, also a close battle, was not decided until the last shot in the 12th when Sweden scored one to break a 9-9 tie.

Scotland's win, coming after a 29-2 thumping of Switzerland in the afternoon, puts them in the driver's seat for the important meeting with Canada tonight.

Tignish Midgets Trip Kensington

The Tignish Midget Hockey team continued their winning ways in the semi-final play off games as they trounced the Kensington Midget team 13-5 at the Centennial Community Arena on Saturday afternoon, giving them a 20-7 total goal lead in a two game total goal series.
