Refused To Upset Hockey Injunction

TORONTO, (CP)—Mr. Justice P. E. F. Smily Thursday refused to upset an injunction permitting Frank (Butch) Stahan and Emilic Dagenais to play for the senior Pembroke Lumber Kings of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association until their amateur status is cleared in the courts.

Mr. Justice Smily turned down the application by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, the NOHA and Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Hockey League. He ordered that the trial to determine the status of the two players "be proceeded with as expeditiously as possible."

Stahan and Dagenais seek to defy a CAHA order suspending them from playing with Pembroke because they were signed last spring to play with the Senators. They obtained an injunction from county court Judge John T. Mulcahy at Pembroke lifting the suspensions and ordering the NOHA to register them as eligible to play in the league.

Fear Similar Actions

The argument before Mr. Justice Smily dealt mainly with the jurisdiction of a county court judge to grant injunctions in such matters. Mr. Justice Smily said he thought it preferable to have all decisions involved in the case decided by trial.

John C. MacTague, representing the CAHA, said that if such injunctions are granted hockey throughout Canada would be affected since there "would be any number of similar actions next season."

He said the injunction "is a formidable legal weapon and should not be used on such trivial occasions as applications of this kind by hockey players."

Former Jockey Reported Killed

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—Former Jockey William (Peanuts) McCadden 43, of Lynn, Mass., was killed Wednesday when a horse he was exercising at the fair grounds race track jumped the rail and fell on him.

Witnesses said the horse, Hatfield, owned by the Henry Forrest stable, bore out against the rail at the first turn. As it completed the turn, the horse jumped the rail, spilled McCadden and tumbled on top of the jockey. The horse was uninjured.

Campanella Voted N.L. Most Valuable Player

NEW YORK, (AP)—Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's chunky, veteran catcher, Thursday was voted most valuable player in the National League for the second time in three years.

The vote by a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America, three from each league city, was decisive. The 32-year-old Campanella drew 17 first and piled up 287 points, highest point total since Stan Musial of St. Louis won with 308 in 1948.

Campanella became the fourth man to be named most valuable in the National more than once. He had won in 1951. Musial is the only three-time winner with awards in 1943, 1946 and 1948. Carl Hubbell and Rogers Hornsby were each picked twice.

Eddie Matthews, the home-run-hitting third baseman of Milwaukee Braves, finished second, 81 points back at 216.

Duke Snider, Brooklyn's slugging centre fielder, nosed out St. Louis' Red Schoendienst for third place, 137 to 155.

Hank Sauer of Chicago Cubs, last year's winner, didn't receive a single vote.

Consul-General For Canada At Boston Dies

BOSTON, (AP)—George S. Patterson, 66, Canadian consul-general here, died unexpectedly Sunday at his apartment.

Police said Patterson was talking with two Canadian government attaches, Chester A. Ronning and Paul Veaulleu, when he complained of illness and collapsed a short time later.

His wife, Lena, was visiting a sister in Ontario.

Patterson joined the Canadian foreign service in 1943 and had served in Ottawa, Chunksing, Nanjing, Tokyo and Shanghai before being appointed consul general in Boston last September.

He had attended several international conferences, including the Far Eastern commission, Washington, 1946; United Nations temporary commission on Korea, in Seoul and New York, 1948; and General Assembly of the United Nations, Paris, 1948.

Patterson was born in Moncton, N. B., and studied at Mt. Allison University, Union Theological Seminary and Columbia University, receiving degrees of Bachelor of Divinity and Doctor of Philosophy.

He was general secretary of the YMCA in Toronto from 1936 to 1943 when he joined the external affairs department.

Reports New Era Dawning In Hollywood

(There's a new era dawning in Hollywood and not everybody is happy about it. In this article, an experienced AP observer tells where the movies are going from here and what it will mean to the average moviegoer.)

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—In a nutshell, here's what's happening in Hollywood today: mediocrity is getting the boot.

It is tragic news to many of the people who make movies. But in the end the movie fan will benefit.

This revolution that has struck Hollywood makes the talkie upset of 25 years ago seem like a picnic. The main causes of Hollywood's new look are:

1. Too many poor pictures that broke the movie-going habit.
2. Competition from television, night sports, better cars.
3. Misleading film advertising.

Does this mean Hollywood is washed up? Definitely not, say such thoughtful veterans as Sam Goldwyn, Jean Hersholt, Walt Disney and Hal Roach. It is the end of wonderful era, but movieland's future—now that it is approaching maturity—is greater than ever.

Hollywood figured if one movie made one million, 50 would make 50 million. And, by golly, it was right. The big studios ground out a picture a week. Some of these made many millions.

Not so long ago, Hollywood felt the vein of gold would never play out. Today a lot of folks are wondering what hit them.

A more discerning public, with other forms of entertainment to take their time and money, gave Hollywood the answer. It said, by staying away from B pictures, that it didn't want any more such tripe. Misleading advertising, which called too many films the greatest ever produced, contributed to the debacle.

Movies turned out on a production line like automobiles are only a grim memory now. Each major studio will make only about a dozen films this year, and perhaps fewer in succeeding years.

Some producers are throwing up a lot of dust over new media of projection—3D, cinerama, cinemascope and the like—but their arrival is only coincidental. A good story well told will hold your interest even on a 17-inch screen.

What has happened to all of the talent that used to make the hundreds and hundreds of potboilers? Much of it isn't working. Some of it
