GOVT PLANS

Continued from page 1) Amendments would be introduced "very soon" to help the eastern farmer renew his equipment, improve his farm and take advantage of wider market. The government is studying a stock-rearing program for the East. He hoped it would be ready soon. Measures to be taken by the government would show that the government is greatly concerned about eastern farmers. Until now these people felt isolated.

Louis-Joseph Pigeon (PC-Joliette - Assomption - Montcalm), said the previous Conservative government had done more for eastern farmers than earlier Liberal governments had done in 30 years.

DISQUIET RAMPANT — There was a danger to agriculture in the fact that 100,000 people, depending on agriculture in the East, were not enjoying a standard of living like other Canadians. "Disquiet is rampant in the dairy industry."

He said the milk subsidy brought in by the Conservative government meant a total of $50,000,000 to dairy farmers and they were more satisfied with this than the program proposed by the Liberal government.

"It was absolutely vital" that some system of crop insurance be introduced.

Mr. Pigeon urged Agriculture Minister Hay to encourage more French-speaking Canadians to join his department to develop closer contacts with the farmers of Quebec. He criticized Mr. Tremblay for visiting Malaysia during the parliamentary recess instead of talking to eastern farmers about their problem.

Gilbert Rondeau (Credentialed) said farm production costs should be reduced without affecting how. He hadn't said eastern farmers could buy western wheat at the same low price available to Russia.

A farm co-operative at Grand-Que, recently had paid $350 a hundred weight for wheat while the Russians paid about $250.

Work Variety Concert Slated For 10 Nights

For the second time in some years the community of York is busily engaged in the preparations for the staging of a variety concert.

Scheduled to run for 10 nights, the opening performance entitled "An Evening of Fun" will take place at the local hall Oct. 23.

The last such concert staged by the community was in 1949 and in that year it was advertised to run for five nights but proved so popular that it ended up running for 10 performances. Each night was a complete sell-out, with the tickets being sold out well in advance so that rush tickets at the hall were never available.

Once again the Charlottetown firm of Henderson and Cudmore has permitted their establishment to be utilized as central headquarters for ticket sales, with mail order tickets being handled by Vesey's Seeds, York.

Gov't Aids Beef Cattle Shipments

The report that the Nova Scotia government plans to introduce a beef cattle import policy on beef cattle imports, has brought the complaint from Agriculture Minister Andrew S. MacRae, that this province has been the beneficiary in effect for the past year.

"Our policy," he said, "is to pay $100 a head of beef cattle or dairy or beef cattle imported, up to $750 per head on imported beef cattle, and a similar assistance is granted according to the type of cattle and the distance from where the cattle are concerned," he said. He pointed out that last year 2,000,000 pounds of beef was brought into the region.

Mr. MacRae said Nova Scotia's policy would help the local economy. "Employment will be provided in the feeding, slaughtering and processing of animals. Not so much packaged meats will be imported."

'WHERE'S MY NEWSPAPER?'

When a newspaper is missing, more often than not, a man will say, "Where's my newspaper?" "My," not "the"! You've heard him say many times: "Now, my newspaper said . . ." "I read in my paper . . ." A man's possessive about his newspaper. He takes pride in it. He gloats when his newspaper praises his favorite political candidate or sports team. Or, he groans when his newspaper differs with his choice of personalities or issues. He'll even write the editor when he feels strongly about a difference of opinion.

And, his wife feels just about the same. She looks forward to reading her pet features. Missing out on some ad or choice item of local news could "ruin" her shopping trip or leave her feeling left out during the chitchat over the bridge table.

Both men and women want their newspaper. In fact, they insist on it. They are sorely disappointed and disturbed when their newspaper isn't on the front step when they want it. Ask any carrier boy. He can tell you, because he hears about it if a delivery is late or missed. This loyalty to a favorite newspaper didn't just happen. It came about because the newspaper is localized to meet a particular want and fill a definite need.

And, Because the newspaper is viewed as a necessary companion and source of information, it makes a big difference in the lives of people of all ages, of all faiths and political preferences, of all levels of income and education.
