

RE-ENLISTS

WINNIPEG. — Leading Air Craftsman Gordon A. Gregory, 25, Parkdale, P.E.I., operates a power drill in the workshops of RCAF Station Claresholm, Alta., as he manufactures a metal template. LAC Gregory, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gregory, 228 Allen St., Parkdale, recently re-enlisted in the RCAF. He had previously served from January 1952 to January 1955. A metals technician by trade, he is employed at one of the many behind-the-scenes jobs at the western base where Canadian and NATO student pilots are trained. Prior to his original enlistment in the air force he worked for Maritime Central Airways for one year. National Defence photo

TIMELY NOTES ON FUR TOPICS

Things cannot be too bad in the old Country judging by the imports of furs during February, 1957, when the United Kingdom bought £373,923 worth of furs from the United States, which was an increase of 6 percent over the same month last year, and the same month Russia supplied £787,298 worth of furs to the United Kingdom (about $3,251,318.80 in Canadian money.)

Silver fox and its mutations sold freely at the March 19 sale in Stockholm, Sweden. The varieties were silver fox, blue fox and platinum fox. Mrs. Eisenhower, American's first lady, is to be presented with a beaver coat made from 20 large medium dark beaver. It is to be presented by the Maine Trapper's Association and is to be made up into a 13-stripe coat. Mrs. Eisenhower insists on paying the cost of making up the coat.

At the Dominion Fur Auction Sales Ltd., held in Winnipeg March 26, fresh winter muskrats were mostly sold and realized a top of $1.46 with from $1.30 to $1.40 for part heavy; $1.02 — $1.18 for good mediums and 80 cents for mediums and smalls. Small lots of northern wild mink were sold at $26 to $28 for males and $12 to $13.50 for females.

The New York Auction Company will offer a very fine seasonal collection of EMBA mink April 8 to 12. This will be an exceptionally fine collection of all varieties of mutations.

BUYING POWER
At the Dominion Fur Sales Auction held in Winnipeg March 25 the clearances in most types of ranch mink were reported as heavy. There was plenty of buying power at the sale and it was mostly for United States accounts, but Eastern Canada was also active. EMBA cerulean breath of springs were 100 per cent sold; better males brought $30 to $32.50 and ordinary $23 to $26.50; females ran from $14 to $16; Canada dark standards sold with good top of $16; most males brought $11 to $14.75 range.

A small collection of Argenta as 50 per cent sold, prices being $18 for males and $10 and $11 for females. Autumn haze and autumn haze Stewart males were 85 per cent sold. In the Stewart males prices were mostly $22 to $22.50 and females $9 to $10. In the past a few males touched $25 to $4.50 but the bulk ran at $20 to $23.50. A small collection of desert wild was only partly sold. With a couple of lots of males bringing $10 to $33 and others $20 to $22.50. Canadian Fur Sales Co. (Quebec) Ltd., report regarding their recent sale that the demand for ranch mink in general was pretty good with standard darks reaching an even 90 per cent; pastel 65 per cent; sapphire 55 per cent and silks and silver blue 75 and 78 per cent respectively. Wild mink on the other hand fared rather poorly selling only 40 per cent of
