

The Provincial Exhibition!

The Competition at the Drill Shed—About a Thousand Entries—The Best Exhibit Yet.

ANOTHER fine morning and another satisfactory exhibition for the productions of our industries. The arrangement of the articles shown is better than it has been—a fact which we must place to the credit of the enthusiastic Secretary.

At noon His Honor the Lieut. Governor and suite, accompanied by Mrs. Haviland, the Chief Justice, the Premier, and several other prominent gentlemen, arrived. An address was presented and a lengthy speech was made in reply by the Lieutenant Governor, after which the exhibition was opened. We to-day publish a brief sketch of the most prominent exhibits, which will be continued in our next issue:—

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND POTTERY.
The P. E. Island Pottery Co. make a most elaborate display of the wares manufactured at their works. Nearly one hundred different specimens of flower pots, vases, uris, crocks, jars, etc., are here. The workmanship is superior. It surpasses any imported ware of the kind we have seen. An attractive feature of this exhibit is a handsome lawn vase, the flowers in which were grown by W. R. Watson Esq. The management of the Company deserve great credit for their enterprise.

BREMNER BROS. PRINTING.
Messrs. Bremner Bros. make a large display of fancy printing, executed at their establishment, Queen Street. The style in which the work is performed is excellent. While at the Exhibition in St. John we had the pleasure of comparing the work done by Messrs. Bremner Bros. with that of the leading printers in New Brunswick, and were gratified to find that the odds were largely in Messrs. Bremner Bros. favor. Mrs. Benj. Bremner also exhibited some beautiful bead work, which is highly commended by the judges.

MILL VALLEY CLOTH MILLS.
The display of goods by Messrs. Johnston & McLean, is one of the most attractive features of the Exhibition. It is in charge of Mr. McLean, one of the enterprising firm. Over sixty different patterns of tweeds, ladies and gents' ulster goods, flannels, blanketing and sheeting are represented—all of which are manufactured from Island wool. The goods turned out by these mills are superior in some respects to any imported, and can be sold cheaper and more advantageously. The suit of clothing manufactured by Mr. John McKenzie, of Summerside, from tweed made in these mills, and which took first prize at Montreal, is shown, and is a model of the tailoring art. Altogether, the exhibit is very creditable to Messrs. Johnston & McLean.

TRYON WOOL MILLS.
Reid Bros. make an excellent exhibit of the various descriptions of cloths manufactured at their mills. Mr. James A. Reid, who has charge of the exhibit informs us that it is composed of over eighty different patterns of tweeds, blanketing and flannels, all of which are manufactured of merino, Island wool or camels hair. Among the exhibit is a fine piece of doeskin made from Merino wool, several specimens of clothing made by John McKenzie, of Summerside, and J. J. McLeod, of Crapaud, the cloth of which was manufactured at Tryon Mills. The firm also displays splendid specimens of Union carpeting, collar cloth for the use of saddles, and a horse rug—price $9.00—which is superior to any we have seen imported for three times the money.

PARKS & SONS, ST. JOHN.
Messrs Parks & Sons, show a fine variety of knitting cotton of every shade, bundles and beams of warp, carpet wares, cotton yarns and many different styles of gingham shirting. The cotton is as nice and as well dyed as any imported from across the border. The exhibit looks well; and is rendered attractive by the display of different medals won by the firm at the different exhibitions.

FINE ARTS.
The show of fine arts, in which Mrs. Irving, Miss Alley, Miss Dunn and Miss Swaby are the chief exhibitors is large, and better than on previous years. The water-color wreck of the "Scillar," by Mrs. Irving, is very good; while a crayon of Col. Dunn, by his daughter, attracts much attention. There were also a few very good oil paintings, but we were unable to discover the names of the painters.

FANCY WORK.
The exhibit of Fancy work is not large, because, we believe, good prizes are not offered. A beautiful piece of lace work is shown by Miss Emma Hayden. Fretwork is largely represented in very neat patterns. Sofa cushions are also profusely shown, with one exception, in more substantial than elegant styles.

WOOLLEN AND FLAX GOODS.
The show of goods in this class was large and excellent in every particular. The flax goods in towels, table cloths and sheets, was very fine, but not any better than on previous years. The carpeting on exhibition was as good as we have ever seen, while blankets and druggit, homespun, hosiery, mitts, shawls, were praiseworthy. The Gentlemen's driving mitts, received the praise of all who saw them, as did the gentlemen's plaids. The exhibit in this class on the whole was creditable to all concerned.

PRINTING AND BOOKBINDING.
The many fine specimens of bookbinding by Mr. G. Herbert Hazard were well worthy of attention. The bookbinding was rich, neat and substantial.

PHOTOGRAPHY.
The exhibition of photography by Mr. Mugford, Richmond Street, and Mr. Lewis, Great George Street, are very interesting. Both are very creditable to the makers.

ROOTS AND VEGETABLES.
The exhibit in roots and vegetables was the largest and best that we ever witnessed. It is the opinion of all who visited the New Brunswick Exhibition that had we such specimens as those exhibited to-day at St. John last week, we would have plucked laurels from New Brunswick for superiority in root and vegetable growing. Prominent among the exhibitors in this class, is Edward Bayfield, Esq., who shows ninety-five different kinds of roots and vegetables, grown in his garden in the Royalty. The specimens of Brussels sprouts and garnishing kail, shown by Mr. Bayfield, received great attention. They were, to a certain extent, a curiosity. The squashes on exhibition eclipse the champion squash of New Brunswick—one weighing 164 pounds was grown by Mr. Richard Bourke, Lot 49. The long, red mangos, weighing 22 pounds each. The show of tomatoes is very fine, especially the achines, while the celery, cauliflowers, carrots, beets, and all other varieties, were magnificent. We have spoken to several gentlemen from the Provinces regarding the show made in this class, and they express great surprise at its excellence.

BUTTER & CHEESE.
The show of butter in tubs and crocks was very large, but generally of a very poor quality, being new and insufficiently worked. The prints and rolls were of anything, better. The exhibit of cheese was not large but of good quality. Mr. Henry Hyde carrying off first prize with an excellent cheese of thirty pounds weight. In the tub butter, Mrs. George Sellars, Winslow Road, took first prize; and in rolls, Mrs. Wm. Howard carried off a prize. The first was equal to the first prize butter in St. John.

GRAIN.
The grain, which was a very large exhibit, is acknowledged to be of the most superior quality ever shown on the Island, with one exception—black oats. It is the opinion of some that black oats, although an excellent sample, was inferior to some shown at former Exhibitions. The white oats was magnificent, as was the wheat and barley. On the whole exhibit there was not one sample which could be called inferior.

POTATOES.
In potatoes the Province has reason to be proud of the exhibit. All varieties are represented by splendid specimen tubers.

FLORICULTURE.
Floriculture is not the least attractive part of the exhibition. The show is unusually large, and good and reflects great credit on the tastes and care of the exhibitors.

PRESERVES.
Mrs. Carman, of Rosebank, exhibits a fine collection of preserves, syrup, pickles, bread and butter, all made at the farm house Rosebank. They are of splendid flavor and if anything superior to the generality of the imported article. No prizes are offered for this class, but we think there should be, as this exhibit is well worthy of a prize.

Mr. Carman exhibits three varieties of fodder plants; viz., pearl millet, prickly comfrey and Italian rye grass; also twelve varieties of potatoes, some of which are new from England, others from the United States and Canada. He also exhibits varieties of grain, consisting of white oats and in wheat of good variety, as well as turnips and sugar beets. Mr. Carman deserves great credit for his enterprise.

Local and Other Items.

WE learn that James Curtis, Esq., has abandoned the contest in Ward Two.

PRIZE LIST of the Exhibition will appear to-morrow.

THERE was one great friend of Agriculture whose presence we missed at the Farmers' Dinner. His name is William McGill.

I. O. O. F.—Regular convocation of "Port la Joie Encampment" will be held at Oddfellow's Hall at 8 o'clock this evening. A full and punctual attendance is requested.

THE public meeting in connection with the Educational Convention of P. E. Island, will be held in the Hall of the Upper Prince Street School on Thursday, the 14th inst., at 8 o'clock, p. m.

WE would call the attention of the proper authorities to the neglected state of the pump at Heart's corner. Several complaints from citizens, living in the vicinity, have come to us respecting it. We have no doubt but it will be attended to at once.

WE understand that through the exertions of Mr. MacNab, the Superintendent of the P. E. I. Railway, an order has been made by the Minister of Railways, largely reducing the tariff on potatoes and limestone—the latter being rated at the same price as mussel mud. We have no doubt but that these reductions will be highly appreciated by a large number of our people.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—To-night an unusually strong bill is put forward for the benefit of visitors to the Exhibition. To-morrow night will be the Fireman's demonstration, upon which occasion will be produced the drama of "The Fireman," and other entertainments. The performance will be under the special auspices of Capt. Hickey, officers and men of Hillsboro' Co., No. 7, who will march in procession from their hall to Academy at 7.15.

A HORSE and wagon, owned by Mr. B. F. Longworth was stolen from the yard of the Farmers' Arms, on Tuesday evening by a man whose name is as yet unknown. He galloped the team across Kent street, up Great George and down Bayfield street, as rapidly as possible. After passing Smallwood & Boyer's Factory, the horse tripped and fell forward, breaking his neck. He died within ten minutes after the accident. The men who drove him escaped from the wagon and ran to the woods which surround Theophilus DesBrisay's residence. They are as yet at large.

WE have continual complaints from very worthy citizens concerning the corner loading nuisance. What is to be done? We do not think such a public nuisance requires to be laid formally before our Stipendiary Magistrate. We firmly believe that if Mr. Fitzrate, who takes the matter in hand, and says "this nuisance shall exist no longer," a change will soon be apparent. A few specials might be appointed. Action in this direction or in any other practical way will be supported by every law abiding tax-payer in the city. Let there be no more delay.

THE CHILL-PERU WAR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.
Telegraphic advices from Panama received the 9th inst. announced the bombardment of Chorillos and Ancon by the Chilians. This was done in retaliation for the strategism by which the schooner Cocondonga was lost to Chilians. Reparation for that by the delivery to Chilian commander of three of the enemies ships was demanded. Failing to comply, the Chilians, by order of their Government, bombarded the ports mentioned.

UNITED STATES.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.
Political excitement is intense in Indiana and it culminated on Saturday in serious affrays—one at Shelbyville and another at Evansville.

At Shelbyville the Republicans and Greenbackers were both holding meetings, the former addressed by Gen. Ben Harrison and the latter by Dr. La Matpr. In the afternoon a number of fights took place in the saloons between Republicans and Democrats, and in one Sheriff McCarkle interfered and was leading away Edward Kennedy, a young man, the principal in one of the fights, a disturbance arose in which several shots were fired, one of which struck Sheriff McCarkle in the breast, causing death on Sunday. Kennedy was accused of firing the shot, McCarkle being a Democrat and Kennedy a Republican. A most bitter feeling is aroused, and parties are out seeking Kennedy who will doubtless be lynched if found. Sheriff Addison Lee was badly bruised in the affray.

In Evansville, Edward Rouse, a river pilot, and Oscar Shorter, a colored man, had a shooting affray last night, in which both were wounded, Rouse in the breast and Shorter in the head.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.
The city is in holiday attire. Immense crowds throng the streets, witnessing the grand procession in honor of progress of Baltimore in her life of one hundred and fifty years.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 11.

Both political parties have splendid organizations in State, and immense vote will be polled to-morrow. Both parties claim to have taken every precaution for polling their entire vote and to preserve the purity of the ballot box.
