

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

APRIL 29, 1889.

Obituary.

A FEW days ago THE EXAMINER noted the return of Rev. Angus Macdonald, familiarly known as "Father Angus," who had been spending the winter in Montreal for the benefit of his health.

The late lamented clergyman was a son of Angus Macdonald and Mary Campbell. He was born at Fairfield, East Point, on the 4th November, 1830, and was baptized in the Church of St. Columba, at that place, by the Venerable Bishop McEachern.

After his ordination he was appointed rector of St. Dunstan's College, a position he held for some fifteen years, doing excellent work in the interests of Education. Upon his leaving St. Dunstan's in 1871, he was appointed to the mission of Fort Augustus, where he remained some time, and during which period he erected the church of St. Patrick and parochial residence.

The rev. gentleman was a great favorite with all who knew him. Indeed, to know him was to love and esteem him. In his death the church loses a hard and faithful worker—one whose place it will not be easy to fill.

Recent letters from England brought news of the death of R. B. Thomas, Esq., at his residence, Fowey, Cornwall, on the 4th of March last. Mr. Thomas came to this Island about twenty-three years ago, and bought a farm near Montague Bridge, on which he resided till failing health obliged him to give it up.

When Mr. Thomas came to P. E. Island he was in the prime of life, and exceedingly handsome. Being an intelligent man of good parts and address, he soon became a favorite; and his departure from the colony was regretted by everyone who knew him.

Herring Fishing at Cardigan.

FOR some years past, a few American fishermen have been in the habit of getting herring for bait at Cardigan wharf, near the mouth of Cardigan River. This spring a number of Nova Scotian Bankers came to that place for their bait, and getting what they wanted quickly and cheap, it is likely that a most important business will be developed.

—It is pleasing to learn that the Newfoundland seal fisheries are very successful. A St. John's despatch says that more than $1,000,000 worth of seals have been captured by the seal hunters from that port within the past six weeks.

Notes and Clippings.

—A recent official return shows that between 1882 and 1889 the assessed value of the counties in Nova Scotia increased from $42,500,000 to $52,750,000, or by ten and a quarter million dollars.

—Toronto Empire: The rejection of prohibition in Massachusetts was expected. The State had tried prohibition before, and was not satisfied, but of late years the liquor law is probably more stringent than that of any non-prohibition State in the Union.

—St. John Sun: The Toronto Mail is a clever paper. It was sued for libel by Hon. Mr. Laflamme. It put in a plea of justification containing additional statements. The jury found a verdict of $5,000 for the original libel, and another $5,000 for the libel said to be contained in the plea.

—At a recent meeting of the Halifax City Council the following resolution was carried unanimously: Whereas, The Council is deeply sensible of the painstaking attention which the retiring mayor has always brought to the discharge of the official duties pertaining to the office of Chief Magistrate of the city of Halifax for the past two years, and desires to place on record its appreciation of the impartial and able manner in which these duties were so promptly and efficiently discharged.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

An Explanation

SIR,—Kindly allow me space in your paper to make an explanation, with respect to a statement which has been made concerning the management of the Oddfellows concert, to the effect that seats had been specially reserved for certain persons, and that gross favoritism had been shown.

I make this explanation, as I consider it due to the large number of citizens who every year patronize our concert, and who, I am sure, give us credit for trying to please them all.

Yours, &c., CHESTER B. MCNEILL.

Queen Square Gardens.

SIR,—I beg to correct the statement regarding the cost of Queen Square Gardens, which appeared in your issue of the 26th inst., as it is rather misleading, inasmuch as it would appear that the sum of $845 was actually spent on the Square last season, whereas, in reality, that sum was the expenditure from Sept. 15th, 1887 (the date of the statement read last spring) to 26th April instant, being for work performed in the autumn of 1887, taking in plants, &c., for the whole of last summer, and for the care of plants in the conservatory in the winters of 1887-8 and 1888-9, and also for cost of seeds and the work preparing plants, &c., for this season.

Yours, &c., ARTHUR NEWBERRY.
