Radar Speed Check Brings 10 To Court

As a result of the R.C.M.P. radar speed check, ten speeders appeared before Magistrate Gilbert Gaudet Friday afternoon and all were fined ten dollars and costs. Four of the speeders were apprehended at Vernon River, four at Cornwall and two at North Bay.

On a charge of assaulting a fifteen-year-old girl the accused was fined $25 and costs or twenty days and ordered to enter into a $500 recognizance to keep the peace for two years. The same offender on a charge of assaulting a peace officer was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

A charge of theft of hens was dismissed as the only evidence was that of a companion which was not corroborated. The information against two other persons charged with the same offence was withdrawn. A person charged with criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle was fined $25 and costs or twenty days. Three residents of Summerside charged with fishing quahaugs on Sunday were each fined $5 and costs. For driving without an operator's license the accused was fined $5 and costs, as was a person for non-registration of a vehicle for the current year and two charged with operating motor vehicles with defective equipment and another for failing to have an auto registration transferred to his own name. For failing to drive on the right side of the road when practicable, the accused received a severe reprimand from Magistrate Gaudet.

Cars Collide

A collision occurred at Summerside last evening between a car driven by Edward MacKenzie of Charlottetown and a taxi operated by Lloyd Hillier, also of Charlottetown. Mr. MacKenzie was returning to the City accompanied by his wife and four children ranging in age from one month to five and one half years and his father and mother-in-law. The taxi besides the driver were three members of the crew of the destroyer Halda, which is presently visiting Charlottetown and two girls from Montague.

Mr. MacKenzie's mother-in-law was taken to hospital in Charlottetown and one of the girls in Montague and at a late hour last night the extent of their injuries were not known. All the other occupants of the two cars received a bad shaking up and numerous cuts and bruises. Both vehicles were almost demolished and the occupants of the MacKenzie car were forced to climb out through the windshield.

Much-Travelled Robin Twins

OSHAWA (CP)—Probably the most-travelled pair of robin twins arrived Friday in the 20 miles between Greenwood and Oshawa. The question is — were they premature? Mr. and Mrs. Robin have maintained their nest for several weeks in the towing-hitch of a 2,000-gallon gasoline truck that went along whenever the truck had to go out on company business. Bird-watching experts who have followed the course of the family over more than 3,500 miles of bumpy gravel roads had not predicted the arrivals for about six days yet.

Driver Keith Moffit of the Harry O. Perry Wholesale Company said he checked the nest at Greenwood about 3 p.m. and found the two eggs still intact. "When I got back to the shed I looked again and there were two nestlings." Jack Perry, company branch manager, said: "I guess the bumpy roads and the heat must have been too much for them. We feel as responsible as if we had hatched them ourselves." "They look sort of bald, but they seem to be all right," he added. The truck was to be kept off the road for a while to give the birds a chance to recuperate.

BULK CAN COME FROM CANADA

Canadian Industry's Big Money Needs Outlined

By FORBES RHUDE Canadian Press Business Editor ST. ANDREWS, N.B. (CP)—The kind of big money Canadian industry will need for its continued development was indicated Friday to members of the Investment Dealers Association of Canada by two of their guest speakers. Thomas W. Eadie, president of Bell Telephone Company of Canada, said total investment in plant and equipment of the Canadian telephone industry now is about $1,500,000,000 and the industry is spending some $200,000,000 annually on new construction. Over the next 25 years the industry expects to spend more than $3,000,000,000 and by 1980 total investment will be about three times its present figure. Mr. Eadie added: "I see no reason why the major part of this vast sum should not be obtained from Canadian sources." Bell Telephone, he said, now is owned by more than 125,000 shareholders, the largest number for any Canadian company. WANT CANADIAN CAPITAL W. J. Bennett, president, Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., referring to the Canadian uranium industry said: "We estimate that an additional $190,000,000 will be required to finance the companies which now have contract applications in process. I hope that a substantial part of this financing will be supplied by Canadian investment houses." Contracts had now been written with Canadian uranium mines for the purchase of approximately $700,000,000 worth of uranium and he expected the figure would be $1,500,000,000 when the negotiation of contracts now in process had been completed. This meant that the gross value of uranium sales when all mines were in full production would be about $300,000,000 per annum. Present contracts cover the period to March 31, 1962, and Mr. Bennett said the figures indicated the importance of maintaining the uranium industry as a going concern after that. He said Canadian nuclear power projects would take up only a small part of Canada's uranium production over the next 20 years. This meant the industry would be dependent on export markets after 1962, as it was at present. PULP INDUSTRY A-POWER Among the items on which design studies were being carried out was a dual-purpose reactor which would provide power and process heat for the pulp and paper industry, and a small reactor which would supply power and space heating in remote areas of the north where the cost of conventional thermal fuels was excessive. Mr. Bennett spoke to the final business session of the association's annual meeting. All speakers during the two days of business sessions predicted a big year ahead for Canada, a busy time for the investment business, and stressed the need for Canadians to invest in their country's growth. Mr. Hughes, in his presidential address, welcomed foreign capital but stated that achievements over the next 50 years would, to a considerable degree, depend upon the willingness of the Canadian people to invest in Canada's future. J.E. Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, said Canada's growth this year will be the biggest in its history.

Irish Alarmed As Sentimental Beauty Spot Goes Up For Sale

KILLARNEY, Ireland (Reuters)—The sentimental Irish who surround these lakes are keeping their eyes wide open for the legendary fairy crock of gold that could allow them to buy Killarney. The boatmen on the lakes and the picturesque jarveys who drive tourists a round in the two-wheeled jaunty cars are as worried as can be about the future of their renowned beauty spot. For Killarney is up for sale. Whoever wrote a hit song called "How Can You Buy Killarney?" a few years ago reckoned without the tax collector. Death duties levied on the estate of the late Earl of Kenmare, who owned Killarney, have made the sale of the 8,320 acres of lakes and land necessary. The advertisements do not state any price but it is known that the crock of gold the Irish seek will have to contain at least $100,000. Irish tourist associates have so far been unable to find the cash and have called on the government to help. THREE DEATHS REASON Mrs. Beatrice Grosvenor, one of the family, is reluctant to sell the lovely estate but she has no option because of the demand for the government claims which was caused by the deaths of three Earls of Kenmare within a few years. One thing the Irish are determined about is that Killarney shall not fall into the wrong hands—moneymakers who would spoil its attractions by introducing speedboats and other garish resort trappings. If the government cannot buy it, an alternative hope is that a wealthy American of Irish descent, sentimental about the land of his fathers, will be the purchaser. The estate for sale includes Ross Castle, the Lower and Middle lakes, and Kenmare house home of the Earls of Kenmare.

Predict U.S. Business Boom To Carry Over Into Next Year

By STERLING F. GREEN WASHINGTON, (AP) After weighing fresh reports from 15 industry sources, the chief economist of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Sunday predicted that 1956 will be the biggest year and "this prosperity ought to carry over into 1957." Dr. Emerson Schmidt, head of the chamber's economic research department, said his prediction would stand even if President Eisenhower should decide, because of his latest illness, not to seek re-election. Dr. Schmidt said that if Eisenhower should withdraw there would be an "initial shock" to confidence, but the "fundamental elements of strength" in the economy soon would reassure businessmen. Executives of 14 trade associations, plus one banker who spoke for himself and did not share the majority's optimism — presented their forecasts to reporters at the chamber's mid-year business symposium. MOST CONFIDENT This year would top last and that the second half of 1956 would outstrip the first six months. A spokesman for the homebuilding industry, however, voiced more hopefulness than confidence, and a representative of the National Automobile Dealers Association was frankly pessimistic. The outlook for car dealers, he said, is "grim." The banker, Justin Bowersock, executive vice-president of the Union Trust Co., Washington, said the "economy will shortly need a shot in the arm" if a business recession is to be avoided. Bowersock suggested the time has come for either tax reduction or an easier money credit policy, or both. The administration is unlikely to recommend tax relief this year, and Federal Reserve Board probably will keep its anti-inflationary lid on the money supply until "the signs of recession are more convincing to it." EXPECTS TROUBLE This, the banker said, could mean a longer and more severe business dip than the mild adjustment which has been foreseen by Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks for the July-September quarter. Weeks has predicted a recovery to record levels of production by the end of the year.

Chaplin To Get Big Tax Bill

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Screen comic Charlie Chaplin, who left the United States four years ago for a villa in Switzerland, is going to be handed a $1,100,000 U. S. income tax bill. A spokesman for the internal revenue service here said Friday a member of the local staff will go to Lausanne, Switzerland, to present the government's claim, based on an alleged tax deficiency in 1953. Although Chaplin was out of the country that year, he disposed of studio properties and other assets here in transactions the government claims netted him some $2,700,000. The tax claim is based on the contention that he was still a resident alien at the time. Chaplin, a British subject although he spent 42 years in the U. S., has filed a petition with the U. S. tax court claiming his American residence ended when he left in 1952.

Grandchildren Bring Gifts To Eisenhower

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's four grandchildren, laden with gifts, paid him a Father's Day visit at Walter Reed Army Hospital Sunday. Accompanied by their parents, Major and Mrs. John Eisenhower, the youngsters arrived a few minutes after noon at the presidential suite where doctors earlier had reported the president in good spirits with morale high. The Eisenhower grandchildren are David, 8, Barbara, Anne, 7, Susan, 4, and Mary Jean, 6 months. Each of the children brought their grandfather, who was in bed a plant in gaily decorated flowerpots which had been painted by the three older youngsters. A 5:15 p.m. EDT bulletin from the hospital reported that Eisenhower had a little meat Sunday, the first since he became ill. Earlier the hospital reported that the president had "a very comfortable night" with 7 1/2 hours of uninterrupted sleep, and at breakfast enjoyed his first "full meal" since undergoing major abdominal surgery a week ago Saturday. Another indication of the president's recovery process was the decision of his personal physician, Maj.-Gen. Howard M. Snyder, to leave the hospital for a while Sunday for the first time since Eisenhower was stricken. The president handled no government business at all Sunday. He will resume a highly-restricted working schedule at the hospital today with morning conferences with Vice-President Nixon and State Secretary Dulles.
