at the stores in the summary held by local residents, continuing the present management of the French language stations, recognizing the need for more spending on programming to provide good quality broadcasting and increased participation of the local community in capital, personnel and the board of directors.

The key was an undertaking, "under penalty of withdrawal of the licence," to ensure the stations always would be managed and directed by "persons who participate in the culture of the communities to be served."

At the public hearing, representatives from the University of Sherbrooke student union said they objected to control of the stations being given to persons who might not be aware of the culture, religion, traditions and aspirations of French-Canadians.

The board recommended for denial a bid to put a strong signal into Toronto.

It ruled the change in the transmitter site being sought by CKVR-TV in Barrie to effect would "create an additional Toronto station" and would run counter to the board's freeze on third stations for areas already having the choice of two channels.

Ecumenical Movement Given Boost

GENEVA PARK, Ont. (CP) — A new constitution aimed at providing ground rules for a genuine ecumenical movement has been approved in principle by the Canadian Council of Churches.

A spokesman said the 15-article constitution aimed at providing ground rules for a genuine ecumenical movement has been approved in principle by the Canadian Council of Churches.

The 92 delegates also approved a new executive headed by President R. S. Dunn of Toronto, a Baptist minister.

He replaces Most Rev. Howard H. Clark, Anglican Primate of Canada.

Other officers are Donald B. Cameron, Toronto, first vice-president, Bishop E. S. Reed, Ottawa, second vice-president, and Wilson Abernathy, Toronto, honorary treasurer.

Revenue Dept. To Register Charitable Organizations

By JAMES NELSON
OTTAWA (CP) — The revenue department will start a new registration of all charitable organizations next month, and after Jan. 1, 1967, donations to them will need official approval to qualify as tax purposes.

Revenue Minister Benson told a press conference that in future, to qualify for tax-free treatment, charities will have to file annual financial reports showing they are operating strictly within the law.

The new procedures, based on an amendment made by Parliament to the Income Tax Act, will probably result in all churches, parishes and congregations using numbered envelopes for Sunday collections, he said.

They will also require all employers to register plans by which they make payroll deductions of employees' contributions to such charities as the United Appeal.

Mr. Benson said the new procedures will require some shifting of staff in the revenue department, but time spent on the new registrations and annual review of charity reports may be less than time now spent trying to double-check individual claims for tax relief.

Under present law, once a charitable organization is registered with the revenue department it can grant receipts for donations allowable as tax deductions with little likelihood of any later checks on whether the organization remains a charitable institution.

USED FOR GAIN

There have been cases of organizations being registered and then being used for private gain.

Also under existing law, there is no way for the government to check on actual donations made to churches in loose cash on the collection plate.

The new law establishes a registrar-examiner of charitable organizations. The post is being filled by J. H. Delavigne, a senior revenue department officer, who told reporters that all major charitable bodies appear to welcome the new procedures.

All qualified charitable organizations will have to satisfy the requirements of the law that their purposes and objects are exclusively in the relief of poverty, the advancement of religion, the advancement of education and "other restricted purposes beneficial to the community as a whole."

KEEP SEPARATE ACCOUNTS

Employers who make payroll deductions for charitable donations and for staff benefit or party funds will have to keep separate accounts. The charitable donations will have to go into an employees charity trust registered with the revenue department.

In 1964, the latest year for which figures are available, 1,404,800 taxpayers claimed deductions for charitable purposes, amounting to $325,686,000.

About 40,000 organizations are expected to register under the new law. Forms will be available Dec. 5 at district taxation offices.

The bidding:

4♠	Pass	4♠	Pass
5♠	Pass	5♠	Pass

Opening lead—jack of clubs.

Some bridge hands are extremely fascinating. Here is an example of one. The deal occurred in a French pair championship many years ago.

If you look at all four hands, it is plain to see that south should make twelve tricks because the trumps, fortunately for him, are divided 3-2. Everything outside of trumps is solid, and the only possible loser is a trump trick.

However, the unlucky dealer who played the hand went down one, and how this extraordinary result occurred is the subject of this tale.

West led a club and South won it with the king. Declarer played a low spade to the king, and on it George Theron, famed international star, dropped the queen!

This sensational play had the desired effect. Declarer was not imbued with the fear that East's queen might be a singleton, which would make West's original spade holding J-9-7-2. In such case, thought South, he could not afford to lead a spade back to the ace, because that would make West's J-9 both tricks and the slam would go down the drain.

So, to guard against the 4-1 possibility, South entered his hand with a diamond and led a low spade towards the ten. This play was bound to hold the loss to only one trump trick if the situation was as South feared. He did not mind it if turned out that East originally had the Q-J alone, because he would lose only one trump trick in such case.

But West won the trick with the jack and East surprisingly followed suit with a trump. West was puzzled for a while about what was going on, finally saw the light, and returned a club. Theron ruffed, and the result of his extraordinary play was that the apparently sure slam went down one.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three I's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
