PRESBYTERIAL.—Members of Presbytery are reminded that the amount to be raised by this Presbytery toward the augmentation fund, as per vote of the synod, will be allocated among the different congregations at the meeting on Nov. 2nd.—Thos. F. Fullerton, Presbytery Clerk.

IN A BAD BOX.—It is customary every year for a clerk to have one week of rest. Well next week commencing November 1st, is my week of rest and that week I always spend with my rich uncle in great New York city. This is where the bad box comes in. You see, if I go to New York I miss something greater than New York. You see, Miss Frankie Carpenter is to be at the Opera House all next week with her own company, supported by Mr. Jere Grady, the favorite singing and dancing comedian, and such a treat as that would be a shame to miss at such low prices, 25 and 35 cents, so I have made up my mind that instead of going to New York, I will take all my spending money and buy a season ticket for the week for myself and my best girl. There is no doubt but Jack will marry that girl.

CALEDONIAN CLUB.—At the annual meeting of the Caledonian Club held last evening the following officers were elected: Chief, T. A. McLean; President, James McIsaac; First Vice, Robert J. Campbell; Second Vice, Charles McGregor; Treas., John McEachern, re-elected; Rec. Sec., Duncan McNeill, by acclamation; Fin. Secretary, David R. McLennan, by acclamation; Cor. Sec., John McLaren; Piper, Peter Ferguson; Board of Directors, Captain Donald McDougall, Capt. R. McMillan, John Smith, James Waddell, D. Small, Charles Webster, A. R. Beaton, East Point; N. McKelvie, Summerside; Murdock Lamont, New London. The club decided to hold the usual dinner on St. Andrew's day, 25th November. The following committee were appointed to make arrangements: T. A. McLean, Duncan McNeill, Sextus McLellan, Charles Webster, James McIsaac.

ST. JAMES' HALL.—The entertainment in St. James' Hall last evening was most successful in every way, a fitting opening to the excellent series of entertainments and lectures prepared for the season of 1897-98. Vocal solos were well given by Mrs. Byrne, Miss McKay, Miss Collings and Mr. Mitchell; the Misses Earle and Mr. Earle sang a trio in good voice; excellent readings were given by Miss Lillian Robertson and Mr. John McPherson; choice instrumental selections were contributed by the Misses McMillan and Brown and Messrs. Earle and Vinnicombe. Before the entertainment closed Dr. Blanchard presented Mr. Pitblado with an address from the Y. M. L. A. and Bible Class. Rev. T. F. Fullerton presided, and intimated that Rev. T. D. Moss would give an intellectual treat on the evening of the 9th Nov., the subject of which would be announced later.

THE HIGHLANDERS AT DARGAN.

(Montreal Gazette)

The Gordon Highlanders at Dargan appear in all things to have behaved as become men wearing the gab of the regiments that have won fame as among the best in an army that has never hesitated before any task, or courted any danger, or reckoned any odds when duty called. The rugged form may mark the mountain band, and harsher features and a more grave But never in battlefield throbbled heart so brave As that which beats beneath the Scottish plaid And when the pibroch bids the battle rave And level for the charge their arms are laid Where lives the desperate foe that for such onset stayed? So sang one who knew how to give due praise to the bold port and martial frown and scorn of death in freedom's cause, that England claims as the mark of her sons, and who could joy in the jest which each blithe comrade round him flings when an Irish regiment presses into the fray. It would be unjust to say that any other regiment would not have done as well as the Gordons, had the opportunity come to it. The opportunity seems to come very frequently, though, when the Highlanders are at the front; and the poet and story teller who has done most to make the soldier's life in India known to the land the soldier serves, has remarked that in setting the battle line the Highland regiment is oftenest put in front of the ugliest looking foe. Their countrymen will think this is not always an accident or an incident; and some who are not their countrymen will, perhaps, half agree with them. At any rate the Gordon Regiment did its duty in such a manner that it can be said none could have done it better, and all in this present Indian campaign, white faced and dark skinned, are doing their duty as British soldiers should.

NOTES FROM MURRAY HARBOR SOUTH.

Potato digging is now almost generally completed in this section of the country. Hon. S. Prowse and wife have lately returned from a trip to Vancouver, British Columbia, and other places where they have been visiting. Senator Prowse met several old acquaintances during his travels, among whom were Duncan Mann, Esq., formerly of Little Sands, P. E. I., the Creightons and others. The dwelling house and barn belonging to Mrs. Samuel McLeod were, a few weeks ago, completely destroyed by fire. Mrs. McLeod, who is totally blind, deserves the sympathy of the community. The cause of the fire is unknown. The dead body of an unknown man, which was evidently washed ashore in Saturday night's storm, was noticed on the shore of James Bell, by a little boy named Phillips, early Sunday morning, the 19 inst. Coroner Barnes was immediately summoned and an inquest was held and the jury returned a verdict that the man came to his death by drowning. The body was badly mutilated, both hands and one leg being off and the head badly disfigured. He was clad in a grey shirt, blue frock coat and a pair of black pants. There was also on him a belt and sheath. He was buried on Monday in the cemetery at Murray Harbor South. Shipping is being carried on to some extent in this port. Mr. J. R. Bailey has chartered the schooner Marion, E. R. Cahoon, master, with a cargo of potatoes, turnips, &c. Mr. J. Roberts, is also loading the schooner Julia, of which R. Penny is master. Several others will load shortly. The railroad surveyors have made their appearance in this village and have reached their destination at Beach Point. They intend surveying another route to Machon's Point and it is said, will take their departure from here on Wednesday next. W. W. B. Murray Harbor South, Oct. 23rd, 1897.
