U.S. Steel Report

CLEVELAND, (AP) - Higher steel prices may balance supply and demand in the steel market, Steel, the metalworking weekly said Sunday. Some analysts believe the balance will be attained in the last quarter of this year. A decline in consumer demand already has been felt following this year's two price increases, which total about $9 a ton. Average price moved up 4.5 per cent a few weeks ago when producers adjusted price extra to reflect changes that took place in production costs while prices were frozen under government controls, the magazine said. The second round of price increases started last week when U.S. Steel, heading a host of smaller producers, announced a cost boost averaging $4 a ton. The price raise followed an 8 1/2 cents an hour pay hike granted steelworkers. "There has been little or no opposition" to the price increases, Steel said. It added: "The steel industry had prepared the public for the increases by stating frankly what was coming."

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, (AP) - The stock market tested its lows of the last year last week, then put on its best rally in nearly a month to close the week with a small average gain. But the week that started out so dramatically ended on a note of unusual quiet. Volume faded to 890,000 shares on Friday - the smallest since Aug. 29, 1952. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed the week at $105.70, up 20 cents over the week before. Its lowest close was $104.30 on Thursday. American Gas and Electric was at the top of the week's most active list. It lost 1-4 at 28 on a turnover of 166,900 shares. Anaconda lead was the most active stock on the American exchange, rising 5-16 to 4 7-16 on 46,200 shares. Canadian stocks closed out higher at week's end. International Nickel and Distillers Seagram each gained 1-8 and Dome Mines advanced 1-4. On the American stock exchange Lake Shore added up 1-8 and Royalite Oil topped up 1-4. Theseus, son of a Greek monarch, is supposed to have originated boxing as an entertainment in 900 B. C.
