Parliament Is Recessed For Two Month Holiday

By RONALD LEBEL
OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament recessed late Friday night for a two-month summer holiday beginning on Sept. 20, unless session on the minority Liberal government's initial round of legislation.

In a pre-holiday festive spirit, MPs closed out the first part of the opening session of the 90th Parliament at 10:38 p.m. EDT (11:38 p.m. ADT) of the 90th sitting day.

Both the Commons and the Senate sat overtime in rare Friday night sitting to complete several of important measures before the government is to become law before recess.

The which red-carpeted upper chamber, MPs and senators assembled as Mr. Justice Wilfred Judson of the Supreme Court of Canada, deputy to the governor-general, gave royal assent to 17 legislative measures and 335 divorce bills.

MAJOR ITEMS

Major items included assent to $60,000,000 municipal loan fund, an Economic Council of Canada, and increases for MPs and senators and formal approval of the controversial 11-per-cent sales tax on building materials and production machinery.

After the royal assent ceremony MPs trooped down the stairs back to their own chambers.

There, Speaker Alan MacKay proclaimed the adjournment to Sept. 20, "unless session convened."

There was a burst of desk-thumping and one relieved reporter in the press gallery dumped his notes on the Commons floor.

Just before adjourning, spokesmen for all parties paid tribute to the Speaker and his conduct of the business of the House. They expressed hope that the co-operative atmosphere of the last few hours would be continued when the Commons resumed its work in the fall.

The closing hours of parliamentary business Friday night saw both Houses reach an agreement to smooth the grant-in-aid of parliamentary expenses for residents of Quebec and Newfoundland, which have no divorce courts. A Commons private member's bill establishing a national day of mourning for the late Sir John G. Diefenbaker, who died in Ottawa last week, was also passed.

Twin Locks For Welland Are Planned

By ROBERT RICE
OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government plans to put some 5,000 men to work over the next five years to twin the locks on the Welland Canal between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie.

The massive $180,000,000 task will make the 27-mile canal into a two-lane waterway capable of handling close to 80,000,000 tons of cargo annually — more than double the present tonnage.

In announcing the project in the Commons Friday, Transport Minister Mitchell also declared that the question of tolls on Welland will be decided by a joint act by the Conservative government — will be reopened for "twinned locks" will not have the same drama and color

By CARMAN SMITH
Three members of a vacationing Ontario family suffered fatal injuries when their car was involved in a collision with another automobile at a short distance from Careton, P.E.I., on Friday afternoon.

James Frederick Spencer, 51, his wife, Wilhelmina Elizabeth, 52, and their daughter, Sharon Whitman, 18, of RR 1, Waterdown, Ontario, lost their lives in the early afternoon crash.

Mr. Spencer and his daughter died instantly and Mrs. Spencer died while being transferred to the Prince County Hospital by an ambulance from Charles' Funeral Home of Troy, Ontario.

A fourth member from the Ontario auto, Dianne Robinson, 18, also from RRI Waterdown and a girl friend of Miss Spencer, was injured but not seriously.

The driver and lone occupant of the other car, IAC Herbert David Olson of RCAP Summerside, was taken to the Prince County Hospital but released after being treated for minor head lacerations and shock.

When the accident occurred the Spencer family, occupying a 1961 yellow European model, was travelling north from Careton beach and camp in the direction of the intersection to the Trans Canada highway leading to Waterdown and drove into the path of Olson's car which was heading to the beach.

The Olson car, a 1963 model, demolished the right side of the Ontario car. Most of the damage sustained on the Olson-driven automobile occurred on the front end of the driver's side.

The force of the collision sent the death car careening across

Wrong Man Executed, MP Claims

LONDON (CP) — Labor MP Finner Brockway told the House of Commons Friday that a man has admitted committing a murder for which James Earl Ray was hanged 15 months ago.

Brockway moved a motion signed by 75 members of Parliament urging an inquiry into the case, but Home Secretary Henry Brooke turned it down on grounds the man's admission was "spurious" and that Harary had been rightly convicted.

The murder victim was Freda's Gregson, 33-year-old physicist, killed two years ago.

The focal point of Harary's trial was the evidence of 28-year-old Miss Valerie Storie, companion of Gregson, who testified that she had seen Harary together in a corridor.

An amendment by former Conservative labor minister Lindsay Stair sought deletion of a clause of the bill that abolishes the National Productivity Service set up in the Commons.

This amendment was defeated 116 to 43, gaining support from Conservative MPs only.

U.S. Bans Arms To South Africa

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States has announced a ban on sales of all military equipment to South Africa by the end of the year. But it opposes punitive action by the United Nations Security Council aimed at forcing South Africa to abandon its white supremacy policies.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson made the announcement to the 14-nation council Friday as it considered requests by African nations for economic penalties against Premier Hendrik Verwoerd's Nationalist government.

Redina Sees End of Nuclear Test Ban Pact

TOKYO (AP) — Red China charged Friday that enslavement of non-nuclear nations is an aim of the partial nuclear test-ban treaty agreed by the Soviet Union, the United States and Britain. It described Soviet leaders — along with Britons and Americans — as freaks and monsters operating with insidious artifice.

The Peking People's Daily, official newspaper of the Chinese Communist party, paired the Kremlin with the Washington administration in a fresh denunciation of the pact to be signed in Moscow Monday.

Both sides in the Moscow Peking fed again named names. The Soviet government newspaper Pravda charged Chinese Premier Chou En-lai showed prominently as long as four years ago. Mr. Chou launched a campaign against the Soviet Communist leadership after the 1959 party congress in Moscow.

Test Borings Start For Quoddy Project

PORTLAND, Me. (CP - AP) — Test borings were started Friday to determine the best location of the hydro-electric plant for the proposed Passamaquoddy quoddy power development.

A U.S. Army engineer, one of several engineers attending a press conference given here by the Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall, announced the start of borings.

Udall compared the Quoddy project, a $1,000,000,000 attempt to harness the tides in the Bay of Fundy to produce hydro-electric power, with an abortive similar project in the 1930s, and said it was like "a 1963 jetliner compared to the commercial aircraft of 1935."

He said it was based on new technologies and new developments in science.

If the U.S. Congress approves the development, it would be built in three stages over a 15-year period.

Udall acknowledged there was scepticism about the feasibility of such a hydro-electric development, but said that tides are "the most certain" source of power. "You can never get a high drought at Quoddy" as might be possible in a river development.

"Taking it on a 100-year or 200-year basis, quoddy is the soundest project of all," he said.

Mr. Chou's vice chairman, Liu Cheng-ch'ing, said that the Chinese peace committee, told a Peking chief that Khrushchev had been eager for several years "to make a deal with U.S. imperialism in order to push the Soviet general line of peaceful coexistence."

The original board members, appointed Jan. 24, are Mr. Wardell, Frank H. Sobey of Donat Lande, Mr. J. G. MacQuinn of Souris, P.E.I., Fred Ayre of St. John's, Nfld., and Donald Lande of Moncton, N.B. Mr. Wardell and Mr. Sobey had five-year terms until 1963. Mr. MacQuinn and Mr. Ayre were appointed and reappointed for three-year terms. Mr. Lande had a three-year post.

The six new appointments were made for the purposes of the 1963-64 term.
