

THE ROYAL CHARTER STEAMER.

The Leviathan iron steamship Royal Charter, Capt Boyce, which put back to Plymouth on Saturday, cleared the Fairway buoy, at Liverpool, at eight o'clock on the evening of Friday, the 18th ult., and continued under steam until Saturday afternoon, when her screw was unshipped and she was put under canvas only. Meeting strong contrary winds, she got into the Biscay, and on Thursday week, near the coast of Portugal, experienced a tremendous hurricane from north-west, the result of which it was determined to bear up, and in the evening the screw was reshipped. The Royal Charter registers 2,785 tons, and has on board, it is said, 2,850 tons of cargo and 600 tons stone ballast. This large freight causes her to be too much immersed at sea, and she took in water so freely, when encountering strong contrary winds, that all the second-class berths were untenable. The fear of Dr. Scoresby and the ship's surgeon assisted in inducing Capt Boyce to return. The repairs of her covering boards and topsides and the discharge of a portion of her ballast will detain her at Plymouth about a week. It appears, that the 600 tons of ballast were taken at Liverpool before the amount of cargo was known, and that goods came pouring in unexpectedly as the period of departure approached. Her managers, however, considered, that the narrowness of her beams would justify the reception of her present lading, as it would tend to stiffen her at sea. This calculation was carried too far. On her trial trip, she drew eighteen feet, she now draws twenty-two feet six inches. Forward she is provided with an iron tank, containing 12,000 gallons of water. The weight of this tank and that of the chain cable and anchors send the ship down by head, and consequently raise her by the stern, through which the operation of the rudder was very much reduced, and connected with another circumstance it became almost useless. When the screw is unshipped, it is raised out of the sea to sufficient height to clean the surface, if she is properly lashed, but with her present cargo she is so deep that one of the fans of the screw constantly acted as a fixed rudder, obstructing the progress of the vessel, and preventing her from answering her helm. With the exception of her being overloaded, the passengers speak highly of the ship, and warmly appreciate the conduct of the captain and the officers. It is a singular coincidence, that the Aberdeen sailing clipper Star of Peace, 1,200 tons, left Plymouth on the 17th inst., for the same destination, and arrived on the 17th ult., the day before the Royal Charter left Liverpool, should, like her competitor, be now under repair in Plymouth sound. Both ships are new, and heavy masts have been staked on their passage to Sydney.

A REMARKABLE PLACE.—A correspondent of the N. Y. Observer writes: "A new Post Office has been established at Hauppauge, Suffolk Co., L. I., which plant is being a passing notice. The village contains about three hundred inhabitants, and for the last twenty years no place for the sale of intoxicating liquors has been kept. For the same period of time, the writer can call to mind the death of seventeen persons whose united ages amount to fourteen hundred and forty-seven years, averaging eighty-five years each. We think few places with a like population can boast the same.

EMBALLING A WIFE.—The following curious circumstance is met meeting several times in the commercial circles. A Yankee captain whose cargo was consigned to Baring & Co. had the misfortune to lose his wife, and being reluctant to throw the body overboard, resolved to bring her to England. A portion of his cargo consisted of cinnamon oil. The captain took a sufficient quantity, placed the body in it, and thus effectually embalmed it. On arriving at London, the captain called upon the parties to whom the oil was consigned, to find how much he was to pay for the lot sent. He was astonished to be told that the value of the oil used was £200, and that it must instantly be paid. Of course this was out of the question, and he was arrested, but bailed by Baring & Co., who, it is said have satisfied the owners. The Customs' authorities having heard the fact refused to allow the cinnamon oil to be landed. The Yankee captain will therefore have to take the cinnamon oil back to America, and there dispose of it. "The oil is used for flavoring pies, pastry, &c."

A Mayo paper mentions, as a significant sign of the progress of Irish prosperity, that the number of marriages at the present marrying season is much greater than it has been for a long series of years. No less than twelve marriages were performed by one Roman Catholic clergyman on a single day last week, in a remote county parish, where perhaps one couple would not have incurred the responsibilities of the nuptial state during recent gloomy years.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

Present, Revs., Albert DeBarrisy, Patterson, Sutherland, McKay, Murray, Allan, Snodgrass, FitzGerald, Murray, Fraser, McKinnis, Burnett, Crawford and McCardin.

Resolved, That the Chair and Commander Ordair appointed Secretary pro tem., the business of the meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. D. Fitzgerald.

That they, the Ministers of different Protestant bodies in this Island, now present in this conference do pledge themselves to bring their helper, to sustain the Temperance movement for the moral and social welfare of the Community at large, and with one heart and mind do express their decided opinion, that the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage can only be effectually suppressed by a Prohibitory Law.
 - II. That they do form themselves into an Alliance for the suppression of the liquor traffic, and do bind themselves to continue their efforts mutually and separately, until the passing of a Prohibitory Law.
 - III. That annual meetings of this Alliance shall be held at Charlottetown or other convenient place; and that on a requisition by any four members of this Alliance, the President shall call a meeting by advertising in any two public papers, and any meeting so called shall be competent to transact business.
 - IV. That Rev. D. Fitzgerald be President, and Rev. W. Snodgrass, Secretary of the Alliance for the current year.
 - V. That copies of the constitution of this Alliance be printed together with the petition prepared at this meeting for presentation to the Legislature and sent out by the Chair and Commander Ordair, praying for their co-operation and subscription to the constitution of this Alliance.
 - Resolved, That this meeting do express themselves deeply sensible of their obligation to the Sons of Temperance in Charlottetown for the accommodation afforded to them and for their active cooperation in the cause of Temperance generally.
- The meeting then adjourned.

JOHN O'LEARY, Secretary.
The proceedings of the Public meeting in the evening will be noticed in our next issue.

The State of Maine has passed an Act to authorise the City of Portland to provide wharf and dock accommodations for Ocean Steamships, and to apply thereto a tax not exceeding $50,000. The Act has been approved by the Governor, but requires a two-thirds vote of the citizens of Portland.

In Russia, some years since a large amount in forged notes obtained a circulation and despite the exertions of the police their origin could not be traced. An accident, however, brought that mystery to light. Several cases of lead-pencils arrived one day from England, and were being examined, when one of them fell out from a package, and the custom house officer picking it up, cut it to a point, he used to sign the order which delivered the cases to his consignee. He kept the one loose pencil for his own use; and afterwards because it needed fresh point cut it again, and found that there was no more lead. Another chip into the pencil brought to light a ball of paper nested into hollow place. This paper was one of the false notes, engraved in London, and thus passed into the dominions of the Muscovite.

A Mayo paper mentions as a significant sign of the progress of Irish prosperity that the number of marriages at the present marrying season is much greater than it has been for a long series of years. "My brothers," said a waggish colored man to a crowd, in all affliction, in all oh your troubles, dar is one place you can always find sympathy.

"Wear 'er?"

"In de dictionary," he replied, rolling his eyes.

THE CASE OF A YANKEE.—An ingenious downester, who has invented a new kind of "Love-to-ink ink" which he has been selling a safeguard against all actions for breach of promise of marriage, inasmuch as it entirely fades from the paper in two months after date, was recently done brown by a brother down-ester, who purchased a hundred boxes of the article, and gave his note for ninety days.

"What do you do to make yourself look delicate?" said a young woman to her friend. "Why," said she, "sometimes I eat slate pencils and then for a change I drink vinegar and chew green grass. When these fail, I lay tighter, and wear the thinnest soled shoes I can buy."

WATCHFULNESS.—In private watch your thoughts; in the family watch your temper; in company watch your tongue.

VERY UNOALANT.—The last Knickerbocker has the following upon a poetess with red hair:—
"Unfortunate woman, how bad is your lot—
"Your ringlets are red, and your poems are not."

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING.

The Eighteenth Annual Meeting of the Prince Edward Island Auxiliary Bible Society, was held at the Temperance Hall, in this City, on the Evening of Friday last, the 7th inst., as advertised. The Hon. the Chief Justice took the Chair at 7 o'clock. At this time, the room was not more than half-filled, and it was feared, that the unpleasant weather would prevent a good attendance. In a short time, however, accessions began to pour in, and the number present was equal to the best attendance on former occasions. After singing and prayer by the Rev. Mr. McMurray, the Hon. Chairman opened the proceedings of the evening with a few appropriate remarks, and called upon the Secretary (Mr. Cudwill) to read the Report for the past year.
