

The City Council.

An adjourned meeting of the City Council was held last evening. Present: The Mayor, Recorder and Councilors Murphy, Chappelle, Lawson, Davy, McLean, Smith, Koughan, Byrne and Merris.

The Mayor, after reminding the Council that a dangerous explosive existed in the suburbs, and informing them of his action regarding the matter, stated that he had telegraphed the consignees and shippers as follows:—

CHARLOTTETOWN, Nov. 15, 1881. H. H. FULLER & Co., Halifax.

Dynamite from Montreal to your address can be reshipped by schooner for $350. If it is moved within 48 hours will destroy, as dangerous to city. Wire answer. (Signed) W. E. DAWSON, Mayor.

(REPLY.)

HALIFAX, Nov. 15, 1881. W. E. DAWSON, Mayor.

Better telegraph Hamilton Powder Co., Montreal, they being shippers and owners. (Signed) H. H. FULLER & Co.

CHARLOTTETOWN, Nov. 15, 1881. HAMILTON POWDER CO., Montreal.

Wired Fuller & Co. that dynamite can be reshipped at a cost of $350, if not removed within 48 hours will destroy it, as dangerous to city. They reply telegraph you as owners. Answer immediately. (Signed) W. E. DAWSON, Mayor.

(REPLY.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 16, 1881. W. E. DAWSON, Mayor.

Do not destroy the explosives; it is safer to handle and store than gunpowder. Will send man to remove it if Fuller has not sent one. (Signed) HAMILTON POWDER CO.

Councillor Koughan explained how the shipment was landed here, and assured the Council the Land League had nothing to do with it.

A watchman was then appointed to take charge of the explosive until the owners or consignee would arrive.

A petition was read from the Charlottetown Woollen Factory Company, asking that they be exempted from taxation. After a short discussion it was,—

Resolved, That this Council, having considered the petition now presented by the Charlottetown Woollen Factory Company, setting out that they have put into operation a Factory for the purpose of manufacturing woollen cloth, blankets, flannels, yarns, &c., in the building situated at Spring Park, within the limits of the City of Charlottetown, and asking exemption from taxation on its property, buildings, lands, premises, machinery and all profits on property connected therewith, for the space of five years, do hereby, by virtue of the power and authority vested in them by the Provincial Statute, 44 Victoria, Chap. 23, exempt the said Charlottetown Woollen Factory for five years from taxation, beginning on the 1st day of January next, A. D., 1882, in manner following, that is to say:—

1st, From the payment of any real estate tax levied during these years on these premises as at present occupied by them.

2nd, From the payment of income tax on the profits of their said business during these years, upon the following conditions, namely:—

1st, That the said Charlottetown Woollen Factory shall, during the said period of five years, spend every year in their said premises a sum not less than $5,000 a year in wages.

2nd, That the said Factory shall not, during the said period alter or vary the nature of their said business on said premises as same is set forth herein and in said petition.

3rd, That the said Factory shall not during the same period add to such business any business of a different nature, without notifying the Council of such addition, and on fresh petition obtaining exemption therefor, or paying all taxation levied on the new industry so added.

An application was also read from Messrs. Dorsey, Goff & Co., of the Charlottetown Boot and Shoe Factory, asking exemption from taxation. A similar resolution to the above—granting the prayer of the petitioners on the conditions mentioned—was unanimously passed.

The Council adjourned sine die.

MUTTON CANNING.—The Moncton Times correspondent at Bayfield, says: The mutton canning has already become quite extensive. Only a few weeks have been spent at this work, and up to the present time 450 sheep have been compressed into 15,000 cans. They have only ten hands employed now, but the number will be increased as the business demands. A schooner was loading last Tuesday, 8th, for Charlottetown, from which place they are shipped for a firm in London, G. B. A very pretty label is put on the cans, containing a sheep on one side and over is "fresh roast mutton." Beneath it "Hughes & Co., Charlottetown, P. E. I.," while on the other side is a little girl and a lamb, and over them in large type "Bo-peep Brand." Altogether we think the get-up is very neat and pretty. An order has been received from England for 200 boxes, or 10,000 cans, of rabbit. They intend filling the order as soon as rabbits can be snared. We are expecting great things from this speculation and no doubt this accounts for the great activity around the "corner." This shows what might be done if we had the Cape Tormentine Railway. We believe this place would soon show itself equal to the demands of business.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Pigs, Eggs, Butter, etc.

Besides the above there were also large quantities of coal, scrap iron, dried and fresh fish and general merchandise. There were some 10,000 blis less mackerel shipped this season than last, owing to the failure of the fisheries on P. E. Island. The lobster shipments were large, although the catch was diminished about half.

An Important Case.

An important judgment was delivered in the Supreme Court at Ottawa on Monday, in the Mercer estate case, which in a measure finally disposes of the constitutional question affecting the right of Provincial Governments to property escheating to the Crown. The several Provinces have heretofore claimed under the Act of Confederation the right of property escheating to the Crown. This judgment denies that the hereditary revenues of the Crown in Canada have been transferred to the Provinces. The case will probably be escheated to the Imperial Privy Council, although it is thought to be doubtful whether, in the face of the decision of the Supreme Court, Her Majesty will exercise her prerogative in allowing appeal. The property involved is about $200,000, and had been seized and appropriated by the Ontario Government for public purposes. In view of the judgment given the Ontario Government will have to disgorge, and Mr. McDougall expects the Crown will, as is customary in England, transfer it to the family of the deceased. The constitutional question is important in so far as it settles the relative rights of the Crown, and the Dominion and the Provincial Government. Some of the ablest lawyers were engaged in the case, which has been watched with great interest throughout.

West India Trade.

CHIEF JUSTICE ARMSTRONG ON CANADA'S OPPORTUNITY.—AN OPENING FOR A PROFITABLE TRAFFIC.

Chief Justice Armstrong, of St. Lucia, Windward Islands, who has been in Ottawa for several days, thinks that a profitable trade might be built up between Canada and the Islands by the establishment of a subsidized line of steamers. He is of opinion that the Brazilian line cannot engage in the Brazilian and West India trade at the same time, because when a steamer is to sail the five thousand and some odd hundred miles between Canada and Brazil it will not pay for her to deliver a portion of the cargo at a port only 1,500 miles away. For instance, if you want to send some lumber to Chicago you would send a whole barge load; you wouldn't think of stopping to leave part of your cargo at Prescott. It is just the same with the Brazilian trade. He adds:—"You must have separate lines for each. If you had a good line of fast steamers running between Canada and the West Indies I have no doubt there would soon be a large and remunerative trade between the two places. I recently wrote a letter to the Montreal Gazette on this subject over my own signature. Had I contemplated saying anything on this subject when I left home I could have brought a number of documents and statistics that would have been of great value in the discussion of the question."

A Halifax Betting Case.

DISGRACEFUL REVELATIONS IN THE RENNER-SCHOFF CASE.

The Halifax correspondent of the Boston Herald says the case of Renner vs. Schoff, now on trial in the Supreme Court here, produces a great sensation in sporting circles. He describes the trouble as follows:

Healey, a professional athlete of St. John, N. B., had a contest here in boxing, wrestling and club swinging, against three separate men, each an expert, Healey to win two out of three or be considered defeated, and hundreds of dollars were lost. A number of those who bet on him asserted that the affair was a swindle, and sued the stakeholder, D. Schoff. The first of these suits was tried to-day. The plaintiff, Alexander Renner, says he was induced to believe that Healey was to win, and entered into a plot with Schoff and others to buy Healey, the opposing boxer, to lose, and pay his share of the money for this arrangement. Then he bet $600 on Healey and placed the stakes in Schoff's hands. That party played double with his friends, and bought Healey to lose. The evidence exposes most outrageous swindling all round, and the judge remarked that it was not unlikely that the plaintiff, defendant and witnesses will sojourn at the penitentiary before all is over. Eminent counsel are engaged, among others C. A. Tupper, son of the Canadian Minister of Railways, for the plaintiff, and Hon. J. S. D. Thompson, Attorney General for the Province, for the defence. Nagle and McKay, oarsmen, and numerous St. John and Halifax sporting men are witnesses, and it is believed that incidentally some light will be thrown on the true inwardness of aquatic contests in Halifax and Toronto, about which Halifax losers are suspicious.

The plaintiff's evidence was rather interesting. He said he went to St. John and offered Healey 10 per cent. if he would tell the truth. He (Healey) said he could not swear he was beaten on his merits. He refused the offer. He told him he was knocked out of time.

LATER.

HALIFAX, Nov. 19.—Renner vs. Schoff has been concluded. Judgment was reserved till the argument on the subject is held. Quirk, Allan and McNeill vs. Schoff was called to-day and passed. They all depend on the decision in the Renner case.

The first direct importation of Tea from China was landed in St. John, N. B., last week. The bill of lading is dated Shanghai, Aug 5th, 1881, by steamship Glanis Castle, via Suez Canal, and the packages bear the imprint "St. J.," their original destination being St. John. The goods were bonded in New York, and thereby came under the clause of the Revenue law which allows direct imports of Tea to come in at a lower rate of duty than if purchased in the United States. Messrs. Hall & Fairweather are the importers, and express themselves strongly as to the fine order in which the goods came to hand.—St. John Sun.

ALFRED HENRY MCCLINTOCK, M. D., L. L. D., ex-President of the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland, died at his residence, Merion Square, Dublin, on the 11th ult., on his sixtieth birthday. This distinguished physician was next youngest brother of Vice Admiral Sir Francis Leopold McClintock, the Arctic explorer, and second son of the late Mr. Henry McClintock, of Dundalk, by Elizabeth Melesina his wife, daughter of Ven George Fleury, D. D., Archdeacon of Waterford. He was consequently cousin of the first Lord Rathdonnell. Dr. McClintock married May 2, 1848, Eanny, daughter of John Loftu Cuppage, Esq., nephew of the first Viscount Castlemaine, and leaves issue.

NEWS NOTES.

Pierre Paulinerve, Archbishop of Besancon, is dead.

In his work on worms, Mr. Darwin points out that Stonehenge has not been brought to its decadence by time alone. The earth worm has undermined it, stone by stone, and the very monolith lately propped up by Sir E. Antrobus has probably been put out of the perpendicular by the action of the worm.

The London Lancet attributes the remarkable success of bone setters to the fact that they will often rush in where experienced surgeons fear to tread, in very ignorance of the risks they run. "In a considerable proportion of cases no evil consequences ensue, and the violence of the unskilled is rewarded. It is, however, scarcely fair to call these persons unskilled. There is an art (the result of manipulative investigation) about their proceedings."

A few days ago it was reported from Havana that about twenty million dollars in the shape of taxes had been embezzled or pilfered or prevented from reaching the Cuban treasury. It now appears that the amount captured was ten million dollars. That is a great deal less than twenty million dollars; but ten millions constitute a splendid steal. Anglo-Saxon pilferers on both sides of the Atlantic must envy their Cuban brethren the magnificent opportunities which made a ten million dollar steal possible.

Dr. Joseph Barclay, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of Jerusalem, died in that city on the 22nd ult. He was graduated with distinction at Trinity College, Dublin, in 1854, and in 1858 went to Constantinople as a missionary. From 1861 to 1871 he acted as incumbent of Christ Church, Jerusalem, and ex officio chaplain to Bishop Gobart, when he returned to England, and spent eight years in that country, the last six as rector of Stapleford, Herts. In 1879 he was appointed to the bishopric of Jerusalem, in succession to Dr. Gobart. Dr. Barclay was an accomplished Orientalist, and a translator and commentator on the Talmud.

If the Irish landlords have a good case, they are now doing their best to damage it by forcing the tenants into solidarity under the land act. The administration of this act demonstrates that the Irish tenant need not submit to rack rents, that he has rights and that the law treats him considerably, kindly, generously. The landlords, on the other hand, begin to raise obstacles, and to resort to expensive litigation. This in turn will make the tenants stand by the law, particularly if the landlords should seek its modification in Parliament. It is fair to add that the Irish landlords have not displayed much wisdom. They have relied on foolish contracts, and are very much astonished to find that the land act does not respect such contracts. It would be a strange sight if the landlords became vicious and the tenants appealed to the government for protection. Meanwhile it is manifest to the duller understanding that the land act is the hope and comfort of the Irish tenant.—Boston Advertiser.

A terrible chapter of crime, of remarkable tenacity of life, and of misfortune is related in the life history of Tilford Gregory, who, twelve years ago, was a well-to-do and influential citizen of Louisville, Ky. About that time he was enticed by an assassin to a lonely spot one hundred miles from Louisville, in Indiana, on a pretense of showing him a valuable tract of land for sale. There the assassin seized a favorable opportunity to fell Gregory to the earth with a club. He then drew a knife and stabbed him several times in the brain. To make sure of killing he attempted to search out the man's heart with the sharp steel, and plunged the blade seven times in the breast of his victim. Gregory being a large fleshy man, the knife did not reach a vital spot; yet when the robber left him he was at death's door. In this condition, with his life's blood gradually wasting away, he lay in that lonely spot all the afternoon and through the night till the next morning, and when by chance he was discovered so nearly dead that it was feared he would die before he could be gotten to the nearest village to identify the man, who had been arrested in his flight from the wood. He, however, held on to life and identified the man, and the fellow was immediately hanged to a tree in the presence of his victim. Gregory slowly recovered, but thereafter was incapacitated for business, and his property gradually wasted away. He could once have drawn his check for $10,000, but has of late years been a street beggar, and now, at the age of 60 years, he is slowly dying in a garret.
