THE DAILY EXAMINER.

MAY 30, 1892.

Still Unaccounted For.

THE shortage of nearly $5,000 in the accounts of the Land Office and the contradictory explanations of the Government regarding it, show a deplorable state of affairs in that department. When Mr. Shaw first made the charge of a shortage, he was told by members of the Government that it arose from the interest falling due at irregular periods throughout the year. It was easy to see that this excuse would not avail, as interest on every account would mature at some period in the year and would, of course, be charged. The Patriot next pleaded that there was a similar shortage in 1888. That was enough to take away one's breath. A part of the Strong defalcations was proved to have happened in that year, and the Davies-Peters clique very justly regarded it as a serious matter. The next effort to grapple with the shortage was the Patriot's attempt to cover it up by counting $4,903 cash paid into the Treasury twice. After performing this feat and showing, in its own peculiar way, that the Land Office had, in 1891, got four hundred and eighty-nine dollars too much, the organ complacently demanded an apology from Mr. Shaw and THE EXAMINER for slandering the innocent Commissioner. Considering that the organ had shown Mr. McMillan to be the happy possessor of $489 of unclaimed money, it would not be surprising if he were called upon to stand the oysters. But what is the matter with the Patriot now? Has the $489 turned out to be bogus? It looks like it, for we observe the organ says nothing regarding it, but openly admits a shortage of $3,823 36!! This is got by deducting of payments $598.19 from the $4,514 shown to be short by Mr. Shaw. By a statement submitted to the House, these refunds were shown to be mainly Sheriff's expenses, which should be, and no doubt were, charged to the several farms proceeded against, and, therefore, cannot be used to reduce the shortage which stands at over $4,500.

The organ now falls back on the old excuse, that the application of Mr. Shaw's method of calculation would show discrepancies in the ledger balances of former years: therefore, Mr. McMillan should not be blamed, although a large sum is not accounted for by him!! But the Patriot does not apply Mr. Shaw's method to the transactions of former years. While it gives Mr. McMillan credit for the enormous sum of NINE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO DOLLARS, deductions made in 1891, it does not allow one cent under that head for the years when Messrs. Ferguson and Bentley held the office. By treating the accounts of 1891 in the way the Patriot treats those of former years, Mr. McMillan is short over FOURTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS—a pretty big stroke for eight months!!

It is evident, however, that the organ mainly rests its defence of the Land Office on the plea that the balance of $411,880.67, shown by Mr. Bentley to be due as balances on open accounts at the 31st of December, 1890, was "several thousands of dollars more than the actual amount due at that date." This contention is no better than the others, which have so signally failed to satisfy the public. A starting point, which cannot be questioned, is got at the 31st December, 1889. The report of the Department for 1889 showed a balance of $410,693.54. The balances on the township ledgers at that date were taken off, first by the department, then by the commissioners, Messrs. Carvell and Arnaud, and afterwards jointly by the commissioners and the department. The balance was found to be $412,977.93, or $2,284.29 more than shown by the report of the department (see page 22, commissioners' report). The difference was found to occur mainly in items relating to certain lands bought in by the Commissioner at sheriff's sale, and finally included by direction of the commissioners. Taking the commissioners' balance of $412,973.93, at December 31st, 1889, as a starting point, the transactions of 1890 would come out in this way, by Mr. Shaw's method of calculation:

Balances due Dec. 31st, 1889, as shown by commissioners Carvell and Arnaud	$412,977 93
Value of new accounts opened in 1890	3,517.38
	$416,495.31
Deduct cash paid into treasury in 1890	24,279.70
	$392,215.61
Add interest on $388,698.23	19,434 91
Total amount of open accounts to 31st December, 1890	$411,650 52

To this amount should be added interest on a sum equal to the cash received on new accounts, and also whatever fees were collected for deeds and searches, say, altogether, $400. A sum equal to the interest on balances unpaid on the Selkirk estate should be deducted—say $200. This would leave the balance on the 31st of December, 1890, substantially the same as shown by the report of the department.

Not one of the many pleas put in for the Commissioner, regarding the shortage in his accounts, are worth anything. The starting point of $411,880.00 is fully verified, and the sum of nearly FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS IS SHORT AND UNACCOUNTED FOR.

The discrepancies of former years are no excuse for present deficiencies. The Patriot is wrong in its alleged shortage of $8,766.88 in 1888. A much smaller sum is, it is true, found short in that year by the application of Mr. Shaw's method, and without making any allowance for deductions such as for short areas, some of which had to be made in every year. We are assured that the greater part of the shortage of 1883 arose from the sale of lands under precept and bought in by the Commissioner in September of that year. As the value of some of these lands, as they stood on the Township ledgers, was certainly ficticious, they were not included in the annual statement as balances due the Government. The discrepancies between the balances of different years between 1880 and 1890 were partly due to the dropping from the general statement of some of these lands and their inclusion, as they were realized from, in subsequent years. The excess in 1890 was produced by including all such items by direction of Messrs. Carvell and Arnaud. Discrepancies were also produced, inevitably, by necessary reductions, such as for short area, and also by the Strong defalcations.

We believe that Mr. McMillan has included all the fictitious balances referred to in his statement for last year, and he is allowed the immense sum of NINE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED AND FIFTY TWO DOLLARS for allowances and deductions, yet he is over $4,500 short. Some $200 or $300 should be deducted from this as interest not charged on the lands of the Selkirk estate. But this is more than offsetted by interest on a sum equal to the cash received on new accounts, as well as cash received for deeds and searches.

We again ask the Government what they are going to do about this shortage? The auditor's certificate of the correctness of the cash is worthless, because it is certain that he did not audit the Township Ledgers, and if he had done so and proved the cash right, it would only prove something wrong elsewhere. Either other reductions, besides the $9,552, admitted by the Government, have been made and kept concealed from the Legislature, or somebody is in default. Mr. Peters and Mr. McMillan cannot afford to let the matter stand as it now is. There must be an independent inquiry, and no inquiry will suffice unless, like that of Messrs. Carvell and Arnaud, it goes to the bottom of the reductions and allowances, as well as the cash transactions.

The Egg Market.

THE Patriot, of Saturday, bases its leading editorial article upon a typographical error of THE EXAMINER, of Friday. Referring to our increasing export of eggs for the British market, we stated that "one of our city dealers is reported to have sent sixty cases containing ninety thousand dozen." The words as written were "nine thousand dozen." The error was self-evident. But still the Patriot endeavors, on the strength of it, to convict THE EXAMINER of having "falsified" the egg market. THE EXAMINER'S statement that the "price of eggs has stiffened a little" was founded on the statement of a buyer that he had lost $37 in cash by not holding a quantity of eggs which he had sold for a week longer than he did, and on the statement of a clerk in one of the buyers' stores who in reply to the simple question, "What are you giving for eggs?" replied instantly, "Ten cents." It appears now that he meant "in goods," the cash price being nine cents. The prices paid for eggs inside the Market House here on Tuesday last were ten and eleven cents a dozen, and the Boston quotations for Thursday last was seventeen cents. On the same day, the Toronto Globe reported that "the offerings are liberal and the market is easy at 10½c." That Boston is our largest and handiest market for eggs and that the supply and demand at Boston still govern the market, here are facts which THE EXAMINER has never denied. In respect to eggs, we have no desire other than that the country people shall get full value for them, and that the dealers shall obtain fair profits. We want to see the country prosper in spite of the McKinley Bill or any other Yankee invention, and, therefore, we are glad to note that an increasing quantity of eggs are being sent to England.

Notes and Comments.

—The Patriot's attack upon THE EXAMINER'S egg market report is to be accounted for, no doubt, by its desire to divert attention from the scandalous acts of the Peters-McLean-Farquharson combination.

—The Toronto Globe carps at Mr. Mowatt's acceptance of a knighthood, and the Montreal Gazette remarks that this is probably the annexation editor's way of hitting a man who helped to kick the life out of his scheme for getting Canada to take the first bite of the annexation cherry in the shape of unrestricted reciprocity.

—Many friends in every part of the country will regret the death of Isaac Clarke, Esq., which occurred on Saturday last. Mr. Clarke was one of the most widely known and most highly respected residents of Cape Traverse. He was an honest man, and numbers of those who have crossed at the capes and were compelled to wait at Cape Traverse have enjoyed his cheery hospitality. His funeral will be held to-morrow.

—Says the London Times of May 12: "The committee formed, under the presidency of the Marquis of Lorne, for the restoration of the library of Toronto University have brought their labors to a successful close. Having sent out 30,000 volumes, they are now forwarding, as a last instalment, some 350 volumes of the Prussian scientific libraries, the generous gift of the German Emperor."

—At a meeting of the promoters of a scheme to construct a ship railway between Lake Ontario and Georgian Bay, the Huron Tarce Ship Railway company was organized with David Blair, of Toronto, as managing director. Mr. Blair has been empowered to open negotiations with capitalists and to make such arrangements with them as will ensure the early commencement of the work of construction. So that the Chignecto Ship Railway will not be alone upon the earth.

—Mr. W. C. DesBrisay writes to the Empire: Allow me to correct a statement in yesterday's Empire. Dr. Schurman, the new President of Cornell University, is not a native of Nova Scotia, but of Prince Edward Island. He is of Loyalist stock, and I remember him a while he was a student at the Prince of Wales College, some 20 years ago, working enthusiastically for the Liberal-Conservative party in Charlottetown—and this before he was of age. Prince Edward Island is small, but she has sons of whom she is proud, to wit: Archbishop O'Brien, whom you have occasion frequently to introduce to your readers as a noble and patriotic Canadian; Dr. Schurman, only 38 years of age and with a great future before him; and W. C. Macdonald, Montreal's millionaire manufacturer and benefactor of science. Nor are these by any means all.

New Catholic Hall.

A meeting was held in St. Patrick's Hall last evening to consider the advisability of erecting a Catholic hall in the city. There was a good attendance. John McSwain, Esq., Principal of Queen Square School, occupied the chair.

His Lordship Bishop Macdonald, after referring to the necessity there was for such an institution as that proposed—a place where the young people particularly could spend their evenings with pleasure and profit—offered to give the property on Water Street, opposite the Davies Hotel as a site for the new hall, provided it was decided to go ahead with the work of erection. If this place were not suitable, His Lordship said he would allow the land to be sold and the money realized thereon to go towards the purchase of site on some other locality.

After some remarks from the Judge of Probate, Councillor Hogan, Captain Paoli, Thomas Handrahan, Maurice Blake, James McIsaac, Charles Lyons, James H. Reddin, John McLellan, Joseph McCarey and others, it was decided to go ahead with the work of erecting the hall, and a committee of five was appointed to look up a suitable site and procure plans and estimates of cost to submit to a future meeting. This committee is composed of Thomas Handrahan, M. P. Hogan, J. B. Macdonald, Thomas Campbell and Maurice Blake.

Before the meeting adjourned a subscription list was opened and a snug sum was subscribed.

We understand that the idea is to fit up the hall as a gymnasium, reading room, etc., and to provide games and amusements.

The idea is a splendid one, and we wish the movement the fullest measure of success.

The question as to how the First Minister is to be addressed in future has been puzzling some of his friends who have been accustomed to speak to him as "Mr. Abbott." The Premier is the happy possessor of three given names, all good ones, John, Joseph and Caldwell, either of which would "go" well with the prefix "Sir." We have already in Canada, however, Sir Johns and Josephs, and it has been suggested that "Sir Caldwell" Abbott would not only sound well but be distinctive. It appears that, although Mr. Abbott has been familiarly known as "John Abbott" by his friends, he was accustomed, for many years, have his and his wife's cards engraved as Mr. and Mrs. J. Caldwell Abbott and it is just possible that his third name may be brought into use again. All things considered, however, it is most probable that the new Knight will be known as Sir John Abbott and that the two Sir John's, Sir John Abbott and Sir John Thompson, will continue to direct the affairs of Parliament in the Senate and Commons respectively.

MATERNAL INSTINCT IN A CAT.—Last week a cat belonging to William Buckler, who resides on the Moose Rood, back of Bridgetown, N. S., gave birth to a number of kittens, which were promptly drowned by a member of the family. On the following day the cat brought home a young squirrel and placing it in a box from which her kittens were taken, nursed it as if it had been one of her own offspring, not leaving it for upwards of twenty-four hours. At last accounts the cat and her adopted charge were still maintaining the position of mother and child.

Twenty-four hundred square feet having been allotted for the Ontario fruit display, and it is expected that room will be allotted for the exhibition of 2,500 packages of dairy products.

WHEN Madame Raymond, the latest French murderess, is brought to trial, the doctors will, no doubt, be able to establish her insanity. Medical proof should hardly be necessary in the case. The woman was clearly mad when she married a man whose character, according to the information at hand, was previously known to her parents. But she married for fashion and convenience, and lived apart from her inestimable "better" half for the same reason. And it was in the "height of fashion," says the chronicler, she shot and stabbed to death her abandoned rival. Counsel in the Deacon case uttered a very solemn truth the other day, when he said that the usages of modern society which allow a husband and wife to live apart from each other are responsible in the first place for all the mischievous and disgusting scandals which fill the newspapers about fashionable people. This custom, if not a violation in itself, is at least a contemptuous treatment of the marriage vow. Of course it is impossible to prescribe a remedy until people of loose morals consent to return to the right principles. As long as they insist upon following their own bent, decent society may, in justice to itself, be entitled to ask that the murders and minor developments of modern manners be disposed of under the old-fashioned criminal laws with as little fuss as possible.
