TOBACCO PROTECTION.

The "free trade" Government has added to the protection afforded by it in respect to several articles—particularly the growth and manufacture of tobacco. By the changes effected in the customs and excise tariff, in respect to tobacco—home-grown tobacco has now a substantial advantage in the home markets. The result is the rapid growth of the tobacco industry in Canada. In 1894, 300,000 pounds of native tobacco were manufactured in Canada; last year the amount used rose to nearly 2,250,000 pounds. There are now nineteen factories in Canada which manufacture the home-grown weed, as against seventeen which depend on imported raw material. The native tobacco is chiefly grown in counties along the north shore of the St. Lawrence, contiguous to Montreal, and in western Ontario, in Essex county, which lies along the Detroit River. A great improvement in quality has been shown as a result of greater care in cultivation. Perhaps the price of tobacco will come down by-and-by. It is still a cent a fig higher to the consumer than it was when our inconsistent Government took office. The Conservatives managed to lower prices, in many cases, as a result of protection. But the false Liberals haven't managed to do so in respect to the pet article protected by them.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—It has been truly remarked by the Gazette that wherever there is an independent newspaper in Canada there is a more or less hostile critic of the Laurier Government.

—There is considerable comment in Paris over the report that Field Marshal Count Van Walderssee, is to be appointed commander-in-chief of the allied forces in China. It is argued there that although he has been appointed commander of the German troops it does not follow that he will be made generalissimo of the allies in China, or even of the troops that are operating in the Peiho Valley. The French, naturally, don't like the idea of being led by a German.

—Pomologists, who have just held the sixth annual meeting of the United States National Apple Growers' Association, report that this is to be the greatest apple-growing year in the history of the country. The crop is estimated at more than sixty million barrels. "One propagator," says a report, "has succeeded in producing a seedless apple, which is said to be superior in flavor to ordinary kind." The crop of apples in Canada is enormous also this year, and one does not need to be seedless to beat any other apples in the world in flavor.

—The reports that the Duke of Argyll left all his wealth as far as possible to his second wife, thus cramping the Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise, do not appear to be true. The old Duke provided amply for his second wife, but that was all. His will is just to the others. The will contains this queer provision: "I desire that my body shall be cremated or burnt at the most convenient crematorium nearest my place of decease. I desire, further, that the ashes remaining be placed in an urn or some other such vessel, and be deposited in a vault at Kilmun, as near as may be to the remains of my first wife, where nearest again, I hope my present wife will be also laid." It may be unparliamentary to say it, but that phrase "nearest again," is highly suggestive of the story of the man who wanted to be buried between his first and second wife, with "a cant towards Biddy."

A CLEVER NOVA SCOTIAGRIL L.

The many friends of that clever little actress, Miss Christie McDonald, of Picton, will hail with delight the success she is making in theatrical circles in New York. Miss McDonald, as The Cadet Girl, is said by the New York Sun to have scored the one unadulterated hit of the season. "She played the role," says the Sun's critic, "not only in a letter-perfect manner, but with far more distinction and repose than any other member of the company." Miss Virginia Earle, a celebrated actress, and Miss Lulu Glaser, who has held first place in the Herald Square theatre, were both reminded that they had made the mistake of their careers in permitting Miss McDonald to assume the title role. The Sun further says: "Her performance has placed her as an artist now some little in advance of either of them. In short, it was far and away the best work that Miss McDonald has ever done."—Truro Guardian.

A Warlike Queen.

LORENZO MARQUES, Aug. 14.—The Swazi Queen, who has been sending repeated messages asking permission of the British for an army of 14,000 warriors to attack Barberton, Kaapmuiden, and Koonatipoort has been officially warned to abstain from any interference.

THE OLDEN DAYS.

Do your fancies ever wander
To the lightsome, happy days,
When we roamed the fields up yonder
Where the cattle used to graze?
Do you ever hear at nightfall
When the air is soft and still
The ding-ding-dong of the cow-bell
In the pastures on the hill?

Do you ever see the meadows
Where the fallen clover lay,
In the winding vale that bred us,
When we made the summer hay?
Do you ever smell the odor,
As we smelt it long ago,
When the scented grass we mowed o'er,
Or we raked it in a row?

Do you ever taste such pleasure
As of yore you tasted when,
Walking from the church at leisure,
With a maiden down the glen,
When her eyes shone like the dew
drops,
And you feel a sense of bliss,
As you gazed upon her red lips,
Then to innocent to kiss?

Oh, the days we love to think of
Are the days when, young and true,
Ere the world's hot draughts we drink
of,
And our cups of sorrow brew,
'Tis these thoughts are with us longest
When our memories lose the stain,
And are uppermost and strongest
As we totter to the grave.

POWNAI NOTES.

Haying is about over for this season and in this section has been a good cut.

The late copious rains has been a great boon to the farmers. Pastures were dry and bare, and the after grass did not start. Grain and roots were suffering. But everything is now taking on a better look. Tourists still continue to come and go. Our hotels are being well patronized. Travellers say there is no prettier place on earth than Pownal and vicinity.

Our new minister, Rev. Mr. Opie, is making a favorable impression. His sermons are eloquent, earnest and impressive. This was especially so on Sunday evening last, as he spoke from the 107 Psalm, verse 23: "They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters." As the rev. gentleman vividly and minutely described the life on the ocean wave, and the helps and appliances needed by the mariner to reach the desired haven, viz, the sun, the chart, the compass and the pilot, and then contrasting the voyage of the Christian on life's troubled sea, to the heaven of eternal rest, showing the helps needed and always available, viz, Christ, the Sun of Righteousness, whose face is never shadowed by a cloud; the Word of God, the great and only chart, where all rocks and shoals are plainly marked, and "the way" clearly shown, he likened the conscience to the compass, if it was right, it was all right; but if wrong, it was terribly misleading; showed the folly of a mariner leaving port for a foreign land without these helps to guide him to the desired haven,—and yet how many thousands are thus thoughtlessly and foolishly drifting "out on the sea of eternity." The rev. gentleman held the large congregation spell bound as he forcibly described the two lines, and showed as intimate a knowledge of the navigation of the sea as of the way to the "home beyond the wave." The choir under the able leadership of Mr. J. A. Moore, and Miss B. Gay as organist, sang very appropriate pieces; among the selections was "The Pilot at the Wheel." Hoping Mr. Opie will pardon this poor synopsis of a very excellent sermon, and excuse the liberty taken by

ONE PRESENT.

OUT WITH THE CLEAN MEN.

The new Liberal machine has nominated in Lisgar a candidate to oppose Mr. R. L. Richardson, the old-line Liberal M. P. for that constituency.

Mr. Richardson is thrown down because he has been guilty of a series of offences against Tammany.

He had insisted upon the obsolescence of the platform.

He has protested against the enormous expenditures, and has called for the moderation which Laurier promised.

He has characterized the double railway subsidies "bare faced robberies."

He protested against the booting by the Sifton coterie in the Yukon.

He objected to the Yukon deal, and pronounced it a swindle.

He opposed the Globe's Crow's Nest coal land grab, and declared that the coal mines were improperly taken from the people.

He repudiated the whitewashing of Mr. Sifton and of Dr. Borden, and insisted upon common honesty in administration.

He protested against the ballot stuffing in West Huron and Brockville and denounced investigation when the machine was endeavoring to cover up the frauds.

Mr. Richardson is not true to Tammany; he declines to consent to booting and ballot stuffing, or to coadjuring wrong and to oppressing right.

Laurier and Sifton, Tarte and Fielding, have no use for an honest Liberal in Parliament; so they have put up a machinist in his place.

There is plenty of room for Bourassa and Monet in the new Liberal party; they are welcome, because they are anti-British.

But there is no place for Richardson; he declines to tolerate dishonesty.—Mail and Empire.

He may pay too much for his suit. Couldn't do it here, when we sell him a fine Scotch serge with hard twill for $8.00

He may not get a suit to fit him correctly. Can't get a miss fit here, we'd sooner miss the sale than lose our clothing reputation.

He may not get the style he wants. He can't help getting the proper caper here, because we have all the styles that are stylish.

He may not get the color he wanted. Sure to get it here, because we carry the largest assortment in the provinces.

He may not get his money back. He does here, and without a growl thrown in either.

He may not wish to buy just now. It makes no difference here; we'll be just as polite to you whether you buy or not, we say and we mean it's no trouble to show goods here.

Another suit that used to be worth $2.75 but that we're selling during August at $2.00 is a snap that the boys will find hard to wear out.

Boys always need a good strong suit for school, now that's a thing we know by experience, so

We've provided one, we call it the Samson Suit; ask to see it, its Halifax Tweed, all wool, color dark grey, light grey, brown and fawn and its marked $2.75 for boys up to 10 years old; $3.00 up to 14 years.

Ask to see the extra pants we have provided for you this month.

Can't knock the bottom out of our suits, though we've knocked the bottom out of our prices.
