Prominent Clergyman Stresses Serious Need For Anglo-American Solidarity

"The Peace of the World and the safety of human freedom in a last resort, depend on the English speaking nations of the world, Great Britain, with the Commonwealth, and the United States," declared Rev. J. S. Bonnell, D.D., in addressing the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon held at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

As a result of his tour of Europe for two months this summer, the necessity of Anglo-American solidarity was doubly impressed upon him. "We must not allow the extremists, either in Britain or on the North American continent, to disrupt our relations with each other—we must continue to believe in each other with invincible good will. It is evident," said Dr. Bonnell, "that we may readily expect too much from our European allies. The two most populous countries, France and Italy, are seriously undermined with communists. France has never really recovered her soul since the defeat of the last war. I was in France during the crisis of the Indo-China negotiations and found the French people swept by a spirit of peace at any price. When the agreement was finally made, an agreement that twelve months earlier France would have rejected with scorn, the people of Paris danced happily in the streets and public squares."

Communists freely avowed their affiliations in France. In Italy there are more than ten million avowed Communists and more than one in every three soldiers in her army are party members. This raises the question as to Italy as a military ally in the event war with Russia.

Dr. Bonnell gave three reasons for the steady increase of Communists in Italy. First, widespread poverty, especially in the southern parts of the country, the failure of an adequate land distribution program and third, the success of the communists anti-religious and anti-clerical campaign.

The Communists in the Italian Alps have been instructed to familiarize themselves with the American weapons placed in their hands. "It is even conceivable that some day they may be used against us."

WILL STRESS NEED "When I return to the United States," said Dr. Bonnell, "from pulpit and platform and over the radio, I shall constantly emphasize the necessity of the Commonwealth and the United States standing together in unbroken solidarity."

"With faith in God and His eternal purpose for his children, we may face the future with unflinching courage. Believing in each other, standing together as one and trusting in God, we may confidently hope that justice and Freedom will yet take their appointed place in a World of Peace."

The chairman, Rev. Canon J. T. Abbott, in introducing Dr. Bonnell paid tribute to his world-wide influence and extended a hearty welcome on behalf of the club. Following his address, Dr. Bonnell was thanked by the co-chairman, Stan McInnis.

Two new members were introduced by their sponsors, Alan Holman, by Austin Scales and Earle C. Baker by Frank Curtis.

President J. H. Shaw made fitting reference to the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Rotarian Allan Stewart and also expressed the sympathy of the club to Rotarian Russell Seller and the family on the death of his mother, Mrs. Frederick Seller.

The president also spoke of the need of three large modern iron lungs, one each for the three principal hospitals in the province and announced the inauguration of a drive by those interested, spearheaded by the medical profession. Authority was granted the treasurer to make $500.00 available to the Red Cross from the Crippled Children's Fund of Rotary.

Guests present were, Messrs. Clive Cudmore, Gordon Wellner, Commodore G. M. Hibbard, Dr. R. H. Barrett, Dr. Kent Irwin, A. F. MacLean, Major T. E. MacNutt, S. T. Green, Russell D. McClure, Newton, Mass., H. B. Vestby, Saskatoon, Sask., Don Thompson, Saint John, N.B., M. D. Sipple, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

IN MEMORIAM MR. GEORGE SUTHERLAND A host of friends were shocked to hear of the passing away in the Prince Edward Island Hospital on August 15th, 1954, of Mr. George Sutherland. Although retired from active business for some years, his active mind and friendly nature greatly belied his mature years. Born in the vicinity of Cardigan in 1872, he was the last surviving member of the family of Alexander Sutherland and Margaret MacLeod. He was brought up on a farm but early in life took up salesmanship with unusual success.

Associated for some fifty years with the Massey-Harris Company both as a travelling agent, and in company with Mr. Byron Bowness, with the Agency of the Charlottetown Branch. Mr. Sutherland became one of the best known men in rural Kings and Queens Counties. His ready wit, youthful appearance and ability to make and hold friends, were outstanding characteristics which endeared him to two generations, few of whom realized that he had reached the four score mark.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ida MacEachern, two sons, G. Eimer of Miller Bros., Robert of Henry MacFarlane and two daughters, Ida (Mrs. Almon Wood, Marshfield) and Kay, with the Mutual Life Assurance Company, also twelve grandchildren.

The funeral service at the MacLean Funeral Parlors was conducted by the Rev. Howard Christie. The overflowing congregation of mourners, as well as the floral tributes, evidenced the esteem with which the departed was held.

Montague School Will Re-open On Thursday

Montague school will re-open for all grades on Thursday morning, September 2, and a record enrollment is expected owing to a new year, grade twelve, having been added, and the necessity of having two grades eleven.

Although the new school was completely finished only last year, already the present twelve rooms, available in the two schools, the high school and the elementary school, are overcrowded, and it will be necessary to use two rooms in the basement of the old school this year. These rooms were in use prior to the erection of the new high school, and fulfilled the need admirably well. Their necessity was removed with the completion of the new high school; however, this year, with the large enrollment expected, it is felt that it will be necessary to re-open two rooms.

During the past month the new laboratory in the high school was completed by Mr. William White-way of Murray River, and it provides every facility for the carrying-out of class experimental projects required in the senior grades.

Hicken is the former June Graham of Gaspereaux.
