THE DAILY EXAMINER

SEPTEMBER 19, 1899.

THEN AND NOW.

WHEN, in opposition the Liberals were always opposed to railway subsidies. Not long after taking office they found out that the Conservatives had voted $5,000 a mile, or $1,650,000 in all to the Crow's Nest branch line. This, for some reason, they at once raised to $11,000 a mile, the total grant amounting to $3,639,000. In his Toronto speech Sir Richard undertook to reconcile this change with consistency and he said:

"Very lately I had occasion to enquire of a gentleman very well conversant with that whole country what the result of expending that money in constructing the Crow's Nest railroad had been in the way of adding to the wealth and value of the properties thereby developed, and, after taking some considerable time to examine it he gave it to me as his opinion, and as a very conservative estimate, which he supported by very ample proof, that in all human probability the construction of the Crow's Nest railway under the Government subsidy of $3,300,000 had resulted in developing wealth to the extent of $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 in the region which was then opened."

This sounds well. But why, it is asked, should we have been condemned to pay $3,630,000 to develop these properties when $1,650,000 would have done the work?

The dangerous principle laid down by Sir Richard Cartwright may be invoked to justify many of the more excessive and extravagant expenditures of the executive. It is, indeed, practically identical with that upon which the Liberals, in the face of their promise to reduce expenditures and debt, as a whole, have added $8,000,000 a year to the expenditures and $3,000,000 a year to the debt. Activity in business, with well-maintained customs taxes, has resulted in increased revenue; therefore, pitch promises and pledges to the wind and pile on the expenditures!

NOTES AND COMMENTS

—The Commercial agent of Canada in Australia reports an improvement in the trade of Australia. The imports in New South Wales for the seven months of the fiscal year show an increase of nearly seven millions over the same period last year. Good rains have fallen, and the promise for the whole of Australia is better than since 1893. Exports have not increased in proportion to the imports. More Australian business men are going he says, to Canada, with a view to future business relations.

Dreyfus Was Obstinate.

NEW YORK, September 14.—A despatch to the Sun from Paris says: The impression is rapidly gaining ground that Dreyfus was in part the victim of his own obstinacy, joined with the extravagant partisanship of his self-appointed supporters. A leading writer for the principal Dreyfusite journals told the correspondent of the Sun today that, in addition to the reasons sent Sunday from Rennes, it was further impressed upon the Judge who was wavering as to his verdict that Dreyfus insisted on being reinstated in a regiment, that he be promoted to the rank of major, and that a decoration be given him as compensation for his unmerited sufferings. Furthermore, it was said that behind Dreyfus were all the enemies of the French army, while all the officers of the regiment to which Dreyfus was appointed would immediately resign if he were reinstated. Finally, an appeal was made to the Judge's patriotism, and he was asked to sacrifice his personal opinion in the interests of the country. To this pressure the judge yielded.

Today the situation is this:—The Government realizes that it is impossible to reconcile absolute justice with the interests of the country; hence it seeks a way for accepting the verdict, while it is prepared to pardon the prisoner at the earliest opportunity.

FATHER OF THE MAN.—He was a young man of some 16 summers and he walked into the only store in Manson, Iowa, and spent his last 15 cents in cheese and crackers. His trousers barely reached his ankles, while the entirety of his earthly possessions were tied up in a handkerchief. He seated himself on the top of a sugar barrel and munched at his food, which must be his breakfasts, dinners and suppers till work could be found. "Any work around here?" he asked. "What can you do?" enquired a roughly-dressed farmer. "Anything to keep busy," answered the lad. He secured a job. This was on March 12, 1872. That boy's name was Leslie M. Shaw, and now he is governor of Iowa and one of the richest men of the state.—Rochelle (Ill.) Herald.

He'll Mind His Own Business.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—President McKinley is daily receiving letters, petitions and resolutions from various parts of the country urging his mediation in behalf of Dreyfus, and suggesting that he tender his good offices in the pending dispute between Great Britain and the Transvaal. These have come in such volume that there has not been an acknowledgement in many cases. All these communications are being turned over to the State Department as they arrive. The Administration will take no action, holding that until the interests of the United States or the rights of her citizens are involved it is not within the province of this country to meddle in the domestic or foreign affairs of other countries.

The Bears' Paw.

HELSINGFORS, Sept. 16.—Four newspapers have been suspended for a month, and have been warned, for criticising certain acts of the Russian Government.

The German Ambassador at Paris, it appears, is henceforth to be known as Fürst Von Münster-Derneburg, just as the Iron Chancellor was Fürst Von Bismarck-Schoenhausen. The doubled-barrelled designation will at least save his Excellency from the mishap which once befel him in a London drawing room into which he was announced as Count "Monster, while the Austrian Ambassador Count Beust, who followed him, was heralded as Count "Beast." But this was nothing to the phonetic mistake committed by the Parisian Jeammes de la Plushie, who announced M. Pallavicini as "Paul et Virginie."

The late Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt was the representative of the third generation of the family which has controlled a great power in the United States railway world. The Gazette remarks that it is not often that, without the aid of primogeniture laws one family goes on increasing its wealth as has been the case with the descendants of the old market gardener of Staten Island. It is creditable to the good sense as well as the strength of the Vanderbilts that such has been the case with them. Whatever the old commodore was in his fights with Gould and Fisk and Drew, in his later years he was a conservative influence, and those who have succeeded him have been even a more steady force. Vanderbilt stocks mean the securities of high class carefully managed railways that earn money for their owners.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and no constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, heartburn, or any of the rest of the night-mare breeding brood, that these little Pellets will not cure.

Aow Mr. Ewen Grant of Quincy, P. Q., Saved Himself From Bright's Disease.

Dodd's Kidney Pills the Means—Wasted Time and let the Disease Grow, Taking Other So-called Remedies—Saved at Last, Strong and Sound.

Quincy, P. Q., Sept. 18.—An extraordinary experience was that of Mr. Ewen Grant, a resident of this town. His story reads as follows:—

"Some three years ago I began to feel a sensation of great lassitude and tiredness and at that time being employed at Glenwood saw mill, my work was very hard for me, I became alarmed and consulted several local medical men who pronounced on me as making an access of blood or some such cause, and prescribed for me accordingly without result. As time went on I became worse, and all work was a burden to me. I began to feel ashamed at myself for not being able to hold up my end. I began to notice that I was the first to be let go. This hit me pretty hard, as I had a family of six children to support and no energy left to lift a straw. My back was entirely useless. My whole nervous system was in a state of prostration, and I a fine healthy full-blooded fellow, too. I had to quit the mill. Now, all this time I never knew what was the matter with me. But at last, reading in the paper of a case exactly like my own, it struck me I had Bright's Disease. I determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. My wife had lost faith and said they were like the others, no good, but I might as well give them a fair trial; I took several boxes and soon was able to go to work. I am now in the best of health, spirits and vigor, able to take my part in anything, and I heartily recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to my fellow man."

DEAR SIRS,—For some years I have had only partial use of my arm, caused by a sudden strain. I have used every remedy without effect, until I got a sample bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT. The benefit I received from it caused me to continue its use, and now I am happy to say that my arm is completely restored.
