Permanent German Quarters For Canadians

Bitter Ontario Election Campaign Nears End; Voting This Thursday

TORONTO, Nov. 20 — (CP) — Ontario decides Thursday whether to retain in office the Progressive Conservative Government which has run its affairs for the last eight years.

The alternatives were the Liberal Party, making a renewed bid for power under a new leader, and the C. C. F. which slipped past the Liberals in 1948 to become the official Opposition.

Thursday's election is the payoff to a sharp six-week campaign in which all three parties fought hard for the favor of 3,000,000 voters and the right to run Canada's richest and most populous province.

Standing of the 90-seat Legislature at dissolution:

Progressive Conservative, 53; C.C.F., 21; Liberal 14; Labor-Progressive (Communist) 2.

271 Candidates

A total of 271 candidates entered the field. The two main parties are contesting every riding while the C. C. F. has candidates in 77. A scattering of supporters of other political faiths and a half-dozen assorted independents make

Barracks Will Be Built By German Labor

(By Douglas How)

THE HAGUE, Nov. 20 — (CP) — Defence Minister Claxton announced tonight Canada is planning to erect permanent quarters for her 27th Brigade in the Soest area of Western Germany—a move which would put a garrison in that key area for any Allied defence stand east of the Rhine.

It also is expected to place the Canadians in their traditional position between the British and Americans but still under British command in Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact army.

In a talk with reporters aboard an R.C.A.F. plane which took him on a three-stop flight around Western Europe, the Minister said the barracks will be built by Germans, the work to be completed late next year.

It is Canada's hope that a way can be found to prevent the Canadian Government from becoming a landowner in Germany, that is, that this would become part of their contribution to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization without remaining Canadian property. It is expected to cost between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000.

Claxton flew into The Hague tonight for tomorrow's ceremony in which he will turn over the brigade to Eisenhower's command after a parade of more than 1,000 Canadians through Rotterdam. The troops are due late tonight by ship.

The Minister visited Bonn and Hannover earlier. At Bonn he had an hour's talk with Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, British occupation chief. At Hannover he inspected the attractive quarters which are the main base of the brigade and the pivot of a 40-to-50-mile area through which the Canadians now are scattered.

He is said to have discussed with Kirkpatrick the long-term development and maintenance of accommodation for the brigade. The barracks will be permanent in character and the contract for their construction will be let to a German firm.

Soest is roughly 100 miles west of Hannover and 60 miles east of the great defence barrier of the Rhine. It is described by the military as a strategic position to help fend off any Russian surge for the Rhine.

Claxton described it as an excellent training country. It means a brigade move late in 1952 from the Hannover area, where they're planning to pitch into serious training after Christmas in a drive to be in good operational formation by summer.

The Minister said he is satisfied with British steps to implement Canada's intention not to exact occupation costs from Germany for the brigade. Moves to pay for capital maintenance costs are already under way.

Charlottetown Man Killed In Accident In Nova Scotia

WEST RIVER STATION, N. S., Nov. 20 — (CP) — Wendell MacLeod, a native of Charlottetown, was killed today when the lumber truck he was driving was struck by a Canadian National Railway freight train here.

Two other occupants of the truck, Eric Sidel and Harry Burke, were taken to hospital suffering from injuries and shock. MacLeod was married to Maria Marshall of Glengarry, Pictou County, less than two months ago. His mother is Mrs. Nellie MacLeod, Charlottetown.

Coroner R. H. Sutherland adjourned the inquest until next Wednesday after the jury viewed the remains. The accident was investigated by the R. C. M. P.

Burke is also a native of Prince Edward Island, but his home address could not be learned immediately. Sidel's home is in Oxford, N. S.

The men were engaged in lumbering operations and had unloaded lumber just before the accident. It was believed their vision was obscured by a snowstorm.

The locomotive engineer said the train was moving only about 15 miles an hour at the time of the crash, having slowed to a crawl at the West River station.

Will Continue Freight Rates Preference

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 — (Special) — Acting at the request of and in consultation with Maritime members of the parliamentary committee on railway legislation, Transport Minister Chevrier today introduced an amendment to the Freight Rates Equalization Bill designed to protect the interests of the Maritime Provinces.

The wording of the amendment is such as will protect beyond peradventure the position of the Maritime Provinces under the Maritime Freight Rates Act. It will guarantee the historic principle underlying freight rates in the Maritime Provinces that has been the subject of comment many times by royal commissions and other bodies dealing with transportation problems.

Milk Price Increase Suggested For S'ide And Charlottetown

At the annual meeting of the Summerside Milk Producers and Distributors held in the Summerside Town Hall last night, a motion was carried to the effect that a delegation be appointed from the organization to meet with the Charlottetown producers and distributors to discuss, before going before the Milk Board, the matter of raising the price of fluid milk in Summerside and Charlottetown. The motion was moved by Ernest Walker, seconded by Harold Linkletter and carried unanimously.

It was the consensus of opinion among the seventeen members present that Summerside milk distributors should get two cents more a quart to bring them to even with Charlottetown distributors, who it is understood, intend asking for a one-cent increase. This would put the price of milk in both centers at 18 cents a quart.

Mr. Lloyd Waugh, president of the organization, read from a speech by Mr. Jones, past president of the National Dairy Council of Canada, which said that on June 1, 1951, Canadian dairymen had the lowest number of milk cows in 20 years. The human population had increased two and one third million and in the same time butter production had decreased one billion pounds per year. Mr. Jones quoted figures to show that a Canadian had to work less time to buy a quart of milk today than was the case in 1939.

Reasons advanced for the increase in the price of milk were, continual increase in the cost of feed and producers being required to use more and better machinery in order to produce quality milk. Some members said that the cost of production was higher in Prince Edward Island than in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and yet distributors in these other provinces received higher prices for their milk.

Messrs. Ken Walker, Lloyd Waugh and Elmer Offer were appointed as a delegation to meet the Charlottetown producers and distributors.

All officers were re-elected and are as follows:—President, Lloyd Waugh; Vice President, Ken Walker; Secretary Treasurer, Elmer Offer.—S.

HALIFAX, Nov. 20 — (CP) — At least nine Nova Scotia mayors were returned to office by acclamation at civic nominations day proceedings today. Elections will be Dec. 4.

The larger centres of Halifax, Sydney and Glace Bay hold their elections on other dates.

Mayors returned by acclamation were: D. Owen Hartigan, Sydney Mines; Guy E. Morehouse, Digby; A. A. Ferguson, Pictou; George P. Graham, Parrsboro; Joseph Macdonald, Dominion; F. C. Wightman, Amherst; F. X. Joyce, Inverness; and R. W. Rottler, Kentville.

Mayor D. P. Adams of Lunenburg is resigning after holding the post 18 years. F. Homer Zwicker was elected by acclamation.

Mystery Surgeon Has Medical License In N. S.

HALIFAX, Nov. 20 — (CP) — The navy's mystery "surgeon", Ferdinand Waldo Demara, Jr., alias Dr. Joseph Cyr, is registered for practice in Nova Scotia. Dr. H. L. Scammell, secretary of the Provincial Medical Board, said tonight.

"He secured his registration in the Province of Nova Scotia on the credentials of another man," said Dr. Scammell. The other man was Dr. Joseph Cyr of Edmundston, N.B., now understood to be practicing at Grand Falls, N.B.

Demara obtained the credentials while stationed here with the navy from last March until June.

"The matter will be discussed and a course of action decided on when the board meets in the near future," said Dr. Scammell.

N. S. Live Fox Show Underway

YARMOUTH, N. S., Nov. 20 — (CP) — Marked by an improvement in quality, 120 entries came before the judge today in the 17th annual Nova Scotia live fox show. Douglas Bell of Carleton, P. E. I., was judge.

Among the veteran exhibitors were Mr. and Mrs. S. U. Messinger, Bridgetown, consistent winners since 1938. The show continues tomorrow.

Immigration Officials Probe Status Of Demara

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 — (CP) — The perpetrator of a spectacular naval hoax has come under the eye of immigration authorities.

Immigration officials said today they have opened a detailed investigation into the status of Ferdinand Waldo Demara Jr., who joined the Canadian Navy last March under the assumed name of Dr. Joseph Cyr.

Officials are not too sure just how the mysterious 29-year-old American got into Canada. If it is found that he has no legal status in this country he will be shipped back to the United States.

Meanwhile, the navy, still astounded by the daring misrepresentations of the one-time American navy pharmaceutical mate, will close the book on the strange adventure with a dishonorable discharge within a few days.

Demara, formerly of Lawrence, Mass., now is at the navy's station at Esquimalt, B. C. A navy board of inquiry at Victoria has found him guilty of fraudulent entry.

The former surgeon lieutenant, credited with having performed

U. S. Military Plane Missing

BELGRADE, Nov. 20 — (AP) — A United States military plane carrying diplomatic cargo and a crew of four was fired upon by Hungarian and Romanian border guards Monday and now is missing, the American embassy announced tonight.

Skeetchy details from Yugoslav sources suggested the plane had been 40 to 200 miles off its scheduled course to Belgrade from Erding air base near Munich, Germany.

Reports from the pilot, as disclosed by the embassy, made no mention of damage from the shooting.

A search was carried on today by British, American and Italian planes along Italy's Adriatic coast and will be extended into Northern Yugoslavia tomorrow.

The embassy said it was believed the missing airmen became lost and mistook the Drava River, flowing close to the Hungarian and Romanian borders, for the Sava which marks the air corridor to Belgrade. Both rivers are tributaries of the Danube. The Drava runs 40 miles east of the Sava's course.

The plane, a two-engined C-47 transport, left Erding airbase Monday morning with freight and supplies for the American embassy here.

Patents Reveal Horrible Array Of A-Weapons

By Howard W. Blakeslee (Associated Press Science Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 — (AP) — A startling variety of radioactive weapons is revealed in a series of patent cases issued to Jack Dement of the Dement Laboratories, Portland, Ore.

These patents recently were released from the secret list. They show what enemies can do. At last six countries have the atom-splitting reactors to make these radio-active weapons. These are Canada, the United States, Britain, Russia, France and Sweden.

All the weapons are made from radio-active atoms. There are about 70 different kinds of atoms to select from. Probably only a few will be useful, but a few is plenty.

There are reports that Russia is working on radio-active weapons in Iqner Siberia and other places.

Radio-active rays do not strike anyone dead. It may take hours or days of exposure to do harm, but no one can see, feel, hear, taste or smell them.

Dement's patents cases follow:

One is poison gas, with radio-activity added.

Dement says the radio-active atoms will be filtered out in the containers of gas masks, along with the poisons. But the radio-activity will build up in the canister, until this filter itself becomes dangerous to carry.

Decontamination squads can destroy the poison spread by war gases but not the radio-activity. Mustard gases blister the skin. Radio-active atoms in the mustard can enter your blood through the blisters, and deposit it in your body. This blister carries the risk of illness.

Entirely new kinds of poison gases can be made with radio-activity. There have been only a few possible kinds of poisonous war gases, because only a few would remain near the ground and persist. Adding radio-activity will make others poisonous too.

Other patent cases cover radio-active smokes of 600 varieties. Chemical elements that can be made radio-active in smokes include iron, silicon, copper, lead, aluminum, nickel, arsenic, gold,

Keen Competition For Live Mink & Fox Prizes

Improvement in the mink class, both in numbers and quality, and possibly a record entry of foxes, promise keen competition in the 21st annual Provincial Live Fox and the 4th Live Mink Show when the judging commences at 9 a.m. today in the Fox Pavilion at the Exhibition Grounds.

Leading breeders of the Island were placing their entries in the hundreds of wire cages in the building throughout yesterday, when the classification of the animals was completed.

Although present day prices for fox pelts are almost at rock bottom, the quality of those being shown indicate the faith of the breeders in their expenditures to maintain and improve the market value of their product.

That this efficiency may be justified is borne out by the significance of recent articles in American magazines which have predicted that the coming generation of young women will show a preference for fox furs.

Leading fashion experts agree with the breeders who state that the only way now is up, in the opinion that the cycle may be swinging from mink, the favourite of the passing generation, to fox furs, and anticipate that the prices in the next few years will vindicate this belief.

Classification Completed

The Classification Committee, Parven Cass of Summerside and Beecher MacDougall of Ellerslie, completed an efficient and very satisfactory task yesterday, and judging of the foxes by George A. Callbeck of Summerside will start this morning with the Medium Silver Adults.

The fox judging will continue all day, followed by the mink classes to be judged by Mr. John C. Moloney of Hudson's Bay Company tomorrow. The mink entries are the highest ever, with approximately 150 animals being shown. Several of the new Singsphires are entered and it is expected that they will be a great

- MONTREAL, Nov. 20 — (CP) — Jackson Dodds of Montreal, deputy chief scout for Canada, has been appointed a member of the International Scout Committee, it was announced today. He fills the vacancy created by appointment of Maj.-Gen. D. C. Spry as deputy director of the International Bureau.

British-Hating Premiers Meet In Dramatic Show

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 20 — (AP) — Two British-hating premiers of the Middle East—Mahmoud Mossadeq of Iran and Mustapha Nahas Pasha of Egypt—embraced and kissed in a dramatic show of Moslem solidarity here today.

Tens of thousands of Egyptians lionized the feeble Iranian Premier, who arrived from Washington for a four-day state visit. They cheered him frantically at the airport and crowds outside his hotel hailed him as an "enemy of the British" and a "hero of revolution."

They shouted "Revolution" and "We want arms" as the Egyptian Premier drove away after a 50-minute call on the Iranian.

Police declared a state of emergency and stationed reserves throughout the city to preserve order during Mossadeq's visit.

Mossadeq has nationalized British oil interests in his country and thrown out their technicians.

Nahas Pasha is trying to push the British out of the Suez Canal zone and Sudan. What they talked about was not disclosed. But it seemed obvious they were trying to establish their own Middle East axis.

British informants said quiet prevailed in the canal zone today following the clashes at Ismailia Saturday and Monday. Four British officers were killed and five wounded, and 13 Egyptians were killed and 21 wounded in these incidents.

British troops firmly occupied Ismailia. Egyptian police there were disarmed.

British Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson drove in an armoured convoy to British headquarters in the zone today. British spokesmen said he made the trip in connection with "wide political repercussions" from the battle, but denied it was to criticize the occupation of Ismailia.

Reports Red Viewpoint Seldom Heard On CBC

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 — (CP) — The radio committee of the Commons was told today that the Communist viewpoint is seldom heard on CBC networks.

A. D. Dunton, CBC chairman, said the CBC tries to see that all main viewpoints are expressed through its facilities. It does not consider Communism one of the main views in Canada.

He made the statement as members of the committee expressed their views on what opinions the publicly-owned CBC should allow to be heard.

The controversy centred around a recent series of broadcasts by well-known psychiatrists and philosophers. The speakers included Bertrand Russell, British author and philosopher; Dr. Brock Chisholm, head of the World Health Organization; Dr. Carl Binger, associate professor of clinical psychiatry at Cornell University in New York; Dr. Anna Freud, daughter of the founder of psycho-analysis; Dr. Ewen Cameron, professor of psychiatry at McGill University in Montreal; and Prof. William Line of the University of Toronto.

Calls Broadcasts Triple

Leonard Stick (L-Trinity-Concept) described the broadcasts as "tripe" and said they should not be allowed in the future. When asked by George Murray (L-Cariboo) to say what he had found offensive in the broadcasts, Mr. Stick said his remarks were aimed at the broadcasts generally.

Other members similarly did not quote from the broadcasts, texts of which were provided them last week. The broadcasts dealt with modern psychology.

John Diefenbaker (P-Lake Centre) said that if the CBC sets up itself as a censor freedom of speech will suffer a "serious setback in Canada." As long as the broadcasts did not breach the
