THE WEEK AT SDU

Saints Set To Open Rink With Ceremony Tonight

Over the weekend there has been a considerable amount of sporting activity on and off the campus at St. Dunstan's. One of the contests of the campus was the intercollegiate hockey game played in Fackville against the Mount Allison Mounties. The hockey squad left Saturday afternoon for the mainland to play their second intercollegiate contest of the year in this return game with the Mounties. The Saints came out on the short end of a 7-2 score after taking the lead in the second period, 4-2. The Mounties came on strong in luck, with five losses to their credit and no victories.

Shortly after their return from the mainland, the Saints were back in the middle of the City League, when they tangled with the Juniors on Tuesday at the Sports Arena. This was another loss for the boys. They led in the second period once again, but when the final whistle went, the score read 5-3 for the Juniors. It looks as if the lads are capable of holding their own for two periods, but seem to lag after that. More practice will undoubtedly enable the boys to finish as strong as they start, and the results of the games will be different.

again the Red and White squad went down to defeat, this time under the superior shooting of the blue team.

Seeing that the Saints are young and inexperienced, some excuse might be offered, but we are offering none. In time, with the necessary games under their belts, the extra "knowhow" and "savvy" will naturally follow, and then we will see them in action on a more even par with the other teams in the league.

Other Disasters At Sea Recalled

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest ship-iceberg disaster in history was the sinking of the Titanic with a loss of 1,517 lives in the Atlantic on April 15, 1912. The White Star liner, like the Danish vessel Haps Heltioff that struck an iceberg today, was on her maiden voyage. The Titanic then was the biggest, most luxurious and believed to be the safest ship afloat. The 852-foot liner, of 46,328 gross tons, was en route from Southampton to New York. Most of the 2,224 passengers and crew aboard had retired for the night when shortly before midnight on April 14 she sideswiped a huge iceberg and ripped a long gash in her side. At 2:20 a.m. the next day, the unbelievable happened. The great "unsinkable" four-stacked slid beneath the sea. The disaster played no favorites. Carried to their doom along with many steerage passengers were financiers such as John Jacob Astor, Benjamin Guggenheim and Isador Straus. The Titanic sinking was one of the most dramatic sea stories of all time. But it was not the greatest in loss of life. Six thousand Germans died in the Baltic in 1915 when Soviet torpedoes sent the German transport Wilhelm Gustloff to the bottom. She was carrying German refugees, including women and children, from Poland as the Russian forces advanced. Nazi wartime censorship concealed the disaster. Six thousand Chinese were lost in November, 1948 in the sinking of an evacuation ship off Manchuria. The next month 3,800 persons were lost when the refugee ship Kiangya exploded and sank off Shanghai. More than 1,600 died in an explosion when the Belgian relief ship Imo and French munition ship Mont Blanc collided Dec. 6, 1917, in Halifax harbor.
