Young People Hold Fireside Gathering Sunday In Trinity

More than 90 young people representing six churches in the Charlottetown area gathered in Hearts Hall of Trinity United Church for the annual youth fireside.

After refreshments served by the Hi-C, YPU and Young Adults Club of the host church, the group was led in worship by two members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship, Dewar Harper and Roddie Munn. An offering was received for the Canadian Council of Churches. A friendship circle concluded was given by Ranger Kit Lawson followed by a sing song which was enjoyed by all and Mrs. Rawek gave the Rangers some ideas for future activities.

Fire Prevention Theme Of Address To Kiwanis

Past president, Allison Rogers welcomed and inducted new members Conway and Joseph Regan to the Kiwanis Club at the organization's annual meeting at the Charlottetown Hotel last night.

Club secretary, Frank MacMillan and president, Abe Zakem presented past president pins to Sinclair Cutcliffe and Jack Coyle.

"Jed" Maddigan as guest speaker outlined preparations for emergencies, giving particular attention to fires. He traced the early discovery of fire by primitive man, and how he turned it from an enemy to a friend.

Yet, he noted, after these many centuries of using fire, man is not yet always able to control it. Fire is a wonderful servant, but a terrible master, he said.

The speaker demonstrated the use of the more common types of extinguishers and illustrated different methods of dealing with a smoke or flame filled house. At the conclusion of his talk, Mr. Maddigan, who is secretary of the Charlottetown Hook and Ladder Company, presented a dramatic film entitled "The Price of Fire," dealing with the Montreal fire department.

Al Horne reported for the program committee and advised that several particularly interesting programs have been arranged for the coming weeks.

He further stated that the introduction of the "Islander of the year" award and the Christmas window contest, were an important development in the community. "These things are good for the life of the community," he said.

CONGRATULATIONS Congratulations were also extended to the ladies by Premier Walter R. Shaw and opposition leader A. W. Matheson, QC.

As has been the custom during recent years invitations were sent out to the members of the newly-elected City Council and the Water Commission.
