Boyd Gang Sentenced
TORONTO, Oct. 16—(CP)—Edwin Alonzo Boyd, 38, leader of a notorious bank robbery and jail-breaking gang, today was sentenced to spend the rest of his natural life in penitentiary.

Song of a retired policeman and brother of a missionary, he listened calmly but with his sunken cheeks twitching as Judge Robert Forsyth pronounced sentence. Seven other members of the gang also were sent to prison.

Boyd was actually sentenced to eight life terms, one for each of the Toronto area banks he looted during the last three years. He drew another 10 years for assault with intent to rob, four years for each of two automobile thefts, two years for each of two escapes from the Don Jail here—last November and last month—and five years for jailbreaking. However, the terms are concurrent.

An official of the Attorney-General's Department said later: "A life sentence means exactly that. I think, however, as a matter of practice, Ottawa (Justice Department) lets a man go after 20 years, if he has shown good behaviour, on a ticket of leave."

Boyd's attractive wife, Doreen, freed earlier of a conspiracy charge, burst into tears upon hearing the sentence. She rushed up to him, threw her arms around him and kissed him.

William R. Jackson, 27, was sentenced to 20 years on two charges of bank robbery. The terms will be consecutive to a term of seven years and 10 lashes imposed on him last year for assault and robbery. He will also serve two years consecutive on each of two charges of jail breaking and they charge his terms all fold to 31 years and lashes.

His brother, Joseph Jackson, 31, will serve 10 years on one charge of armed robbery.

Allister Gibson, 25 his brother-in-law, was given eight years on one charge of armed robbery.

Boyd's brother, Norman, 32, was sentenced to three years for bank robbery and nine months concurrent for harboring Boyd.

Joseph Lesso, 47, received a nine-month sentence for harboring Boyd and William Jackson after they broke out of jail last November. His wife, Elizabeth, 44, and Mrs. Mary Mitchell, sister of gunman Leonard Jackson, each received six months indeterminate on the same charge. The Lessos are parents of Steve Suchan, Leonard Jackson and Suchan previously were sentenced to be hanged Dec. 16 for murder in the shooting last March 6 of Sergeant of Detectives Edmund Tong. Tong was shot down without warning as he approached an automobile to question its two occupants.

led by her sister, Miss Lillian Dewar, Charlottetown, who will visit friends and relatives in Boston and New York.

An interesting review of the proceedings of the Y. P. S. conference held in Summerside last weekend was given by Miss Larter and Mr. David McKenna.

Roll call was answered by eleven members. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Lucy Miller, and approved as read.

Plans were discussed for holding a social evening at the manse on Oct. 28th. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

TOP RACEHORSE IN ACTION PIC FOR WARNERS
Warner Bros. Technicolor production, "The Story of Seabiscuit," fuses a number of proven celluloid ingredients together with a novelty element that should find wide appeal to Prince Edward Theatre audiences when the film returns for the night of the midnight showing on Friday night.

First, the tender love story with the screen's appealing sweethearts, Shirley Temple and Lon McCallister, and it is here that Shirley again proves she belongs among the full-fledged young dramatic actresses of today.

Second, the Father Fitzgibbon of "Going My Way," Academy Award-winning Barry Fitzgerald gives another performance, displaying his whimsical Irish charm in a characterization that is said to be among his best.

Then there is the equine Horatio Alger story of the great Seabiscuit himself, a gangling yearling with bulky knees almost always a loser as a two- and three-year-old, who suddenly as a four-year-old, running under the colors of California sportsman Charles S. Howard, becomes the sensation of the American turf world.
