8th Seige Battery
Wartime Friends

In June and July 1917 the 8th Seige Battery was billeted at the Nory farm, a mile south of Erquinghem, France. The farm is one of those fortified ones dating back from the Middle Ages, with the buildings joined in a square about the yard, and with high narrow loop-holes for the archers in its brick walls, the whole surrounded by a moat, still full of water, except where a road has been built through it where the draw-bridge used to be. The Battery billets were the main barn and the attic of the house, where each man had his straw bed on the floor, the officers and the Royal Air Force wireless receiving station were in a small room adjoining the kitchen. The head of the family was a widow, called "Madame", and they were another sister and two brothers, one of whom, a Sergeant of Signallers, reached the age of 44 and was demobilized while the 8th Seige was there. Gunner Murray was loaned at the time to the Royal Air Force as assistant wireless operator, and remembers Sgt. Nory entering the room and saying "Four not a wireless fine" ("For me the war is over").

In 1936 Sergeant Nory was president of the local veterans' association and led a contingent of them to Vimy to see the Canadian monument dedicated by King Edward VIII. Shortly before this, Rev. Dr. A. S. Murray, now of Wellington, P. E. Island, paid the Nory family a visit, accompanied by Louis Duval, a Mepaux farm, who was a bay there when the 8th Seige received its baptism of fire. Unfortunately the Nory brothers were absent but "Madame" remembered them in an account of his having worked in the house and gave him a royal welcome. She keeps very happy memories of the Battery, and later in the year she was presenting greetings for the Battery was received to a letter sent with snapshots taken at the farm, and was published in the Guardian to convey the greetings to the members.

Erquinghem-Lys, October 20, 1936
Dear Sir:
We were very happy to receive your letter as well as the two photos that you had thoughtfulness to send us. They are very nice.

We regret that we were absent, for one of us belonging to one of the older classes was demobilized while you were at the farm-house. He remembers that when entering the little room where your wireless station was installed he said to you, "Pour moi la guerre finit." ("For me the war is finished").

Our children kept Canadian soldiers billeted at the farm, a pleasant memory. In those tragic hours, so near the front, they shared the same anxieties and ran the same risks as we did. We are proud of the Canadian soldiers who fought for us, and we are glad to know that the greater part were of French stock. Very kind to your countrymen were very kind to us.

The one of us President of the Old Comrades of Erquinghem-Lys went to the hill of Vimy with 120 of his members to visit the Monument to the memory of the Canadian soldiers fallen on the battlefields of Arras. They came back amazed at the beauty and magnificence of this monument, so well planned, and they were glad to immortalize your heroes.

"It remains, dear Sir, to thank you for the fine remembrance of the war we keep, and if it is some time possible for you to return to our neighborhood, we will be very happy to welcome you."

Respectfully,
Henri Nory.

At the reunion of last Saturday night, as it was the first gathering of this Battery since Sergeant Murray moved to the premises of the 8th Seige Battery he extended to the Nory family and to the veterans of Erquinghem. This was done unanimously and Comrade Murray was delighted to receive a letter conveying the greetings.

In spite of heavy rain the supper hour was very enjoyable due to the hospitality of Mrs. Percy MacGowan who opened her home to the visiting members. The evening meeting was held in Kier Memorial Church. In the absence of the president, Mr. Detlor, New London, took charge of the meeting. This was followed by the appointment of Mr. Walter Staver of Pictou, N. S., as president for the coming year. The business was concluded, scripture was read and prayer offered by Rev. Mr. Rhoad, Kensington. Mr. John Carson, student minister at Malpeque then welcomed the visitors. This was responded to by Rev. Mr. Detlor. The speaker of the evening, Rev. Quincy MacDowell, M. A., B.Th., of Sydney Mines, N. S. was introduced by the chairman and delivered an instructive and inspiring address to the young people. The hymn Just As I Am brought the meeting to a close followed by the benediction by Rev. Mr. Detlor.

Currencies
NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP)—A morning spurt of nearly 1-8 cent in the Netherlands guilder was later cut more than half in today's foreign exchange dealings. There was sufficient buying, however, to raise the guilder a net of .06 of a cent in relation to the United States dollar. Traders attributed the rise to repatriation of funds by Dutch banks and some short covering. The French franc lost .00 1-16 of a cent to 2.64 15-16 while the Pound Sterling remained unchanged at $4.68 1-8 and the Canadian dollar stayed at par.

MONTREAL, Aug. 14 (CP)—Pound Sterling continued unchanged at 4.69 1-8 and the United States dollar was also steady at 1.00 on Montreal foreign exchange today. French franc ruled stationary at 2.64 15-16.

"FAIR WEEK"

had done and he was continuing to do for the exhibition and regretted he was unable to be present at the opening ceremonies. Mr. Prowse felt sure everyone would be pleased to learn Col. MacKinnon would be at the fair, morning, afternoon and evening, however, and that all would far be wishing him a speedy recovery.

Premier Campbell
Premier Campbell, who followed Vice-president Prowse, recalled the exhibition was the third notable event in the Province in as many months, the visit of Their Majesties in June, the Confederation in July and now last but by no means least the exhibition.

In making much of the 50th anniversary of the Fair, Premier Campbell felt the management believed they had something of which they would honestly boast. The fair and the exhibits themselves would speak louder than any words of his, he said, of the success of the Management's efforts. He was glad to hear Lieut. Col. MacKinnon had been so keenly interested in the fair and was to play an important part in the preparation and carrying out of the exhibition with which for so many years he had been so closely associated and to which he had so greatly contributed.

Mayor Foster
His Worship Mayor E. A. Foster was the next speaker. He addressed his congratulations to those of the fair and the exhibition and expressed his sorrow in the absence from the platform of Col. MacKinnon.

A great deal of credit was due President and fellow directors for making a fair second to none in Canada, Mayor Foster said. When one stopped and considered the many improvements it spoke well for the thrift and industry of the people. The Mayor welcomed visitors, both those from other parts of the Province and from the other Provinces of the Dominion and from the United States.

While the fair should hold first place this week Mayor Foster pointed out there were many other points of interest in and around Charlottetown which would repay a visit.

Hon. Dr. MacMillan
Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan declared the 50th anniversary of the Provincial Exhibition was a most important event. No words of congratulation would be too strong to express fully to the directors the appreciation of the people for the fair and industry in carrying out the exhibition. It was unfortunate Col. MacKinnon was absent through illness, Dr. MacMillan said. One could not visit the fair and not be impressed by the devotion to the exhibition. He truly said that in Col. MacKinnon and J. W. Boulter there was a pair of men of the Province, especially an agriculturist, Province might well be proud.

A few weeks ago he returned from visiting the World's Fair at New York. Dr. MacMillan said the Provincial Exhibition here measured up to the World's Fair very well when one considered the mill-entertainment afforded. Horse entries in all branches of the exhibition would not be lost sight of.

The records of our exhibitors at Maritime exhibitions, the Amherst Fair and the West End Fair, is one that every Prince Edward Islander can point to with pride, and show what can be done by bringing together in competition the products of the Province. This was the aim of our predecessors, to create a worthy spirit of rivalry, to diffuse knowledge of agriculture and stock raising, and to establish the quality of our products and breeds.

"On this occasion, our Golden Jubilee, we believe that we are in a position to say that the year's entries in all branches will be a new total. Tomorrow when the flowers, fruit and vegetables are in position the Main Building will house nearly 5,000 exhibits. Horse entries are so numerous that they have exceeded our accommodation, although a new building was constructed. Cattle, poultry and other entries are also more numerous.

"For this record showing of exhibitors I must give the credit to our enthusiastic Secretary, Mr. J. W. Boulter, whose labors were greater this year than ever before. From the day that he took up the duties of Secretary over ten years ago to the present time, he has wholeheartedly endeavored to enlarge and improve the agricultural and stock raising standard of this fair. As a result of these efforts it is widely known and Mr. Boulter's name held in greatest respect by other fair managers throughout Canada and the United States. I am sure no one will find fault with these words of praise which he so richly deserves.

"The work of staging an exhibition entails considerable thought and it is possible that we have over-looked a number of things, out as far as human foresight can provide everything has been done to have this show go along smoothly and efficiently. I hope everyone in our fair Province who can possibly do so will spend at least a day and evening with us and

Hon. Mr. LePage
Hon. B. W. LePage congratulated the Prince Edward Island Exhibition Association on attaining the Province's 50th anniversary. A group of citizens interested in the agricultural development of the country started the exhibition in a small way and since then had continued to expand. The original directors and many later ones had passed to the Great Beyond but the mantle of management fell on able shoulders. Praise was due President Col. MacKinnon and Secretary J. W. Boulter. Mr. LePage said.

Hon. Mr. Dennis
Hon. W. H. Dennis, Minister of Agriculture advocated giving the young people of the Province a "love of the soil" and showing them the possibilities which lay in the soil. No man knew really what it was capable of producing under careful handling, he said. "We have to get back to the land in an intelligent way," Mr. Dennis said, for a full measure of prosperity.

brother to the exhibition. They drove 23 miles with a horse and buggy, it was the greatest event in their young lives and was talked of for a long time after. He had parents would send their boy and girl possible would be brought to the exhibition. Young and old alike needed a tonic this time of year to fit them for the fair work and nothing could be better than the Provincial Exhibition. Mr. Douglas declared.

Following is the text of Lieut. Col. MacKinnon's address read last night by vice-president T. W. L. Prowse.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS
"We thank you for your presence tonight at the opening of our Provincial Exhibition. A great many changes have occurred in the half century since the first fair was first started, institutions have come and gone, thrones have disappeared, countries have been discovered, but the Provincial Exhibition has nursed the event of its way. One reason for this continuity of existence is the fact that it was built on a solid foundation of good business and good business judgment. Their selection of a site, their layout of buildings must have been guided by experienced hands as the structure of the exhibition is evidence of good building and clear architecture.

"The hope of its founders was of course to give our live stock and agricultural products a place where they could gather annually for a few days and enjoy themselves through the fair and the Province. At the same time the purpose of the exhibition would not be lost sight of.

"The records of our exhibitors at Maritime exhibitions, the Amherst Fair and the West End Fair, is one that every Prince Edward Islander can point to with pride, and show what can be done by bringing together in competition the products of the Province. This was the aim of our predecessors, to create a worthy spirit of rivalry, to diffuse knowledge of agriculture and stock raising, and to establish the quality of our products and breeds.

"On this occasion, our Golden Jubilee, we believe that we are in a position to say that the year's entries in all branches will be a new total. Tomorrow when the flowers, fruit and vegetables are in position the Main Building will house nearly 5,000 exhibits. Horse entries are so numerous that they have exceeded our accommodation, although a new building was constructed. Cattle, poultry and other entries are also more numerous.

"For this record showing of exhibitors I must give the credit to our enthusiastic Secretary, Mr. J. W. Boulter, whose labors were greater this year than ever before. From the day that he took up the duties of Secretary over ten years ago to the present time, he has wholeheartedly endeavored to enlarge and improve the agricultural and stock raising standard of this fair. As a result of these efforts it is widely known and Mr. Boulter's name held in greatest respect by other fair managers throughout Canada and the United States. I am sure no one will find fault with these words of praise which he so richly deserves.

"The work of staging an exhibition entails considerable thought and it is possible that we have over-looked a number of things, out as far as human foresight can provide everything has been done to have this show go along smoothly and efficiently. I hope everyone in our fair Province who can possibly do so will spend at least a day and evening with us and watch the judging of horses and cattle, visit the Main Building and see our program of horse racing and vaudeville in the afternoon.

"This being our Golden Jubilee we have laid out more money for attractions and it is our firm belief that our vaudeville and entertainment program is the best we have ever offered. We take pride in the fact that not only have our exhibitors in Prince Edward Island shown their confidence in us by increasing every year, but the harness horse fraternity of the Maritimes and some from Maine and Massachusetts, have given us the greatest entry list of any exhibition or race meet ever held in the Maritimes—a total of 113 horses with 166 entries. These will provide four days racing that will interest and thrill you. Each day's program should be equally good, as it has been balanced up with that end in view.

"Our improving shows have also been improved with more excellent competition in the Horse Show arena and brilliant displays of fireworks. These shows last year drew enormously increased attendance and we look for more record breaking this year.

"On the platform you will notice some beautiful trophies, four of which are presented to the Champion Exhibitor of Registered Horses, Registered Cattle, Beef Breeds, Registered Swine Classes. The trophies have been donated by John A. MacDonald, President of the Imperial Biscuit Company, for the Three Year Old Futurity, and the remaining pair of silverware is the British Consul Trophy given by the Macdonald Tobacco Company of Montreal for the driver scoring the most points in the four days.

"Our grounds as you will note when you look around, have been brightened up, improved and made more attractive. A new bleacher has been built at the West end of the Grand Stand which will accommodate almost 2,000 spectators. It is a replica of the one built last year at the East end. A new front bleacher has been built on the Grand Stand, new quarters have been provided for the vaudeville artists who will number over forty, new sections have been made to the stage, a new horse barn has been constructed, the beef cattle barn rebuilt and repairs made where necessary to the whole plant. This has cost several thousands of dollars for materials and labor. The labor utilized was recruited entirely from the unemployed ranks and has been quite satisfactory.

"The Provincial Exhibition has always enjoyed the confidence of the Governments in power and their co-operation, and in this respect I would like to say the present Provincial Government, headed by Honorable Thane A. Campbell, has treated us in the fairest possible manner and their encouragement and help is much appreciated. Our Dominion Government through its representatives, the Honorable Charles Dunning and J. Lester Douglas, M. P., have recognized the worthiness of our aims and objects and their grants towards the construction of buildings and plant have made possible many of these expansions.

"Two years ago we had the pleasure of Mr. Dunning's attendance at our opening, but now as you all know, he has gone to Europe for his health. We trust that he will return fully recovered.

"There are many others to whom we owe a debt of gratitude for assistance so freely given, and we would be ungrateful indeed if we did not acknowledge the way the people of Prince Edward Island have honored our fair in ever increasing numbers, thus showing their confidence and appreciation. It will be our duty and those who

"Dawn Patrol" Thrills Capitol Audiences With Breath-Taking Action In The Sky

Right up on top of your "must-be-seen" list goes "Dawn Patrol," Warner Bros., thrilling document of aerial fighting. How Flynn in a great sequence, takes over Niven's death-sentence assignment in a great lone foray in enemy territory, creates a climactic moment which for sheer pulse-pounding drama, has yet to be equalled.

Edmund Goulding has done a real job with his direction while the script by Weston Miller and Dan Tothero prepared from the original by John Monk Saunders must have been a fine one with which to work.

come after us, to see that this confidence is not forfeited and that we live up to the promises we make.

Just inside the front door of the main building, on your right as you enter, you will be attracted to the booth occupied by The Pure Milk Co. Ltd.

This is as usual one of the finest booths in the building and is very artistically decorated in a most fitting style.

The background represents a rural scene depicting a roadway along which is proceeding a miniature model of a "Garden City" Delivery Team.

All "Garden City" Products may be seen and tried in this booth. The Dairy products displayed include the famous "Garden City" Butter; Cream; Milk; Buttermilk; Blend; Whipping Cream; Chococolate Milk; Orange Drink; and Cheese. "Garden City" Milk is recognized as the safest on the market in this province being submitted to every latest scientific process to insure its purity. It is first filtered then clarified and pasteurized, then it is automatically sealed in bottles which have been thoroughly sterilized through several separated operations. All the milk which is displayed at the booth has been homogenized.

"Garden City" Blend is a combination of pure milk and cream. It is more economical to use than pure cream and is just as good for many purposes such as desserts, beverages, etc., and is also used in baking. The homogenizing process gives it more body and keeps the cream from separating or rising.

The Pure Milk Co. Ltd. also operate the Hillsborough Cheese Factory and are making an exclusive line of fine Island Cheese. The cheeses come in three different sizes; 5 lb.; 20 lbs.; and 30 lbs. The five-pound cheese is becoming a very popular gift to friends at home and abroad.

A special feature at the booth is the new "Cheese Lunch" which is a great convenience for those of us who wish to pick up a quick "snack" in a hurry without leaving the building. This lunch consists of your choice of three different varieties of meat and cheese, any "Garden City" Drink; Milk, Blend, Buttermilk, Chocolate Milk, or the new Orange Drink.

This is a very fine quality Orange beverage and a worthy member of the Garden City Family. The chief part of the lunch is a generous portion of the new Garden City Cheese, which has that fine rich flavour so much appreciated by cheese connoisseurs. The combination makes a really delightful and wholesome lunch. The price is minimal. This lunch is being served at the booth to introduce the Garden City Cheese.

Visitors must not neglect to try the new "Garden City" DeLuxe Ice Cream. This is not handled in the main booth but is on sale in a special refreshment booth along the midway right inside the main gates. This "Ice Cream" has a flavour and smoothness distinctly its own and is made from pure Garden City Cream and is "fast-frozen".

The Pure Milk Co. Ltd. is one of this province's leading industries and merits the pride of our entire citizenry. Each of the many products featured is of the highest standard, and reflects credit on the management of this progressive firm.

The entire booth presents an air of cleanliness and strictly sanitary conditions in keeping with the characteristics of the "Garden City" Dairy. Beautiful gladiolus arranged in harmony with the background add to the attractiveness of the exhibit.

New Airport Is Necessary At Summerside

There was some discussion at the monthly meeting of the Summerside Town Council last night as to the air port. Councillor MacNeill said that some explanation should be made as to why the proposed work on the air port had not been proceeded with.

Mayor Campbell in reply said that he had been in communication with Mr. G. L. McGee, chief always engineer of the Department of Transport and that McGee had looked over the present air port and had stated that it was not suitable for the newer type of planes. The grade for the new high power planes should be only two percent and that they land at a speed of 110 miles per hour.

The present air port had too much rising ground which would cost considerable outlay to level, also it was not large enough. Several sites were looked over, which in the opinion of the Airways Engineer might fill the requirements at less cost than fixing the old one. Mayor Campbell said that Mr. McGee had remarked that Summerside should not worry about having its air port condemned, as he only wanted three other already. It was understood that the department proposed putting on the new planes as soon as proper facilities were available.

It was understood that the Government would bear the cost of the new airport although no arrangement had really been made. It was decided to send an engineer from the Dept. to survey the different sites under consideration and a special meeting of the Council would be called to deal with the matter.

The usual town business was conducted and bills and reports of committees passed.

It can thus be seen that the symptoms are quite similar to what is found in the common ailments of children.

Besides putting the youngster to bed, he should be kept in contact with other children and household animals. The mattress should be firm, pillow low, room darkened and he should be given a light diet and plenty of water and other fluids.

The family physician should be called without delay as early treatment may lessen the severity of the attack and prevent or lessen paralysis. All cases do not have paralysis. The physician is moving some fluid from the spine is able to tell whether or not it is infantile paralysis.

It may be well at this time to restate the suggestions for prevention of infantile paralysis given a year ago. "Keep your child in your own yard in crowded stores, street cars, motion picture theatres, where there is a large number of people, chances of possible infection are greatly increased."

"Of equal importance for the protection of children is the prompt calling of a physician if the child shows any symptoms of this illness."

FACTS FOR PARENTS ABOUT INFANTILE PARALYSIS

The fact that the early symptoms of infantile paralysis are extremely like any other infection of nose and throat should keep mothers watchful but not alarmed. By putting the youngster to bed and keeping him quiet, the most important part of the treatment is being accomplished, whether the trouble is infantile paralysis or some less serious condition.

From 85 to 90 percent of cases occur in children under 6 years of age. Most children over 10 escape it, but it does occur in older children and adults. It usually occurs in later summer and autumn.

One particular point should be noted by parents and that is the suddenness with which the symptoms usually appear. The child is apparently well, or, at least, not complaining in any way, when suddenly he is attacked by headache and perhaps pain in back of neck and in back and limbs. He is "feverish," throat sore, nose may be running, may be nausea and vomiting, and a general tired feeling.

It can thus be seen that the symptoms are quite similar to what is found in the common ailments of children.

Besides putting the youngster to bed, he should be kept in contact with other children and household animals. The mattress should be firm, pillow low, room darkened and he should be given a light diet and plenty of water and other fluids.
