Island Guernsey Exhibitors Share In Honors At Royal

TORONTO, (Special) — Maritime Guernsey Breeders gave a national flavor to the 34th Royal Agricultural Winter Fair Guernsey show which commenced Monday under the experienced eye of judge Lawrence Colebank, Knoxville, Tennessee. New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island breeders shared jointly in the biggest success of the day when Itoh Nob Maverick's Nelcru, a senior bull calf, owned by the New Brunswick artificial breeding unit and being used in both provinces placed second in a very strong class of eleven bulls.

Harrison Green and sons, Kingston placed third in the two-year old bull class. Harold Palmer and Sons, Kensington came up with their strongest showing in the junior - get - of - sire class when a group sired by Northern N. May Royal placed fourth. The keenness of the competition at this year's show can be judged by the fact that the grand champion bull Beechcroft Victor's Thor shown by Robert Batty, Brooklin, Ontario defeated seven other ace bulls including Henslee Farms D. The reserve grand champion owned by Rennwood Farms Cobourg, who was senior and grand champion at the 1961 National Guernsey show at Waterloo, Iowa.

Other champions declared were junior male, won by H. O. Mathias Cobourg; reserve junior male, won by H. J. Brooks, Paris, Ontario; junior female, won by Jack Fraser King and reserve junior, won by Henry Borden.

The show will be completed today with the judging of the senior females and the senior groups.

NDP Executive Meets Tonight

The New Democratic party will decide here this evening whether they will put candidates in the field for the provincial convention which Premier Walter Shaw called last week for December 10. Provincial chairman Ian B. Webster, Parkdale said the meeting which will be held in Charlottetown, will comprise the members of the provincial executive and a few others. It will not be open to the public.

Robert Fontaine, Saint John, arrived here a few days before the election announcement to push the work of organization. At that time it was believed the meeting would decide on whether a provincial convention should be called to choose a provincial leader. The sudden election call, however, made the decision on candidates of prime importance, although the problem of a provincial leader may also be discussed.

Unlicensed Operators Responding

A letter to known unlicensed truck transport operators in the province from the Public Utilities Commission, advising operators that failure to apply for a license may be putting their business in jeopardy, has brought fair response, it was learned yesterday.

Island truckers, by not applying for a license, can put their business in jeopardy as outside truckers have a greater chance to apply. It was explained that some Island truckers may have been operating unlicensed for a number of years and hence are unknown to the commission. By being unlisted with the commission, the operators would not be in the running when an outside firm applied for a license.

Failure to apply for an operating license may result in truckers being prohibited from operating in the province.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) —The call to duty as a fireman was too strong for bridegroom Bruce Townson.

Townson, on leave of absence from the suburban Brighton fire department, raced from his own wedding reception Saturday evening when the fire alarm sounded. His cousin and best man, Schuyler C. Townson, left the reception with him. Townson rejoined his bride an hour later.

What was the bride's reaction? "She took it very well."

Mac Unmoved On Inspection

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan declared Monday night the Soviet Union must agree to on-site inspection in a full treaty banning nuclear tests. He brushed aside the Russian plan for robot inspection.

Macmillan stated the Western position on minimum international inspection and control, firmly opposed by the Soviet Union, in advance of the resumption of disarmament talks in Geneva later this month. The Russians argue that a treaty can be policed by scientific instruments.

Home And School Important Says Speaker At Kensington

KENSINGTON — "I am convinced of the need of the Home and School Association in the community," stated Rev. E. H. Bean who was guest speaker at Thursday night's meeting of the Kensington District Home and School Association. The speaker noted that this is the only secular organization that has the welfare of children as its full and only reason for existence.

"First of all," he said, "it is a bridge for children who live in two worlds, home and school," and pointed out that participation in the organization bridges the difference between the home where the children look to the parents for guidance, and the school where the teachers take the place of the parents.

"If there is antagonism," he said, "the child is the loser," and understanding between the two comes easier when the parents and teachers have a chance to know each other.

The speaker suggested that next year the experiment of two separate branches of the association might be tried. The one now serves both the regional and elementary schools. This, he felt, might result in greater interest by parents, who are the ones responsible for the success of the Home and School Association.

Mr. Bean recalled that Kensington Home and School, organized in the 1920s, was one of the first in the province, and named the late Mrs. William MacLean and Mrs. Frank Nauss as playing a big part in its success. He said the association had played a vital role in the community and still had a vital role to play, and a greater span to bridge with children attending Regional High School from a wide area.

SPEAKER HONORED

The speaker was introduced by Lorne Moase, and thanked by Rev. A. M. Murray who also addressed Mr. Bean, in appreciation of his many services to the home and school. Mr. Bean was presented with an Island scene by Mrs. Lorne Waite on behalf of the association.

Mr. Bean in responding, noted that the gift, a scene of Hunter River, was quite appropriate, as he had organized a home and school association in that center.

The president, Boyd Beairsto, presided.

The meeting decided to sponsor an Elementary School concert and Mr. Murray offered his assistance in directing the chorus.

In discussing the High School Christmas dance, it was noted that more lunch than was supplied last year, should be provided by parents of students attending.

The president asked for five delegates to attend the semi-annual meeting to be held at Morell, Nov. 21, contact to be made with the executive.

Mr. Beairsto announced that Dr. Malcolm Beck, a child psychologist will be guest speaker at the next meeting. He also urged all parents concerned with both schools, to join the association and attend meetings.

United Fund Is Nearing 70 Percent Of Target

After 34 days of campaigning and 18 days to go in the United Fund campaign, the P.E.I. total stands at $159,399.66 or 70 per cent of the provincial objective, Brig. W.W. Reid announced last night.

Brig. Reid reported that returns were coming in steadily from Summerside, where the residential canvass under chairman Roy Johnston has exceeded its objective of $3,000, with a total of $3,127.50 raised so far and still more to come in.

This is the first Summerside section to go over the target, with the advance gifts section under Claude Ives following close behind.

Good results are being achieved in Kings County, with returns coming in at a steady pace, Brig. Reid stated.

D.B. MacLure of Murray River has turned in $644.10, with more to come, and Mrs. F.J. DeLory of Georgetown has turned in $217.50 and reports more to come.

Six employee groups in Souris have accepted the payroll deduction method of contributing. In charge of the Kings County payroll division is John Hughes of Montague, with Camile Gallant working in the Souris area. Overall chairman for Kings County is Milton B. Fitzpatrick.

Brig. Reid said bad weather conditions were making it difficult for canvassers to complete calls, but urged them to contact prospects as soon as possible so that the canvass may be completed on time.

INCREASE

ther is partly behind a service station but would require a drainage system to make it practical; another is owned by the Spencer Theatres and is not in use at all.

He said all the concerned property owners were written as to whether the city could have use of these areas and "so far we have not received one answer."

The police committee asked council to purchase "as soon as practical a large area which can be converted to a large municipal parking lot." A resolution was passed authorizing the police committee to make a survey for suitable sites and to report back to the council as to size, cost and other details for a final decision.

It was revealed that the Memorial Foundation is seeking the Spencer Theatre site and the Legion Home site on Grafton Street for parking.

NOTICE OF MOTION

Mr. MacNeill gave notice of motion that at the next meeting he will move certain amendments to the parking by-law.

Finance chairman, H. E. Hyndman issued a request to all committee chairmen to prepare their budgets not later than Jan. 31 so that the budget may be handed down early in February.

OPPOSE MOVE

Referring to an application by Hennessey Funeral Home to operate its business at 35 Longworth Avenue, Walter Cox, chairman of the town planning committee, pointed out that this was a restricted area and written consent would have to be received from all residents within a 300 ft. radius of the establishment.

He said a petition signed by 16 residents had been received indicating they were against the proposed move.

Mr. Cox noted William (Bill) Brown of the Funeral Home had received consent from all but two of the residents in the area.

Mayor A. Walther Gaudet said until a notice of motion was made to change the by-law the council had no power to deal with it. He termed it a "regrettable situation" but the by-law stated consent had to be received from all residents in the 300 ft. radius.

HOLD UP PROGRESS

Mr. Brown told council "it has come to a point where one or two people can hold up progress in an area. It is a pretty sad state of affairs that anyone with any malicious intent, and I am not saying these people have, can hold things up."

He said he had gone so far as to call tenders for paving and it looked now as if "everything has gone out the window."

He pointed out that only one-third of the building would be used for commercial purposes. The other two-thirds would be a residence.

Coun. MacNeill said it cost
