LECTURES AND CONCERTS.

THE Y. M. C. A. in connection with St. James' Church has arranged the following course of lectures and concerts to be given in St. James' Hall during the season of 1896-97:— Nov. 13.—Lecture by J. M. Harper, LL. D. Dec. 1.—Concert. Dec. 16.—Lecture by Rev. W. H. Spencer. Jan. 19.—Lecture by Rev. W. T. D. Moss. Feb. 2.—Concert. Feb. 16.—Lecture by Rev. Mr. Bryan. March 2.—Lecture by A. A. Bartlett, Esq. March 16.—Concert.

The subject of the lectures will be announced from time to time in the press. The lectures and concerts given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. during the past two years have always been of the best character, and they have attracted large audiences. The programme prepared for this year is a good one, and no doubt the same measure of success which attended these in former years will characterize those to be given during the approaching fall and winter months.

The Literary Committee of Zion Church have also arranged a course of lectures and entertainments to be given during the fall and winter months, which promise to be fully as successful as have the previous lectures and entertainments given under the same auspices. A lecture will be delivered on November 3rd by Rev. D. Whitford, who was for several years pastor of a church in Australia, and some of his observations while on that island will constitute the subject of his lecture. A concert, at which the best talent available is expected to take part, has been fixed for Nov. 12th. Rev. Thomas Cummings, pastor of St. Andrew's church, Truro, will lecture the last week in November, his subject being "Palestine." Rev. A. L. Geggie, also of Truro, has consented to lecture early in December, taking the timely topic "The Silver Question." A social, which will offer some special attractions, will be held on December 17th. Arrangements are also being made for several lectures, papers, and other entertainments, which will be given during the new year and of which later announcements will be made.
