overdue. With all due respect to the Premier, Mr. MacDonald pointed out that the opinions expressed to Mr. Roland MacDonald were those of only one man and did not necessarily reflect those of the Government as a whole. Roland MacDonald replied that when the Premier gives me his word, "that's good enough for me." The other members took part in the discussion before the resolution was passed.

A motion recommending a scheme of monthly payments, made by farm laborers for the purpose of accumulating a pension fund received the endorsement of the meeting. The resolution, sponsored by Prince County, brought to light the fact that by such legislation a farm laborer could look forward to his old age with some security, whereas he now has none. A motion urging the Federation to look into the possibility of having farm laborers come under the benefits of unemployment on a basis similar to that enjoyed by other employees was passed.

That a system of grading commercial clothing and footwear be instituted, was contained in a motion which met with unanimous approval while one referring to financial responsibility of potato dealers was tabled. While it had been revealed that there are dealers operating in this Province who are not operating on a sound financial basis and who have been issuing checks for which there is no sufficient funds, Mr. D.A. MacDonald stated that for the Potato Board to take action against such dealers would possibly work a hardship on dealers who perhaps could not come up to certain financial standards but who were basically honest.

Resolutions calling for the disapproval of the Government's importation of New Zealand cheese and for the revision of the present trade agreement with every effort made to institute a reciprocal tariff rate on potatoes, without quotas between Canada and the United States received the full support of the meeting. They also agreed unanimously on a motion asking that the Board of directors look into the possibility of obtaining cheaper power rates for the promotion and encouragement of small industries within the province.

Unanimous support was given to a resolution voicing objection to the importation of oleo-margarine or vegetable oils as a substitute for dairy products. Other resolutions included those to the press and radio for publicity and courtesies extended to the Federation during the year.

POTATO BOARD FUTURE - Mr. Donald A. MacDonald said that at the present time, about half the Island crop has been marketed. "Market conditions have given fair returns," he said, "perhaps not as high as expected but above average." He pointed out that there were several important factors that will decide the price the producer will receive between now and June. "On January 19, stocks on hand in the United States will be announced and this will largely determine the returns that can be expected.

MARKET PROSPECTS - Mr. MacDonald recalled that two years ago the amount of potatoes on hand in the United States was 113,000,000 bushels and at which time potatoes reached a record breaking price. "If the quota shows an amount less than this, we can expect the market to improve," he said, "if it is below the 113 million it will not be too encouraging," he added.

The Board chairman also noted that the Canadian stock is only 50,000,000 bushels. "... a substantial reduction..." in Maine where the Island encounters the stiffest competition a shrinkage of nearly 40-50% is expected. Mr. MacDonald noted that the quality of Island potatoes is good and for this reason growers can expect a premium price right down the line. Speaking on the Tariff situation between the United States and Canada, he said "this is very important and if some thing is not done to alleviate this situation within the next few months, conditions will not change for the next two years, and that is too long to wait." He noted that 20 years ago with the premium on American money the situation was not nearly so serious since the exchange pretty well looked after the duty on Canadian potatoes but now the situation is reversed.

Mr. MacDonald said he had no

Asks Questions Re CNR Layoffs

OTTAWA (CP) - The CNR does not know when increased traffic will justify it in reinstating employees laid off during the last year, Transport Minister Marler said Wednesday.

Replying in the Commons to a question from Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre), he said a pickup in railway business will depend on Canada's general economic conditions.

The layoffs were made necessary by a decline in rail traffic. He regrets about what happened in the plebiscite last fall. "Your biggest problem," said Mr. MacDonald "is not one of production but one of marketing." He felt that through produce control, the producer would be able to receive a fair return for his product.

"This Province does not take kindly to new ideas," said the speaker who observed that in other provinces the scheme of co-operative marketing was an accepted principle, "so it SHALL be here" he said. "We won't have to wait long," he added. He went on to say that the fact that 48% of the producer had supported the selling agency was not a bad showing.

In regard to the Board, he felt that it should have an over all influence over the potato industry. He concluded by saying that the Board has been invited to attend a follow-up congress beginning Sunday, on this issue. The international foot wear exhibition is backing the idea of putting some limits on both styles and colors.

Some industry figures say there are too many colors, too many shapes, too many leathers and skins. But some retailers reportedly fear loss of sales if there is a cut in the variety now offered.

Pope Receives Mendes-France

VATICAN CITY, (AP) - Pope Pius received French Premier Mendes-France today in the first audience granted by the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church since his grave collapse last month.

The pontiff's reception of the French premier, who is making a three-day state visit to Italy, was viewed as a heartening sign that the Pope is continuing to gain strength.

The Pope, still pale and showing signs of his physical trial, received the black-clad French premier for 20 minutes in his private library. Mendes-France, who is not a Roman Catholic, bowed once as he entered the room. Normal protocol calls for Roman Catholic visitors to kneel three times—once upon entering, once half way across the room and a third time to kiss the Pope's ring.

Mme. Mendes-France, wearing a black dress and a veil accompanied her husband. The premier's conversation with the Pope was not disclosed by Vatican officials since it was "of an absolutely private character."

Art Society Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Prince Edward Island Art Society held at the Harris Memorial Gallery on Tuesday evening, Mrs. Elizabeth Davies of Charlottetown, was elected president to succeed Mr. Vic Runtz, chairman for the meeting.

Other business concerned the passing of a motion to write the Provincial Government, commending the work of the Arts and Crafts Guild. Members also drew up proposed amendments to the art section prize list for the Provincial exhibition. The bequest of the art book collection of the late Mr. R. H. Rogers jointly to the Society and Guild was further discussed. A committee report from Mrs. K. E. Elliot showed cataloguing completed.

Miss Florence Simmons as secretary made an annual report which was followed by that of the treasurer, Mrs. L. T. Lowther. The treasurer was commended particularly for a fine job by Mr. A. L. Wright, who acted as auditor.

In making his report Mr. Runtz paid tribute to the memory of two stalwart members who died during the year, the late Messrs. James E. Harris and R. H. Rogers. He reported a successful, if unspectacular, year. In relinquishing his position as president after three consecutive terms he voiced his appreciation for support given him by members, in particular the assistance of his executive officers. Rev. Adrien Arsenault proposed a vote of thanks to the retiring president, to which members heartily responded.

The nominating committee report, Mr. A. L. Wright chairman, was adopted by the Society and listed the following as the new officers: president, Mrs. E. Davies; vice-president, Mr. John Taylor; secretary, Mrs. E. B. Ellis; treasurer, Mrs. Waldo Bain. Additional members of the executive: Mr. Vic Runtz, past president; Mr. J. E. Gendron, Rev. Adrien Arsenault, Mrs. Willard MacKay and Miss Eleanor Lowe.

Consider Limits On Ladies' Shoes

VIGEVANO, Italy, (AP) - Rainbow colors and higher heels on women's shoes are the big eye-catchers at an international shoe show in this Italian footwear capital.

Eut heels are getting so slender and the colors so varied that there is talk of establishing some control. Designer, manufacturers, retailer, chemical and dye specialists have been invited to attend a follow-up congress beginning Sunday, on this issue. The international foot wear exhibition is backing the idea of putting some limits on both styles and colors.

Some industry figures say there are too many colors, too many shapes, too many leathers and skins. But some retailers reportedly fear loss of sales if there is a cut in the variety now offered.

AWARDED DAMAGES In Civil Case

Mr. Justice Mark R. MacGuigan was presiding judge at the sessions of the Supreme Court yesterday morning and afternoon. In a civil case for damages in which Lloyd Ford was the plaintiff and Allison MacLeod the respondent, the jury found damages of $387.95 without the additional $1,000.00 depreciation sought by the Plaintiff, Mr. G. R. Foster, representing the plaintiff moved that the judgment be entered. Justice MacGuigan said that judgment would be entered for $387.95 and costs. Mr. Charles R. McQuaid represented the respondent. The jury was then thanked and discharged.

The case arose out of a collision early in January of last year in Charlottetown in which three cars were involved. The driver of a car owned by the respondent was being given a push across an intersection of streets and came in contact with an approaching car. All three vehicles were damaged, particularly that of the plaintiff which had been assessed by a repair firm at the amount specified and allowed.

The seaway project has navigation and power aspects with the largest proportion of the cost being allocated for power development. The power is being developed by two construction entities designated by both countries. For Canada it is the Hydro Commission of Ontario and for the U.S.A. it is the power authority in the State of New York.
