JOURNALISTIC.—Mr. Forbes, on his way to India as "special" for the Daily News, and Mr. Gay has been ordered out by the Daily Telegraph.

THERE is a slight decline in the sale of potatoes to-day, and prices have slightly increased. Early Roses are selling for 50 cents per bushel, Whites 45, and Blues 37.

A LIME cart belonging to Mr. John Henry collided with a farmer's market wagon at the Medical Hall corner, this forenoon. The two hind wheels of the wagon were completely destroyed.

ON autopsy, the brain of Nobeling, the would-be-assassin of Emperor William, appeared normal, but the skull was somewhat obliquely shaped, as is often found in persons of unsound mind.

MR. GORDON, City Park Keeper, to-day left at our office a raspberry branch containing a large quantity of ripe raspberries, which he plucked from a branch in the Victoria Park.

THE Michaelmas Term of the Supreme Court met in this City this forenoon, Chief Justice Palmer presiding. There are but eight appeals for trial and four arguments to be heard.

AT the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court, this forenoon, Terrance McAtee was sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment for being drunk and disorderly. The assault case of M. P. Rochford vs. P. Lamb was further adjourned for evidence.

THE social event of to-day—the marriage of R. F. DeBlois, Esq., and Miss DesBrisay—is duly chronicled in another column. It was witnessed by a large assemblage at St. Paul's. The wedding party was a very gay one. We tender to the happy young bridegroom and bride our cordial congratulations.

AT nine o'clock last evening a gent who was passing at the North side of Queen Square shouted an alarm of "fire" several times. Officer Shea, who was in charge of the Police Station, proceeded to the place from whence the cries proceeded, and asked, "Where is the fire?" "Are you a d—n fool; can't you see it?" queried the gent; and, turning, the officer saw "three"—only "three"—sparks rise from the Police Station chimney. No investigation required.

THE "DOMESTIC MONTHLY."—One of the best periodicals of its class now issued is the Domestic Monthly—a journal of fashion, current literature, and fine arts. The Domestic Monthly is published in New York by Blake & Company, 849 Broadway. Every lady should have it. Only $1.50 per year. The November number, just published, contains a large number of new fashion plates (with full descriptions), some choice stories, and a number of excellent receipts.

THE attendance at the market to-day was very large. Prices have been slightly changed since Friday: Beef (small) from 5 to 12 cents per lb.; do. (by the qr.), 4 to 8 cents; mutton, from 4 to 8 cents per lb.; lamb, from 4 to 8 cents per lb.; geese, each, from 35 to 45 cents; ducks, from 20 to 30 cents; chickens, from 20 to 45 cents per pair; butter (fresh) from 25 to 24 cents per lb.; butter (tub) from 16 to 18 cents; cats, per bushel, 30 cents; hay, per 100 lbs., 40 to 45 cents.

LAST evening we had the pleasure of witnessing the formal dedication of the new Division Room of the Sons of Temperance, on Queen Street. The ceremony was conducted by His Honor Judge Young, P. G. W. P., and Rev. D. Fitzgerald, P. G. W. P., assisted by an efficient staff of officers. It was very interesting, and the singing on the occasion was excellent. The hall is, we understand, jointly held by Prince Edward and Victoria Divisions. The Grand Division will hold their annual session in this room to-morrow morning, and a public meeting will be held in the evening.

OVER thirty thousand bushels of potatoes were shipped from this port to ports in the United States to-day. Mr. R. Brown cleared the schooner Sea Clipper for Boston with 2,493 bushels; Mr. John Hughes cleared the schooner John Wentworth for Baltimore with 5,694 bushels, and the brigantine Ruth for New York with 8,656 bushels. Schooner Edward Albro cleared for New Bedford, Mass., with 4,500 bushels; Lucy Jane for New York with 4,964 bushels, shipped by Longworth & Co., and the Mystic for Boston with 3,731 bushels by J. M. Auld.

A VERY sad drowning accident occurred off Cape Bear, Murray Harbor, at noon on Thursday last. A large coal-laden boat, owned by Mr. Abraham Stewart, of Murray Harbor South, was coming from Pictou to Murray Harbor when she sprung a leak, became water-logged, and sank in six and a half fathoms of water, about three-quarters of a mile from the shore. Besides the owner, there were on board at the time, Mr. John Brennan, of Murray Harbor South; Miss Glover, daughter of Mr. David Glover, of White Sands, and Mrs. Edward Haberlin, daughter of the late Andrew Bell, of the same place. Stewart and Brennan saved themselves by launching a dory which was on deck, but, sad to relate, the two females went down with the ill-fated boat. It is feared that the men did not put forth sufficient effort to save their more helpless companions, and it is supposed that the latter were in the cabin when the boat went to the bottom, quite unconscious of their impending fate. The top of the boat's mast can be seen at low water, and a diver has been sent for to search for the bodies of the unfortunate women. Miss Glover was only 21 years of age, and Mrs. Haberlin but 24. We sympathize with the families of the deceased in their sad bereavement.—Argus.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—Can you inform me whether the Local Government is entitled to receive rent for the public buildings on this island, or whether public officers are allowed to rent such buildings and appropriate the money for their own private purpose? I am informed on good authority that a certain JAILOR has rented a portion of the jail for an armory, and pockets the nice little sum of forty dollars per annum rent for said armory. Now, if the Local Government is entitled to this money (which, I believe, it is), I hope they will make this character, commonly called Tom, disgorge this amount at once. What is the Commissioner of Public Works doing that he cannot look after these things.

Yours, &c., VINDEX. Georgetown, Oct. 28, 1878.

Civic. To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Through the indefatigable exertions of the member from Ward 2—Councillor Byrne—the independence of the City Council is about to be preserved. He denounces, night after night, the Councillors who violated Section VIII. of the Act of Incorporation. This section says that no person shall occupy a seat at the Council Board "during such time as such person shall hold any office or place of profit in the gift or disposal of the said Council, or during such time as he shall have, directly or indirectly, by himself or his partner, any share or interest in any contract or employment with or on behalf of the Council." For years men sat in the City Council who were contractors with the City. This, perhaps, may account for some of the selfish civic legislation experienced by our citizens.

At a meeting of this body held on the 21st inst., Councillor Morris requested the Corporation, from his seat in the Council Chamber, to notify Morris & Hyndman that the cottage on Brighton Road, of which the City of Charlottetown was the tenant, was no longer required. This was an admission of his having been a contractor with the city. Councillor Byrne stated in the observations which fell from him that the charter by which they were governed compelled all Councillors who were contractors with the city to resign their seats. He presumed they would resign and fight the battle over again.

Last night his Worship the Mayor said that several disqualified Councillors were sitting at the Council Board. Whereupon Councillors Morris and Hertz resigned. His Worship stated that the seat of another Councillor who was then absent would be declared vacant.

Yours, etc., FAIRPLAY. Ch'town, Oct. 29, 1878.

Napoleon Bonaparte loved not Rousseau. At Ermonville one day he said to a friend who praised the philosopher, "No, he was a bad man; without him France would have had no Revolution." Observing that his friend smiled, the First Consul added: "You wish to say that without the Revolution you would not have had me? Perhaps not; I believe so; but France would have been all the happier." When asked if he would like to see the hermitage, the cap, the table, the arm-chair, and other relics of the philosopher. Napoleon said, "Bah! I have no taste for such follies; show them to my brother Louis, who is worthy of them."
