

Girl Guide News

More New Guides

This is the first and I hope the last, Guide Company that has been got off to a start from a hospital bed. Where is it? Why, Park Corner. Do you know, Guides, I had to ask where it was and even the nurses didn't know but we all found out. Do you know where it is? However, we are going to have a splendid little Company there. They are starting right away on the Tenderfoot test. The W. I. once again will be sponsors; their help is invaluable to our country companions. So the fame of Girl Guides spreads slowly but surely and I know that all of you wish our new group lots of success and fun.

Raisin Day

Our annual fund raising day was again a success due to our zealous girls and Leaders, not forgetting all those Executive members who always work so hard. Most important of all we thank those generous merchants and the public for their generous support. In these times when we all have so many calls on our lean pockets, it was fully appreciated.

A Visitor

A Brownie Smile comes in to see me sometimes and I am sure that she takes her "smile" right out of her pocket before she comes in, in fact, I think that is the way she sneaks in, as little girls are not allowed you know. She might use some magic from the Brownies to slide by the nurse, but please don't all try it.

Headquarters

I know that you will perhaps be disgusted, when I tell you that Headquarters at 76 School Street will be closed again this week, but if you do need any badges or lanyards, etc., write Mrs. F. Jenkins at 76 and arrangements will be made so that you can have what you need. Practice hikes, if your Leader is not able to take you, head about going in Patrols, but be careful to put your fire out! This is important, Guides. Marching practice for Church Parade, Brownies and Guides, you all need to do this at your next meeting. You will be hearing from your Commissioner regarding final arrangements.

Ont. Brigadier May Command 27th Brigade

OTTAWA, May 21—(CP)—President indications are that command of Canada's new 27th Brigade will go to a 41-year-old engineer, Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, C. B. E., D. S. O., of St. Catharines, Ont.

The brigade is being mustered around the framework of 42 reserve force units and is primarily slated for service in Europe as part of Canada's Atlantic-pact contribution.

It needs between 5,500 and 6,500 men for the brigade itself and will need almost as many more as rotational replacements.

Announcement of Brig Walsh's appointment probably would be followed by a country-wide tour to stimulate recruiting.

There have been reports that one of the three infantry battalions will be commanded by Lt.-Col. John K. Mahony, V. C., 39, of New Westminster, B. C., who has been director of army public relations for a couple of years.

In the case of all the top commands it is believed the government has been waiting to see if qualified officers would offer from the reserve force. If they don't the permanent force officers will get the jobs.

Brig. Walsh now has his headquarters at Kingston as Eastern Ontario area commander for the army.

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 20—(AP)—United States forces facing the Iron Curtain Saturday put on the greatest military display in Germany since the Second World War. Soldiers, sailors and airmen paraded in a dozen German cities to celebrate the second "American Armed Forces Day."

BERLIN, May 20—(AP)—Twenty members of Canada's National Defence College left Berlin by air Saturday for Hamburg after a two-day visit to the divided city. During their stay they met the British Commandant, Maj.-Gen. G. K. Bourne and his staff, made a bus tour of the city and were received by leading German officials at the West Berlin City Hall.
