HARZARD'S GAZETTE.

Saturday, July 12, 1856.

A few years since, there was not on any part of our Eastern coast a more perfect plough and harrow, and those indispensably necessary implements that have been immemorially in use, a single labor-saving machine, that will within a very few years, through the fall, and winnowed with the hand-sieve; and we are not aware who introduced the first and most complete of those who could be said to all that lay in our power to transmit their names to posterity as benefactors of their race. The first horse-rake, by far, ever used in the island, was imported in the year 1839 by the Central Agricultural Society from the United States, having been selected by J. D. Hazard, Esq., a civil engineer, who, in the year 1837, they have been manufactured here, and have become so common, that no farmer of any enterprise or intelligence is without one. The same may be said of fenders or winnowing machines; these, with the exception of the iron wheel-work, are made by our own mechanics and are so well adapted to the soil as to be imported. The turnip-drill is of recent importation also, and the small kind, constructed to use by hand, are getting every day into greater demand. In fact, a great change has taken place in this respect within the last 15 or 20 years, and we trust, that there will be a corresponding improvement in the quality of all those mechanical aids, which are of the first importance to every agricultural community, but more especially necessary in a sparsely populated country, where manual labor is at all times impossible to be obtained. It is with much pleasure, that we notice two very useful and important inventions, which have lately been introduced to the number already in use. The first is a machine for weeding and thinning turnips, imported by the Hon. Edward Haythorn, which we have, by the kindness of that gentleman, had an opportunity to see. We regret that we did not see it in operation, but we have no doubt, that the simplicity of its construction, its precision and efficacy that it is said to do. It is drawn by one horse walking between the drills, and is so constructed, that the wheels run in the furrows, and on a central shaft, a wheel armed with small blades or knives, which cut out the superabundant turnips, to be thrown into a separate space, leaving those intended to be grown at regular distances from each other on the crown of the drill. It is also provided with cutters at the sides, which cut the weeds and grasses growing from thence. The machine is furnished in every part with adjusting screws to enable it to be adapted to the soil, and to be used on plants at greater or less distances apart. We can hardly conceive of a more essential improvement in the cultivation of a species of crop, that has already been the subject of much inquiry to the farmer, and will continue to be a more abundant source of prosperity, in proportion as its culture becomes more extensive. We hope that the agricultural population will testify their appreciation of the boon conferred on it by the Hon. Gentleman by the universal adoption of the drill, and the great benefit imparted by the Royal Agricultural Society from the manufactory of Ruggles, Nourse, & Co. Boston, Mass., and we are confident, had the pleasure of using this last in operation at the Farm of the Society. No labor-saving description could, without plates and diagrams, give an idea of the nature or its method of working. We are assured however, that it will prove a valuable auxiliary to the farmer, and that it will be found to be more extensively acquainted with its properties and powers.

THE ALEXANDER FAMILY of vocalists are performing at Pictou this week, and are expected over in the first Steamer to give a series of entertainments in this City. The following, from the Halifax Acadian Recorder, will give some idea of the talents of the performers:
The Acadian Bell Ringers have during the week been giving concerts at Temperance Hall. The Bell music of this family is certainly a novelty and a great attraction to the audience. To judge of a piece of music performed by several persons upon bells, each individual having under his management a bell, and so small amount of musical talent is found to certain notes upon the scale, and so ringing them that one catches up the air of his part where another has finished his, and so on, until the time that the piece seems to be something almost marvellous. To see the thing done is a real amusement and the audience are not likely to be disappointed. The description which one might suppose. The Alexander Family must have employed much time and pains, and so small amount of musical talent is found to themselves for these performances and all who are fond of novelty should go and hear them, for they are not likely often to have such an opportunity.
